Almost a Fire.

Yesterday afternoon a dense smoke was seen coming out of a barn belonging to Charles Woodard in East Salem, A bystander ran to the barn, when two small boys, Dick Ely and a boy maned Reubin, ran out of the door. He immediately went inside and discovered that the young chaps had alighted some paper and put straw on it, but the flames were conquered before any damage was Mone. If a fire had broken out there it would have done great damage, as the buildings in this block are very close together. The boys were old enough to know better and deserve punishment.

The public reception yesterday progress and is bound to improve afternoon was largely attended by greatly in the next few months and the public, and the exercises were of a most interesting, instructive and entertaining character.

The annual address of State Master H. E. Hayes of Eugene was full of sound argument. He said six-The quarterly examination of apteen years had sped their course since the organization of the Grange cates was commenced to-day at noon in this state, and as they were called together again at this, their annual session, they could glance over that period of time and mark their advance, step by step, with no incontions. Of these, twenty-one are fication.

The address of welcome by Gov-ernor Pennoyer was a happy effort, The following will be found to be as was also the response by Mrs. I complete list of the participants, L. Hilleary.

In behalf of the Salem grange Judge R. P. Boice, made an address of welcome, which met with an eloquent response from W. A. Sample of Umatilla county.

The exercises were intersperced with delightful music furnished by some of Salem's loyal fladies.

The session this morning opened In secret session with a full attendance of members and visiting members.

The worthy chaplain, the assistant ardess made valuable reports which were ordered printed in the proceedings of the session.

The committee on woman's work in the Grange made a report on that subject, showing that a great amount of work had been performed.

The committee on resolutions brought in one upon the subject of assessment and taxation which was W. L. Kellenberger, Aumsville, 25. discussed and on motion made a special order for Thursday afternoon. A resolution recommending the increase of power to the railroad commission so that exact justice could be accorded both railroads and the people was adopted.
