

OVER THE CAPITAL CITY.

Complete Recital of the Daily Doings Compiled From Various Sources.

Happenings Over the City and News From the Country Roundabout.

Pear Growing in Oregon.

J. J. Harden, an experienced horticulturist of Marion county says pear trees in the Willamette valley begin to bear in three or four years after being transplanted into the orchard row, and although there is not always an abundant, or even a profitable, crop, still there has been some fruit every year since the first trees planted began to bear. One man can cultivate and care for an orchard of 20 acres, but of course will require help in harvesting. Twenty acres in pears properly cultivated will yield an annual profit of $2000. The mining regions and blight stricken territory farther East furnish a demand for all possible supplies. Through the influence of land agents and interested parties the stranger is liable to be disappointed, for a large portion of the land in the valley is not adapted to the profitable production of pears.

Brother Bell Not Suspended.

When Governor Penoyer appointed the railroad commission he also appointed Rev. J. R. Bell as secretary, and when last Wednesday he dismissed the commissioners he did not dismiss the secretary. This leaves Brother Bell occupying an honorary position, viz: the secretaryship of a defunct commission.

As the secretary was appointed by the governor and has had no intimation that his services were no longer required he will continue to fill the vacuum and draw his salary of $2000 a year—at least until in receipt of advice on the matter.

How We Are Booming

The Salem real estate agents are calling the attention of eastern people to this particular section of country to an extent never before done. They are advertising in hundreds of eastern papers, besides sending out thousands of pamphlets descriptive of the country. That extra good times for this middle Willamette valley are in the near future we verily believe. Already scores of new people from the frozen regions are here inspecting our goodly land.

Why Read It.

Everybody should read the CAPITAL JOURNAL now, as it will contain all the news of importance several hours ahead of any other paper. Special reporters have been added to our staff this week to enable us to give our readers all the legislative news. One special feature in the JOURNAL hereafter will be a short history, prepared in a concise form, of each of our senators and representatives. Don't fail to see them.

All the Way From Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Irvine will arrive in Salem this evening, having left Missouri for the coast on Tuesday of last week. Mr. Irvine will at once take a desk on the CAPITAL JOURNAL, as editorial writer and news editor.

By the way, the above mentioned couple have the distinction of sustaining the relationship to the present local editor, of father and mother.

The Overland Train Late.

The Overland train from California, due here at eight o'clock this morning is eleven hours late. The delay is the result of a slight accident at Deer Creek, Jackson county. The accident is either from a broken rail or a misplaced switch, we have as yet been unable to learn which. The Eugene express came through on the overland's time, bringing the way passengers and way mail.

Another Addition to Salem.

Earl's Addition to Salem is springing into prominence since there is so much activity in real estate circles. This is an attractive tract of forty acres lying over the river to the west in Polk county. It was platted some months ago, but has not been pushed into the market. Saturday Lee Eiler purchased a lot in this addition for $125 and will improve it immediately. Thomas & Payne made the sale.

Directors of Officers.

The American Building and Loan association will hold a meeting Monday, Jan. 21, at 7:30 p. m., at the First National Bank, to elect officers and local board. My request is to have all stockholders present if possible. A. M. Kennedy, assistant general agent.

AVERY AND THE LUNATIC.

No Doubt That the Insane Man Did The Firing.

In his guarded cell in the Oregon Insane Asylum, Frank Corea, the lunatic and would-be murderer and suicide, walks the floor and tells the tale of his rash deeds. His story meets with ample corroboration and there can no longer be a doubt but the bullets that pierced Frank A. Avery flew from the pistol of the maniac.

Late on the night of the assassination Corea stopped at the residence of F. E. Eldridge, on the Salem and Champoeg road. Here he recited the story minutely and correctly. He told of the two men—Avery and McKay, he of the blonde mustache—quarreling over a woman and threatening him with a terrible fate. To save himself, as he supposed the shooting was done. He told Mr. Eldridge he knew he got his man once, having shot him in the neck. He says he fired five shots. Three struck Avery and two left their marks on the car.

When arrested Corea had an unexpired ticket to San Francisco, in his pocket. It bore the punch mark of conductor Wilson, under whose charge the Tuesday night's train was.

There is no reasonable doubt but that Corea is the guilty one, and it also is as certain that Avery is concealing not a little. If he would talk—but no clam ever kept more tightly closed than the wounded man.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

A Rigid Quarantine.

Forest Grove won't stand any foolishness where smallpox is concerned, and have established a strict quarantine. It is learned that so thoroughly are they afraid of the disease, that besides allowing no one to pass the block in which the patient is located, the guards are authorized to shoot every animal that chances to get to close to the house. Since the quarantine was inaugurated a number of fine dogs and cats have been ruthlessly shot down and sent to the unknown country where the mounds of wretched and smallpox troubleth not.

Almost a Suicide.

Late Saturday night the alarm was sounded throughout the Chemekete hotel that a man had committed suicide by hanging. The night clerk and landlord were summoned and hastily repaired to the scene of the supposed shuffling off this mortal coil. They found a stuffed man dangling from the elevator cross-bar—nothing more. Life was extinct before the stiffening corpse could be cut down.

Speed The Plow.

Farmers all over the western part of the state have been quite busy all through the last clear weather plowing lands for spring crops. Lands were in fine condition until the rain Saturday night. What other state can boast of plows generally running through the month of January.

SUPREME COURT.

There was no session of supreme court to-day on account of the illness of Judge Lord and the absence of Justice Strahan, who failed to arrive in the city on account of the delay of the overland train.

You Cannot do Better

Than call at the Grange Store, 128 State street, if you want a good tea or anything else in the grocery line. Don't fail to look at the White Cross Extracts, the best in the market.

Gentlemen frequently complain of their barber shaving them too close, and the face and neck breaking out into small pimples. If Dutard's specific is applied to the face immediately after shaving, no matter how close the shave, all soreness will be prevented.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Both Houses Re-Assemble This Afternoon And Go To Work.

Speaker Smith Makes His Appointments of Standing Committees.

Both the Senate and House re-assembled at two p. m., to-day.

The Senate proceeded immediately with the routine of work and introduction of bills, of which many promise to appear.

The House heard the reading of the appointment of standing committees by Speaker Smith. They were read in such a manner that it was impossible for a short hand reporter to catch them.

OUR PEN PICTURES.

Short Sketches of Our Law Makers And Prominent Men.

A special feature of the CAPITAL JOURNAL in the future will be that of life-like pen pictures of prominent men of the state. Beginning with this issue our sketch artist has leveled his camera upon the visages of some of Oregon's legislators and their likenesses will from day to day be placed in cold type for the edification of our numerous readers.

In his delineations of traits and characteristics it is one of the requirements that the man to be photographed should submit to the interview process. This our artist performs without pain and each member will be given a trial at the other end of the pump.

To-day we take pleasure in submitting the following:

HON. E. B. GAMBEE.

Mr. Gambee comes from Umatilla county, and is serving his first term in the House of Representatives.

He is a native of Michigan, and came west seven years ago, and after looking around decided to cast his lot in Oregon, where he has resided ever since. He is an extensive sheep dealer and quite an influential citizen. Mr. Gambee is very courteous to strangers seeking information at the Capitol and is an earnest worker. He can be found at his desk at any time. Mr. Gambee is classed among the younger members, being only thirty-six years of age. He is a member of the democratic nine in the House, there being but that number of democrats in the House. His postoffice address is Alba.

HON. H. P. NAPTON.

Mr. Napton hails from Saline county, Missouri, and is serving his first term as representative for the good people of Malheur county. He is a prominent lawyer and has a very creditable practice. Mr. Napton's postoffice address is Yale. He is another one of the representatives classed in the "thirties," being thirty-three years of age. Mr. Napton belongs to the "reform party" or, plainly speaking, the democratic party. He looks forward with anxiety to the year of '92 when the great contest will again be renewed by the two parties for the control of the nation, and feels that there may again be a possible show for democracy to hold the reins of our government, although Mr. Napton is not one of those radical politicians. We hope to see him return again to serve the people but would be better pleased to have him return a full fledged republican.

Don't be Fooled.

There are men traveling the country with samples of cloth, for making suits to order, who claim that they make suits in San Francisco and the east cheaper than Astoria tailors can. There are merchants who receive samples of cloth from eastern manufacturers, and claims to take the measure of any one and have suits made in the east. This is an untruth. The samples shown, are samples of ready made suits, made by Chinamen. They take your measure, you select your cloth, and they send you a ready China made suit from the east, claiming it to have been made to order. Don't be deceived by any such nonsense. If you want a suit made to order, patronize home tailors. If you want a ready made suit home firms keep all the latest styles and sell cheaper than any outside stores. A merchant of Astoria stated recently that the merchants who advertise must charge more for their goods than he did, who does not advertise. This is not true. The merchant who advertises, sells ten suits to his one, and keeps a fresh stock. He can afford to sell for a less profit than the merchant who only gets a stock of goods in once a year, and sells on an average one suit a week.—Pioneer.

—Everybody wonders who could have shot Avery, but no one wonders who takes those splendid photographs. They know it is Cherrington, the artist.

—Now that the scheme to establish a creamery at Corvallis has fallen through, would it not be well to agitate the organization of such a company here.

—Miss Ida Anderson of Jefferson is in the city, visiting friends. She will return about the last of the week, accompanied by her sister, Miss Emma, who is attending school at the University.

—A newspaper man of much experience, J. L. Mitchell, late of Illinois, is now on the JOURNAL staff. We bespeak for him that warm welcome that is usually accorded members of our force.

—Dr. C. B. Darrin and wife last night took their departure for Eugene, where the doctor will open up an office for treatment of the afflicted. One of the doctors, however, remains here and will serve the wants of the sick.

—Prof. Rork says let no one stay away from the arithmetic class because they are "too backward." All he asks is attention to work. His method is to the point and requires only paper and pencil. Come on, and the way will soon open to grander possibilities. Class begins to-night.

—W. P. Williams, the stenographer, is prepared to do any work in his line on short order. If you are very busy better have him attend to your correspondence, etc.; by dictating your letters, bills, pleadings, or briefs, you can save four-fifths of the time, besides the drudgery of long-hand writing. 317 Commercial St. Orders may be left at State Library.
