LATEST BY TELEGRAPH. Important Events of the Whole World for Twenty-four Hours.

Royalty Goes Visiting. LONDON, March 13.—Count Herbert Bismarck is stopping at the residence of Lord Roseberry. He declares that his visit to England is of a private nature.

Change in the Navy Department. WASHINGTON, March 23.—Commander A. E. K. Benham has been substituted for Rear-Admiral Belknap as president of the board to witness the trial of the Charleston.

To Chicago at Last. PHILADELPHIA, March 24.—A reporter of the Enquirer to-day learned from a well known railroad man that the Northern Pacific railroad company has at last secured control of the Wisconsin Central railroad, and through it an entrance to Chicago.

The Rowley Murder Trial. McMINSVILLE, Or., Mar. 24.—The first term of the circuit court held in this city will begin here to-morrow in the new court house. There are about forty cases on the docket. The most important will be the trial of Willard McCune for shooting James Rowley at Sheridan during the smallpox quarantine last September.

Old World Politics. LONDON, March 23.—The election in the Gordon division of Lancashire to fill a vacancy in the house of commons, caused by the death of Richard Peacock, Gladstonian, resulted in the return of Wm. Mathers, Gladstonian, by a majority of 849, over Ernest Hatch, the nominee of the conservatives and liberal unionists. At the last election Peacock defeated Lord Grey Davilten, conservative, by 457 votes.

Dying From Scarlet Fever. HELENA, Mont., March 24.—An epidemic of malignant scarlet fever is raging at Livingston, a town on the Northern Pacific east of here. The disease has been raging for several weeks, and so far there have been twenty-five deaths. Recently it was thought the disease had abated, but ten new cases were reported to-day. The disease is attributed mainly to the open winter.

slow to Appoint. WASHINGTON, March 23.—The president is moving very deliberately in making appointments. This is very irritating to the office seekers, particularly those piling up bills at present at the Washington hotels. But, owing to the general excellence of the appointments so far made, the people seem disposed to think that Gen. Harrison should be allowed to take his own time in selecting the men that will make or mar his administration.

A Novel Scheme. NEW YORK, March 24.—Evan-gelist Yatman, who has just returned from a trip through the West, is now busy with a scheme which he is pleased to call a college on wheels. He proposes to obtain a number of Pullman cars and arrange sections in them for men who are to receive students in the work of evangelization. He intends to take the cars and men over the entire world, preaching the Gospel wherever they go. The experiment will first be tried with fifty students. Mr. Yatman says he already has had fully 1000 applications.

No Use For Tramps. ANDERSON, Ind., March 23.—For several days a gang of tramps have been causing much annoyance here by their insulting manner to women. Last night eight of the fellows were found in the depot, where they had forced an entrance and taken possession. A gang of about 20 men, armed with poles and barrel staves, gathered from a convenient heading factory, and led by the unshaven, went to the depot and formed a gunnelt along the railroad. Through these lines of men the tramps were forced to run, their speed being accelerated by heavy blows well laid on by the men. The tramps were unmercifully whipped, the blood trickling from many of them by the time they had reached the end of the gunnelt. It has been nearly three years since tramps have bothered Anderson, it being the custom here to run them through a gunnelt into the river. Citizens generally approve of the course.

Woman Suffrage. DETROIT, March 24.—The utmost courtesy was shown to those women who turned out to register in order to be able to vote next month. In many registration places the judges prohibited smoking. Two saloon-keepers removed the place of registration from their saloons to respectable quarters near by, and no unseemly conduct was indulged in by any man while the women were registering. They did not turn out very numerous, however—probably 500—most of the women who intend to vote intending to register later.

Anarchist Ravings. CHICAGO, March 24.—"We want a revolution. Whether peacefully or bloody makes no difference. A revolution must come." These were the words addressed by the dusky anarchist, Mrs. Lucy Parsons, to an audience of 2500 men and women gathered at the Twelfth street Turner hall to celebrate the eighteenth anniversary of the Paris commune last night.

Behring Sea. OTTAWA, March 24.—A sensation has been created here by the issue of President Harrison's proclamation closing Behring sea. The action of the American government proves a complete surprise to the members of the Canadian government, who decline to be interviewed. It is stated here the Cleveland administration and the British government had been negotiating for two years past in regard to the claim for compensation for the seizure of three British sailing vessels in Behring sea.

Justice Matthews's Successor. DETROIT, Mich., March 24.—Several members of the cabinet, many senators and a number of the leading members of the bar heartily approve of the movement to appoint Alfred Russell, of Detroit, justice of the United States supreme court to succeed Justice Matthews, deceased. Russell is 56 years old and a graduate of Dartmouth college.

A Kentucky Feud. CHICAGO, March 24.—The feud between the Lowders and Turner factions in Bell county, Kentucky, has broken out again, and prospects are there will be much bloodshed. The feud has so many ramifications it is impossible to tell where it originated or why it continues to exist.

A Rush of Visitors. WASHINGTON, March 23.—There was a great rush of visitors at the White house to-day, and it seemed as if the office seekers were trying to make up for their lencncy during the previous two days.

Moorish Medicine. Progress in the treatment of disease is not everywhere the modern order, the Moors, whose medical practice is a singular mixture of a little real skill with an astonishing amount of ignorant superstition, seeming to be actually going backward. Says a recent writer: "The Moorish 'medicine man'—we can hardly call him doctor—certainly displays some skill in couching for cataract. He has also an original method of curing irritation of the eyes due to the presence of foreign bodies: with much skill he passes his tongue over the open eye of the patient, and thus, without irritating, removes the sand, grit, etc. For cupping, the Moor also makes good use of his mouth: a cow's horn is placed over the part, and from a hole at the point of the horn the operator sucks out the blood, etc. But the Moor who ventures on such treatment will, with equal confidence, prescribe gold dust for the scrapings from the horn of a rhinoceros, as an emmenagogue, and will give an idle man ants to eat, or suggest that a coward should try and procure for his meal a little lion's flesh." The fumes of burning animal bodies are supposed to exert a strengthening influence. An effectual use is made of cauterization; and an excellent syrup for coughs and colds is prepared by boiling figs, dates and raisins. Fractures are dressed with splinters and tow soaked in honey. Disease is attributed to evil spirits, and noises and a display of weapons are expected to frighten them away. False teeth and other European innovations are resented as an interference with divine will.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES. Soldiers are escorting settlers out of Oklahoma territory as fast as possible, although many are hiding and cannot be found.

The Pennsylvania miners are already nearly starving from irregular work and low wages, and another "shut down" has just been ordered. Correspondent Klein, connected with the Samona difficulty, expresses a desire to go to Germany to give testimony before the Berlin conference.

A great many people who are in Washington with long petitions for office, will want to turn their petitions into paper collars before they get through. The Oklahoma boomers and the troops are running a foot race for possession of that territory. The boomers have the speed, but the soldiers have the guns.

"This beats the devil," remarked a tourist as he surveyed one of the celebrated Irish churches. "That was the intention," promptly responded the janitor. A serious conflict occurred at Fall River between strikers and the new hands, in which stones and pistols were used and serious injuries received by several of the participants.

The reply to an application for reinstatement of a discharged employe in the navy department, Secretary Tracy has written that an ability to properly perform the duties required is a prerequisite to having a good record as a soldier. Wade Hampton of Virginia has returned battle flags captured in the war to surviving members of the Sixty-fifth Pennsylvania volunteers and the Fifth cavalry, accompanied by a courteous note in which he said that now the country has but one flag.

An English fishing sloop applied at Port Townsend for permission to purchase bait, but the request was refused, as English fishermen are not allowed to purchase bait in American waters. This is the first case of the kind on the Pacific coast. To Men Only. At San Francisco Sunday the Pavilion was packed to its capacity by the youth and gray heads, the young and the old, to hear Sam Jones' sermon to men only. He had the great crowd in thorough sympathy with him. There was little of the sensational in the sermon. In his own peculiar style he enumerated some of the most common sins of mankind and scored them for an indulgence in such transgressions.

The text was from Genesis: "Cape for thy life." The first sin to be spoken of is probably the most common one, the sin of the Ten Commandments, "Thou shalt not swear." The man is habitually broke who call themselves honor day. Why do they break mandment and not the Why don't the man who say so steal? It is because he can do one without fear of interference when he starts to break the o runs against a policeman, if the county jail and the ch If there was nothing to the man who habitually steal. The man who breaks one commandment, break all the others if he has opportunity to do it without fear of tecton. The sin of profanity practiced every day, and w harvest of damnation is being

The next sin is the sin of breaking. The most ex and dirtiest men on earth who through the beer ge stand around the street Sundays, and those men, church who go to Sunday b games and boat races are set an example to a litter

Drunkenness is the sin to claim attention. It is a sin with experier he had entire disapproval of sixteen minister enumerated from drink, and words: "There is no more on earth than that of a little girl going out upon the streets city in the early morning an log to a stranger whom a "Father is a drunkard, a is dead."
