They are to be run on the streets of Minneapolis, where steam engines are forbidden. The engine is about with no visible smokestack or pipes, as there is no exhaust or refuse. The boiler is of copper, 81 inches in diameter and fifteen feet long, having tubes running through it as in steam bollers. Inside the boiler will be placed five tons of soda, which upon being dampened by a jet of steam produces an Intense heat. In about six hours the soda is thoroughly saturated, when the action ceases. A stream of superheated steam from a stationary boiler is then forced through the soda, which drives out the moisture and the soda is ready for use again. The exhaust steam from the cylinders is used to saturate the soda and by this means all refuge is used. These engines are the first of their kind that have been built in this helpless women and children. country. They will have the same power as those used on the New York elevated roads. ### A WOMAN'S WAY.

A Startling Business Proposition. When Mrs. Fowler, of 327 Ellis street, stopof wild flowers which make the nir ped in at a leading city druggist's to ask what effect "The California Remedy," Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, would have in cases of dyspepsia and sick headaches, she was assured it would relieve both. She was so incredulous that the druggist gave her a bottle, not to be paid for unless it effected a cure. The following is the convincing conclusion.

San Francisco, Pebruary 8, 1888. Duan sen: Notwithstanding my misgivings, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did all that bourne from which many travelers you promised. I had tried so many prescriptions that I had come to believe nothing would relieve my dyspepsis and sick headaches, but I have not had a return of either since.
