BISHOP, THE "MIND READER"

Irving Bishop, whose feats in "mind reading" have made him widely known, died at a New York City club house May 13, under extraordinary circumstances.

On being led back up stairs, the word was found in a manner which would demonstrate that "muscle reading," as it is called, had nothing to do with the performance.

The suddenness with which this autopsy was made, in absence of authority from the friends or relatives of the deceased or from the coroner, has caused great feeling.

DESPITE the fanciful pictures which some writers have drawn of the ocean bed, its desolation, at least in its deepest parts, must be extreme.

History of a Damaged Nickel. About a year ago some Baltimore wag polished off a nickel till it only resembled the coin of the realm in size and color.

THAT women as well as men are inventors is shown from the records of the Patent Office, from which it appears that from 1790 up to July of last year over 2500 patents have been granted to women.

THE death of John P. Usher, secretary of the Interior under Mr. Lincoln, leaves but three surviving cabinet officers of the war period—Simon Cameron, Hugh McCulloch and James Harlan.

WITHIN the last few years Mr. Blaine is said to have doubled his fortunes. His best paying investments are in the Little Hope silver mine, which has paid, it is said, $4,500,000 in dividends in the last five years.

How to Live Happy. Thomas Jefferson wrote the following excellent advice. There is a good deal of human nature and common sense in it:

Harmony in the married state is the first thing to be arrived at. Nothing can preserve the affections uninterrupted but a firm resolution never to differ in will, and a determination in each to consider the love of the other of more value than any object whatever on which the wish had been fixed.

But he or she may find his or her affections wearied out by a constant stream of little checks and obstacles. Other sources of discontent, very common indeed, are the little cross purposes of husband and wife in common conversation; a disposition either to criticize and question whatever the other says; a desire always to demonstrate and make him feel himself in wrong, especially in sympathy.

A Human Rocket. Manager Robinson of the International Exposition has secured a novel attraction—a human sky-rocket, the handiwork of Mr. Edsel de Callao, Peru, formerly of the United States navy.

The past winter in Iceland has been unusually severe. When the first post ship of the season broke through the ice floes and reached Reykjavik the first question asked by the natives was whether Prince Bismark was still alive.

A Delaware county, Pa., mechanic returned to his home the other day after an absence of a year. His wife had received no word from him and didn't know but what he was dead. The first words he said to her were: "Is dinner ready?"

THE superintendent of a Louisville employment agency urges boys who desire to take up trades to learn cooking. He has found that there is a great scarcity of good male cooks not only in Louisville, but also in every city in the United States.

A Pennsylvania hunter found a cave in the mountains the other day which contained, as he estimated, four tons of solid honey, but the bees pitched into him a score of times and ran him off before he could arrange to gather, pack and ship.

An old negro woman of Augusta, Ga., set fire to her house to "drive the witches out."

Some Office Seekers.

There was a young man from Topeka, a sassy and bold office seeker; He was sure of a scoop— He dropped in the soup And now he is perched jolly meeker.

There was an old man from Milwaukee, With a fondness to be rather talky; He praised over much The fluency of the Dutch, And now he's going back to Milwaukee.

A colored came in from Kentucky, A gentleman nery and plucky; He took what they had, Although it was bad And considered himself p. d. lucky.

A statesman came down from Manhattan, With a name neither Saxon nor Latin; He was given a seat, But he wanted the earth, And missing it, thought he had been sat on.

While Jeff Graves, a Leary, Ga., blacksmith, was at work, his anvil suddenly disappeared through the roof. Some mischievous persons had put a lot of gunpowder under it.

A curious freak of nature has been found at Weathersfield, Vt. Two birch trees, a short distance apart, are united a short distance from the ground by a cross branch, which seems to belong to both.

A highway robber compelled George Falmouth, of Indiana, to sign a check on a bank for $20,000, but George would have signed one for $72,000 just as gracefully. He is not worth over $3 all told.

A negro in Rankin county, Miss., who had stolen a mule, was given the option of going to the penitentiary or receiving a hundred lashes on the back. He chose the latter, taking his punishment like a stoic.

Professor Paul d'Nuce, whoever he is, says he can cause a thunderstorm and a fall of rain in any district on two hours notice, and that he can have the shower stop in ten minutes or continue half a day.

In the quaint old Anglican church of Chapel-le-Ferne, near Dover, there is no provision made for lighting it at night, and at the evening service those who attend are in the habit of bringing candles and lamps along with them.

Superintendent Ireland says that while some of the vicious dogs in Philadelphia kennel club shows were ugly when men attempted to pat them, the touch of a woman's hand was welcomed by the most savage brute.

Such a thing as bringing a libel suit against a newspaper has not been known in Italy for fifty years. The belief is that a newspaper seeks to tell the truth. If it is mistaken a frank statement to that effect satisfies the Italian.

The past winter in Iceland has been unusually severe. When the first post ship of the season broke through the ice floes and reached Reykjavik the first question asked by the natives was whether Prince Bismark was still alive.

A Delaware county, Pa., mechanic returned to his home the other day after an absence of a year. His wife had received no word from him and didn't know but what he was dead. The first words he said to her were: "Is dinner ready?"

A well-known five page entitled "Over the Hills and Far Away" in the Detroit Free Press, of which we give a paragraph, reminded us that great advertisers, like H. H. Warner & Co., proprietors of Warner's celebrated Safe Cure, might get a hint from it.

Have in the paragraph: "Shoot to the right or left, over the gun or in front. Strike where you will, but strike to destroy. Now the hell came down, even to the windows of the old farm-house—now back under the apple trees and beyond the dead men are under the ponderous wheels of the guns, mad devils are snatching and shooting across the barrels. No one seems to know friend from foe. Shoot, slash, kill and—"

"But the hell is dosedayed. The smoke is rising, shrieks and screams grow fainter, and twenty or thirty living men pull the dead bodies away from the guns. There landed dead and wounded on the single acre. They fell of war and glory. Look over the hill's acre and find the latter." And in just as deadly a strife, though noiseless, are men falling at our right and left to-day. Is it war? Yes, war of the blood. Blood loaded with poison through imperfect kidney action. And is there no power to stop this awful slaughter? Yes, Warner's safe cure, a tried specific, a panacea that has brought life and hope to hundreds of thousands of dying men and women.

Re-enlisted, herefore, in the great army of living men and women who have been rescued from disease and premature death and by eternally grateful that the means of life can be easily be yours.

The executors of a wealthy bachelor who lately died in Knoxville, Toga county, Pa., found in his house fully one thousand empty patent medicine bottles.

This is the season of the year when the raw, cold winds create sad havoc with the hands and complexion. Sore white hands and a clear "penchy" complexion can be assuredly preserved by the frequent application of Dutard's Specific. If rubbed into the skin well it leaves no greasy surface. The skin absorbs it. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

A negro who lives in a poor house in Albany, Ga., is 122 years old. He says that he frequently saw Washington, and "used to list my hat and 'y' Howdy' to him."

A curious fact in natural history comes from Fairlie, Scotland. A hen, after hatching several chickens, died; thereupon a cat took charge of the brood and has since remained their jealous guardian.

A good digestion waits on appetite and a good appetite is one of the surest signs of perfect health. If you are low spirited, irritable, bilious, or have an irregular appetite, then we advise you by all means to take Dr. Henley's Dandelion Tonic. It will make a new man of you. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

C. F. Brown of Malvern, Penn., has just taken the first drink of water since October last. He can go without water all winter.

"TO BE OR NOT TO BE." soliloquized the melancholy Dane. A sea of troubles opposed. He shrank before them; ambition lay dead. Life, as he viewed it, rested under a yellow cloud, tinged with green. He let, to my mind, was bilious. The blood, diseased, carried through the natural gates and alleys of the body, made life a burden; and the ill of the body magnified in a tenfold degree his other ills. Purify the blood, give new life and action to the system, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and your drowsiness, lack of appetite, chilly sensations, yellow skin, bad breath, will all depart, as the morning mists are dispelled by the rising sun.

Thousands of cures follow the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, 50 cents.

Dr. Agnew says that a healthy woman can kill herself in about a year by horseback riding, and all other physicians would probably agree with him if they didn't want patients.

Oregon Kidney Tea is put up in air tight tin boxes which preserve intact its peculiar medical properties. Full directions for preparing the tea, accompany each package. Accidents are liable to happen at any time, and it is well to be prepared for them. Every family should keep a bottle of Dutard's Specific in the house at all times. It is worth its weight in gold for burns, scalds, bruises, old sores and skin diseases. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

A SCRAP OF PAPER SAVES HER LIFE. It was just an ordinary scrap of writing paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued in use and is now strong, healthy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith, Ark. Trial bottle of this wonderful discovery free at Daniel J. Fry's drug store.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surface of the system, for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.
