The Sweet Word Home. Home! It is a charmed word. Through that one syllable thrill untold melodies, the laughter of children, the sound of well-known footsteps and the voices of undying affection. Home! I hear in that word the ripple of meadow brooks in which knee deep we waded, the lowing of cattle coming up from the pasture, the sharp hiss of the scythe amid the thick grass, the creaking of the hay rack where we trampled down the load. Home! Upon that word there drop the sunshine of boyhood and the shadows of tender sorrows and the reflection of ten thousand fond memories. Home! When I see it in book or newspaper that word seems to rise and sparkle and leap and thrill and whisper and pray and weep.

It glitters like a shield. It springs up like a fountain. It thrills like a song. It twinkles like a star. It leaps like a flame. It glows like a sunset. It sings like an angel. And if some lexicographer, urged on by a spirit from beneath, should seek to cast forth that word from the language the children would come forth and hide it under garlands of wild HAIR CUTTING AND SHAVING come forth to cover it up with their diamonds and pearls; and the kings flowers; and the wealthy would would hide it under their crowns; Hair Work Always on Hand. and after Herod had haunted its and after Herod had haunted its life from Bethlehem to Egypt and your order. utterly given up the search, some bright warm day it would flash from among the gems and breathe from among the flowers, and toss from among the coronets, and the world would read it, bright and fair and beautiful and resonant as before. Home! Home! Home .-- Tsimage.

"Did it take you all day to do that ark water works detail?" snarled the city editor.

"S-s-sh! speak low," whispered the new "special" in the C. E.'s ear. "Got on to A 1 suicide out in the park-defalcation probably."

"Great Casar! and we have gone to press," gasped the editor; "the afternoon papers will get a beat on us to-morrow."

"Not much!" chuckled the reporter. "I knew I couldn't get here in time for the last edition, so I just queered the find."

LITTLE WOMEN are as a rule, possessed of happy disposi-tions but when these sweet dispositions, become soured and irritable, in consequence of the long train of distressing features peculiar to female complaints, they are then not companionable to say the least, It is the duty, not only of little women, but of all women so afflicted, to bring about the subjection, and immediate removal, of these painful maladies. This is easily accomplished by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the great specific for "female weakness." It is a positive cure for the most flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions prolapsus or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, and kindred ailments. LOST IN THE STORM.

One of our local editors clipped from a leading magazine extracts from a vivid description of a western blizzard which we have taken the liberty to publish and at the same time suggest to H. H. Warner & Co., the proprietors of the celebrated War-ner's Safe Cure, the feasibility of taking therefrom an extract for the intro-duction of one of their telling adver-tisements. The following is the description : "At the close of a dark day in January a solitary horseman wends his way across the open prairie in one of our western territories. He passes at long intervals the lone cabin of the backy frontiseman at long intervals the lone cabin of the hardy frontiersman. Two or three old settlers, of whom he has inquired the way, have warned him that a storm is approaching, and one of them, with true western hospitality, urges him to find shelter in his cabin for the night. But he declines the proffered kindness and urges his tired horse forward. *** The aky grows suddenly dark. *** He decides to seek shelter. *** The storm in-creases in its fury. *** The storm in-creases in its fury. *** The storm in-creases in the store in the store is near. *** He is lost in the blizzard."
