LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

Important Events of the Whole World for Twenty-four Hours.

A Love-Lorn Maiden.
SACRAMENTO, March 25.—A special to the Bee from Davisville says: Louisa Freely, twenty years old, committed suicide yesterday by taking strychnine, because her parents refused their consent to her marriage.

It Was Loaded.
ST. LOUIS, March 25.—Believing the revolver he held to be empty, Wm. Clinchman, aged 15 years, this afternoon snapped it at Birdie Lucas, and the bullet lodged in her brain. The bullet was extracted and the girl is alive, although dangerously hurt.

An Engineer Killed.
OGDEN, March 25.—Pat O'Hara, forty-two years an engineer on the Central Pacific, but who recently suffered upon the Ogden street motor car service, met his death by striking his head against an electric light pole while looking out from his cab last night.

Railroad to Coos-Bay.
SPOKANE FALLS, March 24.—Track laying on the Pacific extension from Wallace to Mullan, up the south fork of the Cour d'Alene river was completed this evening. It is understood that a road will be built on an air line from Cour d'Alene City to the old station, when the whole line will be converted into a standard gauge.

The New Cruiser Yorktown.
WASHINGTON, March 25.—The secretary of the navy has approved the report of the trial-board of the Yorktown, and the vessel, including her fittings and machinery, excepting the electric light plant, will be accepted, subject to a special reserve of $20,000 and to a further reservation of $500,000 to be held until the lighting plant shall be completed and tested.

On the Trail of the Train Robbers.
HOLBROOK, A. T., March 25.—Deputy Sheriff Larson and posse are still in pursuit of the train robbers. They went toward Tonto Basin, thence toward Utah, crossing the Atlantic and Pacific road within ten miles of the scene of the robbery. Many express articles were found, partly consumed or burning. The officers have now gone to Utah by rail to head the robbers off.

Six Weeks Suspension.
PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—An announcement was posted to-day at all the collieries in the Pittston region including those of the Pennsylvania coal company and the small companies and individual operators, notifying the men of a suspension of six weeks duration. This will be a terrible blow to the men, who for months have been in very short time and are now in a very poor condition. About 10,000 men and boys are affected by this suspension.

Funeral of Matthews.
WASHINGTON, March 25.—The funeral services over the remains of the late Associate Justice Stanley Matthews were held this afternoon at his late residence, Dr. Hamlin and Dr. Leonard officiating. The president, cabinet, justices of the supreme court, many members of congress and other prominent persons were present. The remains were then carried to the Baltimore & Ohio station and conveyed to Glendora, Ohio, for interment in the Spring Grove cemetery.

Served Him Right.
WASS VALLEY, Cal., March 25.—At 1 o'clock Sunday morning Gilbert Harris of Boston Ravine, gave his wife a severe whipping and struck her on the forehead with a lump, making a dangerous wound. The woman's cries aroused the people of the Ravine and a party of young men assembled and dragged Harris into Wolf Creek, ducked him in a watering trough and whipped him soundly. Tar and feathers are threatened if Harris does not leave before next Saturday night. Harris served a term in the county jail a year ago for wife beating.

Burglars at Work.
SEATTLE, March 25.—A special from St. Louis says: "Last night the grocery store of M. W. Richard & Son was entered by burglars, who robbed the safe of $500 in coin, together with notes and mortgages, amounting by estimate to $300. Entrance was made through a side door. The safe was exploded with powder, a small hole being drilled through the door and plate just left of the combination. Sacks of grain, sand, etc., were piled against the safe to deaden the sound of the explosion. The door was blown entirely off, the front plate lying on the floor.

The burglars took a small burglar-proof safe with them.

The burglars were captured while asleep.

Supplies for the Military Schools.
WASHINGTON, March 25.—Each college or university where an army officer is stationed will be allowed two three-inch rifled guns of wrought iron, valued at $450 each; two carriages and limbers and appurtenances, 150 Springfield cadet rifles, and a corresponding number of bayonets, scabbards and appendages. The colleges are required to give bonds equal a double the value of the arms furnished.

Ammunition will be supplied as follows: One hundred blank cartridges and 300 primers for the three-inch guns, and fifty rifle ball cartridges for each cadet engaged in target practice.

The Siamon Affair.
BERLIN, March 24.—The Cologne Gazette says neither criminal nor civil procedure is applicable to the case of Klein in America. It only remains for Germany to bring evidence against him before the tribunal of Apis including the American consul. It may be assumed that when Herr Streibel, the newly appointed German consul, arrives in Apis satisfaction will be demanded from Metzger.

Prisoners in the Congo.
BRUSSELS, March 24.—The Congo Gazette, commenting on the Senegal question, says: "Owing to the attitude of America, it is natural the Germany should seek a full agreement with England before the Siamon conference meets."

Pensions to Those That Need Them.
WASHINGTON, March 25.—Corporal Tanner says in regard to the pensions of soldiers of the late war: "I believe in giving every Union soldier, his widow, or orphan, who is in need, a pension, and giving it to him as quickly as possible."

Representative Cheadle, of Indiana, who knows Corporal Tanner intimately, says of him: "He will give a pension to every one who needs and is entitled to it, providing congress will authorize it and give him the money. He already has very great latitude, and can allow new pensions and increase with almost unlimited liberty."

Offensive Partisanship.
WASHINGTON, March 25.—On Saturday Wagonmaker made a positive announcement to an unnamed member of congress, who had a very offensive partisan postmaster he was working to have removed, that the charge of offensive partisanship would not be regarded as a sufficient cause for removal. Some other good reason would have to be given, and it did not matter whether or not this charge was attached.

Cleveland's Superstition.
Cleveland has on many occasions since he was in office shown that he has been controlled by superstition. Only once has he stepped over the spot where Garfield fell. Never, it is said, did he leave the White House by the front door during the long intervals when the badges of official mourning were draped about the columns in the front of the Executive Mansion. On all of these occasions, which have been quite numerous—Sherman, Waite, Arthur and the rest—the president always left the White House from the Potomac side, and it probably is a fact that no resident of Washington has ever seen him leave the White House on foot or walk about the city. Those who live the nearest to Cleveland say that he is superstitious and that he has always been haunted with the dread of some new Guletan.

Captain Dawson the murdered editor of the Charleston News and Courier, is accredited with the honor of abolishing duelling in South Carolina. He was the first prominent man in the state to refuse to accept a challenge, and although his reputation at first suffered severely, he carried his point, and a duel in that state is now unheard of. For this action he was decorated by the Pope.

President Harrison's lying for Murat Halstead is of long standing. The two were schoolmates in their youth.

An Evasive Answer.

An English nobleman a short time since was on a wedding tour in this country. His bride was much younger than himself and very accomplished and attractive. The nobleman cautioned his valet to give evasive answers to any questions that might be put to him relating to himself and wife. Having stopped over night at one of our leading hotels, the next morning he asked his valet if he had been asked any questions. He replied:

"Yes, lots of them, among other questions they asked me if you were married?"

"What answer did you give?" asked the nobleman.

"I told them you were not married but would be in two weeks," was his reply.

He Caved.

A train over the Bay City road, coming into Detroit, picked up a passenger, and when the conductor took up his fare he asked:

"How far could a person without money travel on this train?"

"About half a mile."

"And then you'd put 'em off?"

"Yes."

"Would you put a woman off?"

"I'd have to."

"Thanks. That settles it. My old woman didn't want me to go to town, and she said she'd follow me to the end of the earth. She'll try it but she ain't got a cent to travel on, and when the conductor drops her along here I can imagine the look—"

"Oh, in that case I should let her ride," interrupted the official.

"You would?"

"Yes."

"Then, if you'll kinder slack up when you cross at Skinner's, I'll kinder drop off and hoof it back. I reckon she's got the bulge on me and I might as well cave."

Defining an Impression.

One day Dr. McCosh came into the mental philosophy class and said:

"Ah, young gentlemen, I have an impression!"

"Now, young gentlemen," continued the doctor, as he touched his head with his fore-finger, "can you tell me what an impression is?"

No answer.

"What? No one knows? No one can tell me what an impression is?" exclaimed the doctor, looking up and down the class.

"I know," said Mr. Arthur. "An impression is a dint in a soft place."

"Young gentlemen," said the doctor, removing his hand from his forehead and growing red in the face, "you are excused for the day."

Extended observations indicate that the sanitary condition of a locality depends on the amount of water contained in the ground. The years in which there has been a large quantity of ground-water present have invariably been the healthiest years, while those in which there has been a smaller quantity have invariably been the unhealthiest periods.

The Rev. John Brown, an English clergyman, who has been visiting in this country, says that American preachers are too fond of the picturesque. This tendency sometimes leads them to describe forbidden pleasures with such a literary sympathy that many unthinking people feel strongly inclined to indulge in them, so that the very object of the sermon is defeated.

The Colonel—"My own darling, I hope you like the bracelets; and let me be first to clasp it on that lovely arm." May—"Oh, Harry, it is just too beautiful. But it must have your monogram on." The Colonel—"My monogram! Your address and sweetest, to express the wish." May—"Yes, dear. So that I—I can not forget to whom I am engaged." (Collapse of the Colonel.)

Ex-Secretary of State Bayard will shortly return from Washington with his family to his old home, Washington Place, in West Wilmington, Del. He will retire from public life altogether and confine himself to his law practice.

John Scott Harrison, brother of the president, is talked of as the democratic candidate for mayor of Kansas City, but it is not believed he would accept the nomination.

Lewis Cass, who became Buchanan's secretary of state at 75, was the oldest man who ever entered a cabinet. Alexander Hamilton was the youngest of all cabinet officers.
