

CAPITAL CITY NEWS.

Recital of the Daily Doings Compiled From Various Sources.

Happenings Over the City and News From the Country.

Felled For Playing Poker.

The police raided a gambling game last night at Halliwell's saloon, corner of State and Commercial streets. The result of the surprise was the arrest of one Jones, who had been manipulating the paste boards quite freely to his success.

The arrest of Jones was followed this morning by that of Jack Halliwell, proprietor of the saloon in which the game was conducted. He was charged with permitting unlawful gaming in his house.

Movement of Artillery.

Gen. Gibson, under date of January 19, issued the following order: In compliance with telegraphic instructions from headquarters division of the Pacific Light Battery E, First Artillery, now stationed at Vancouver, will proceed by rail to the Presidio of San Francisco with the least possible delay, and there take station.

In response to the above the entire battery was removed yesterday to the city of the Golden Gate. It passed through Salem at 9 o'clock last night, via the Southern Pacific line. It required eighteen cars to effect the transfer.

In New Quarters.

P. J. Larsen, the wagon maker formerly of Commercial street but now at 42 State street, wishes to state to the people of Salem and vicinity that he is now ready for all work in his line, he refers to his past work as to his abilities as a workman. Any one wanting any work in the wagon-making business could not do better than call on Mr. Larsen as he is desirous of your patronage.

Change of Location.

Messrs Scriber & Pohle, who have done a general blacksmithing business in our city for a long time, have removed their shops to 47 and 49 State street. These gentlemen are well known throughout the country and are worthy of a good patronage. They ask only a trial to prove their work first class, to those who have not favored them with their patronage before.

Fighting Editors.

No sooner is M. Mitchell, the versatile Gervais editor, out of a fight than L. J. McMahan, the fighting editor of Woodburn's Independent, is into the ring. He was knocked out by R. J. Caples of the firm of Hemlow & Hall of Woodburn. This is the second fistfight of the Woodburn editor since he began to fill the long-felt-want six weeks ago. It was he who knocked down and drug out the resthetic young T. D. Porter a few weeks ago.

At Home Once More.

John Knight, Salem's boss blacksmith and wagon maker, is now located at his new quarters on Liberty street, and is prepared to serve all his customers who need his services. Mr. Knight needs no recommendations from any one, as he is well known throughout this country as turning out only first-class work. He will be pleased to see his friends and customers at any time. Please bear in mind the new location.

Gave up the Scheme.

E. H. Flagg, who formerly conducted the St. Helens Misc, and spent last week in canvassing Salem with the view to the establishment of a democratic weekly here, has given up the idea and will start a paper at Hillsboro. There is but one paper in Washington county, the Independent. This is excepting the college paper at Forest Grove.

A FURNITURE MANUFACTORY.

A Proposition to Establish Extensive Works in Salem.

The idea and talk of the establishment of a woolen mill here is attracting capital from all directions and in all lines. A company of gentlemen yesterday proposed to build and operate a furniture manufactory if a subsidy would be given them. Their proposition is this: To build and operate a first-class factory for the manufacture of all kinds of furniture, the same to cost $25,000. The assistance they will ask from the people is $5,000. Such a bonus they think, also do those with whom they were in conference, could be readily raised, as the business in which they propose to engage would give employment to a large force of men, convert much of our raw material into salable articles in demand everywhere and bring much money into the country.

Just now the gentlemen at the head of the scheme would prefer their names to be withheld, but their proposition will be submitted within a few days. This manufactory, and similar ones, are just what Salem needs to make her boom in an unheard of or unexpected manner. Give us shops and mills in which to employ the laborer and our city will move on rapidly. We are coming to the front already, but more manufactories are needed. It is the poor men—the day laborers—that make a city. Give us employment for these and we can crack our whip at the retired note shaver.

A New Upper River Boat.

As anticipated in the CAPITAL JOURNAL some weeks ago, a new boat for the upper river is soon to be constructed. The increasing and active traffic in freight along the river makes another boat necessary and the contract has been let by the O. R. & N., to construct a new boat. The steamer when completed will cost about $20,000, and will not be an elaborate affair, as has been stated but will be built and used for carrying freight, with but little regard for passenger business. She will draw but thirteen inches of water, and in consequence will be able to run the year round except in extreme cases when the river is frozen over on the upper Willamette, where her route will lie. Work will begin on the boat at once, and she will be got out for use just as soon as possible.

Oregon's Big Red Apples.

Oregon apples find a ready market everywhere. Last fall hundreds of bushels were shipped to China, Japan and Australia, while thousands of bushels annually find a quick sale in San Francisco. In fact our apples find such an admirable market that not half enough are retained for home consumption. The boarders at the hotel to-day will find little California apples on the table. Oregon's supply is about exhausted.

Last fall the trees hung to their fullest and to-day, even though 75 cents per bushel is offered, there are very few apples to be had. It is a fact that there is more money in Oregon apples at twenty-five cents per bushel than in wheat at seventy cents. The future of Oregon apples promises much.

Salem's Woolen Mills.

Thomas Kay of the Brownsville woolen mills has not yet arrived in the city for the purpose of conferring with the Salem committee regarding the establishment of mills here. He writes that he will be in the city on Tuesday. At that time some definite action will be taken. The committee tell us that Salem is quite certain to receive this establishment and that in all probability the raising of the bonus will be consummated by the middle of next week.

Activity in the New Park.

There is much activity in the neighborhood of the new Capital Park. Bellinger & Co. report that there are a good many lots contracted, the sale of which will be consummated at an early day. There will be considerable building there in the spring, judging from the present outlook. Aug. Giesy will erect a neat residence at an early day, and is already fencing his lots.

Mrs. Malloy's Farewell.

At the M. E. church to-morrow evening there will be song service at seven, followed by a reception of members and farewell sermon by Mrs. Malloy. The pastor's morning subject will be: Temptation, Its Source and Beneficent Design.

A pain in the back often leads to complicated diseases that are almost incurable. Oregon Kidney Tea cures the first and prevents the latter. It is purely vegetable and is warranted.

OUR PEN PICTURES.

Short Sketches of Our Law Makers And Prominent Men.

HON. J. C. HOWARD.

Mr. Howard is another of our representatives who was born in Illinois, the "Sucker State." He was born in Henry county, Illinois, in 1855. At the age of fifteen he crossed the plains with his parents and it is needless to say that they experienced some trying times on their journey. In the year '60 they settled in Jackson county, where the aged parents now reside. In the year '78 Mr. Howard ceased his single life and was married to Miss C. Briggs; to them, have been born four children, two boys and two girls. Mr. Howard is a land surveyor by occupation, has held the office of county surveyor in Jackson county for fourteen years and was at one time U. S. deputy mineral surveyor. Mr. Howard is serving his first term as representative from Josephine county where he lived until a few months ago, when he moved to Grant's Pass. Mr. Howard is a strong republican.

HON. C. B. CROSONO.

Mr. Crosono hails from Illinois, from that part which is familiarly called "Egypt." Some might think from the above that Mr. Crosono was probably an "Egyptian," but not so, he is one of our most respected representatives, and a full-fledged American. He was born in Jefferson county, Ill., in 1845, where he resided until he had reached his twentieth year, then a number of people caught the "Western fever" and he crossed the "Plains" in '65 in a company of one hundred wagons. At the time they crossed, the rebel prisoners were guarding "Ben Holliday's" stage route. The company started on the 4th day of April and arrived at Vancouver on the 15th day of October following. Thus you will see that the long journey occupied four months and eleven days' time, but we believe our friend Crosono would have been satisfied if the journey would have lasted a year, as he acknowledges that it was the happiest part of his life. In 1873 he married Miss C. E. King and their home is brightened by two children, one boy and one girl. Mr. Crosono settled in Benton county, Or., in '68 and has resided there up to the present time. He at one time was clerk of the Indian reservation at Siletz. He has led a quiet and unassuming life and is now serving his first term as representative from Benton county. He is a republican, and Toledo is his postoffice.

Depth of Scenery on the O. P.

The Albany Democrat man has just returned from a trip on the Oregon Pacific and says: "The trip was without special interest until we reached the banks of the 'classic Santiam.' Up to this point, a distance of about eighteen or twenty miles, the line of the road is through a thickly settled, rich, farming region. But now the mountains on either side of the Santiam begin to close in upon us and the company turn their attention to the beautiful mountain scenery. But here we are at Lyonsville opposite Mehama. This is a new town just springing into existence. We glide up the serpentine banks of the Santiam until we reach Mill City at the crossing of the Santiam. This town is laid out on the Marion county side. Here and from this point on, the mountain crowd us in more closely to the river and the snow on the mountain slopes extends its long arms down nearer and nearer to the river until at the end of the track we find two or three inches of snow. At Gatesville, we were in the very midst of the crags and mountain peaks of the headwaters of the North Santiam."

Katie Putnam in "Dad's Girl."

The performance last night at Reed's opera by Miss Putnam, of "Dad's Girl," was in the usual excellent form. The whole company played their parts well. To those who have witnessed Miss Putnam's playing, it is useless to speak of her fine acting. Strangers who saw her for the first time and who have a large experience as theatre goers were delighted and loud in their commendations. Dad's Girl is a difficult part to play well, as it requires the experience of so many emotions, yet Miss Putnam did all to perfection. The father's part was admirably performed. Mr. Crosbie is a fine comedian but speaks too rapidly and with an occasional indistinctness of enunciation which leaves the auditor utterly ignorant of what he said.

The War Continues at Gervais.

Late yesterday evening Sheriff Croisan received a telegram as follows:

"Another fight at Gervais. Send justice or recorder at once. PETER MICHAEL, Constable."

From this it would seem the war at Gervais is not over. Squire Purdom and the Recorder were in the city attending the Purdom-Mitchell trial, they leaving the city of the French Prairie under the legal protection of the constable. It has not yet been learned what the new fight was, as the officers have just returned there.

One Farm.

R.—50 acres in cultivation, with fair house and barn, granary and other out buildings, fine orchard, good outside pasture—15 acres in wheat, good spring, fish pond, a pair of mules, 8 head of cattle, good wagon and farm utensils generally, 200 bushels of grain potatoes and apples, all for $2250 for a few days only.

THOMAS & PAYNE. tf.

Nota Brick in Salem.

Parties who would do any building in Salem now must send to Albany for their bricks, there not being a hundred bricks in the Salem market. This speaks well, and yet is a great inconvenience. For next season there are over 2,000,000 brick contracted by Geo. Collins, who is making all preparation for an immense out-put. He is putting in new machinery of capacity of 30,000 per day.
