CHARGED WITH WILFUL MURDER.

A Bill for Murder in the First Degree Returned Against Hawkins.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The Beardsley Case Still on Trial—Many Witnesses Examined.

When circuit court opened this morning it was to resume the examination of witnesses in the Beardsley case. Mr. Beardsley occupied the stand for the greater part of the afternoon yesterday. This morning many minor witnesses were placed upon the stand and both prosecution and defense thought the examination of witnesses would close at noon to-day, but the expectations were not realized, as there yet remained a number to be questioned and cross-examined after dinner.

No new developments are being brought to light and the evidence is about as it was before the coroner and at the preliminary examination. Old Mr. White, who, at the preliminary examination swore that Perryman and Jordan were together walking down the street when the firing occurred, now testifies that Perryman was alone. The testimony of Willis Jordan and the other witnesses is about the same as before justice of the peace Fink at Dallas.

At two o'clock, the taking of testimony having been completed, the summing up of arguments was commenced. Hon. N. L. Butler of Dallas opened on the part of the prosecution. He will be followed by District Attorney Hewitt on the prosecution and Messrs. R. H. Williams and Tilmon Ford and Hon. J. J. Daly of Dallas for the defense. The arguments will occupy the attention of the court during the afternoon, after which the case will be given the jury for a decision.

The grand jury this afternoon made a report, the first after a session of three days. They return one true and one not true bill. The not true bill is that of state of Oregon vs. Robert Knebs, for killing a shepherd dog, the property of J. N. Massey. Having further business the grand jury retire to consider thereof.

Tigers' Annual Election.

At the regular meeting of Tiger engine company last night the following officers were elected to serve one year: President, John Knight; secretary, Ray Farmer; foreman, Walter Low; first assistant foreman, Reuben Glaze; second assistant foreman, Harry Minto; treasurer, Thos. Holman; board of fire delegates, Benj. Critchlow, Clay Starr and Addison Wright; driver, John Duncan; trustees, A. J. Basey, A. E. Strang, Ed. Cross. Geo. Bingham of Alport hook and ladder company was endorsed as a candidate for chief engineer. A. J. Basey was nominated as a candidate for assistant engineer. Finance committee: Richard Hunsley, Mr. Elliot and Clay Starr. The company donated $50 for the benefit of the Seattle sufferers and a warrant was ordered drawn in favor of the president and the money sent to the mayor of Seattle for that use. The Tigers are quite generous in their assistance to a sister city in distress.

Among the Sick.

Mr. Dorrance, who had his leg badly mashed at his mill, is mending nicely. Burt Dunn, the boy who was struck on the head by Nelson Long, is some better to-day and the doctor says he will recover. The Price, who was kicked by a horse yesterday, is improving nicely. Joe Evans, the boy who had his leg broke by a horse falling on him, is improving. Walter Lenon, who hurt his arm in the saw mill last fall, is yet laid up, as two bones will have to be taken from his arm. Raymond Blanton, the boy that stepped on the scythe with his bare feet, is improving slowly. Mr. Rogers, the gentleman who broke his collar bone on Tuesday by falling from a truck, is convalescing.

Mayor's Proclamation.

In response to the announcement that the people of Seattle are in distress, the result of the recent great disaster by fire and deeming it expedient that some organized effort be made for their assistance, the business men of Salem are hereby requested to meet at the council chamber on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, to take such measures as are best calculated for a quick and hearty response. GEO. WILLIAMS, Mayor. Salem, June 11, 1889.

The Prize Fighter.

Jack Dempsey, the well known prize fighter was a passenger on the overland this morning. While the train was at the Salem depot he took a walk around the platform. He is not such a fierce or brutal looking fellow as the imagination might picture, on the other hand he is a modest looking, shapely man.

Camp Meeting.

At the Turner campmeeting grounds to-day begins camp meeting, under the auspices of the Christian denominations. The services will continue until July 1st, making a meeting of about three weeks. A grand success is anticipated.

The normal school at Monmouth is conducting commencement exercises this week. The alumni conducted their exercises Tuesday night and last night the graduates were tendered a grand banquet at the residence of J. V. Butler. The graduating class this year was composed of thirty-six students—the largest class ever graduated in one year from that popular institution. The new wing of the school building is now under way, the plans and specifications having been prepared and accepted. At the commencement exercises many old students and graduates were present and the union exercises of the two literary societies were attended by a large crowd. The program was of a highly entertaining character.

The Educational Contest.

In the educational contest held at the Willamette University Monday evening, for the successful contestants prizes were awarded as follows: Best lady declaimer, Miss Blanche Lamont, Helena, Montana; best gentleman declaimer, Mr. J. J. Fitzgerald, Philomath, Oregon; for best map, Mr. A. Downing of Waldo Hills.

Articles of Incorporation.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state today as follows: Marion county improvement company, with W. H. Byars, W. H. Odell and Alonzo Gesner as incorporators. The capital stock is $75,000 divided into 750 shares of the value of $100 each. The terms of the motor line which the corporation proposes to construct and operate shall be in Salem and Silverton in Marion county. Their business is to purchase, or otherwise own, hold, use, lease, sell and otherwise dispose of real estate, constructing, owning, and operating street car line, selling and leasing the same.

News of the River.

A small raft of logs came down the river last night. The Occident comes up to-night. Owing to the low stage of water, boats will soon stop running on the upper Willamette. Near Lincoln the water in one place is only eight inches deep, and near Grant's mills, Salem, a person can wade across without much difficulty.

CLYMER NOTES.

Abner Lewis is having a splendid house built on his farm this summer.

Quite a number of young people went to Silver Falls City last Sunday, for a picnic.

L. C. Griffith, wife and daughter Jennie, have gone to eastern Oregon for a month's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Patton are spending the week at their mountain ranch, near Silver Creek Falls.

Grandfather Humphreys has returned from his visit to Linn county, and is now enjoying very good health for one of his age.

Thieves broke into the smoke house of James Taylor, near Whitaker one night last week, and carried off several hundred pounds of fine bacon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Jones have gone to Newburg, Yamhill county, on business connected with an inheritance Mrs. Jones has lately received from her father's estate.

Invitations for the marriage of Miss Ethel Patton and C. M. Warren are issued, the wedding taking place at the residence of Hon. Henry Warren, Wednesday evening, June 12th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Humphreys were out driving last week when the horse becoming frightened and unmanageable ran away, breaking the buggy, but fortunately neither of them was hurt.

A. J. Patton is building a nice little cottage on his homestead near the Falls, and it is whispered by some of the knowing ones that he will not much longer "inhabit this bleak world alone."

Farmers who stored oats in the warehouses on the narrow gauge last fall are now either forced to sell at very low figures, or pay storage and move their grain, as the managers have so ordered. W. J. Humphreys stored his grain at the Waldo warehouse. He is now offered thirteen cents per bushel for his oats, which he refuses, consequently has to move it to some other warehouse. H. M. Jones, who had his grain stored at East Side Junction, is offered fifteen cents per bushel for his oats or pay storage and remove the grain. This is a great inconvenience to farmers who unfortunately stored grain on the narrow gauge and do not wish to sell at present prices.

A GOOD CUP OF COFFEE.
