Everything is Fixed. The Astorian says the Astoria coast railway company builds the road.

The Astorian says the Astoria coast railway company builds the road. The $175,000 paid or pledged by Astorians is to be paid in. The Pacific construction company pays in $200,000 additional, and takes that amount of stock in the company.

Another Railroad Scheme. The following is from the Albany Democrat. Color is given to the statement when it is considered that Receiver Scott of the Narrow Gauge, while in Salem Wednesday, said that "maybe" the Southern Pacific had purchased his road.

No Hitching Place. The grove on Front street has been shut up and as this was the place where the farmers generally tied their horses now there is no place for them to tie. The city should see that a lot is provided for them.

A Small Sized Fraud. Recently agents for foreign rubber stamp manufactories have been passing among the citizens of Salem and vicinity soliciting orders for goods in their lines. The orders in all cases were taken and paid for, the goods to be manufactured and sent by mail at once.

A Serious Charge. Sheriff Ira Smith of Polk county returned yesterday from Newport, having in charge Joseph Rose, whom he had arrested there accused with having committed rape upon the eight-year-old daughter of Dr. Wilson of Airlie, at the terminus of the narrow gauge.

Salem's Cigar Factory. Messrs. Crews and Tonic will soon have their cigar factory in good running order, when they will place a quantity of first-class smoking goods on the market.

Fire Election Monday. Monday the election, by the firemen, of a chief of the fire department will be conducted. The Captains have nominated T. A. Howard and the Tigers G. G. Bingham and there will be considerable interest manifested in the election.

BAD ACCIDENT AT TURNER.

AN Old Couple Thrown From Their Wagon and Nearly Killed. A serious accident happened to Mr. and Mrs. H. B. White near Turner yesterday afternoon.

The aged couple were in a wagon on their way to the lecture and when within a half mile of town they met a drunken man who was driving recklessly at which it is supposed the team took fright and threw the occupants to the ground, bruising the old lady about the face, rendering her insensible, in which state she still remains.

The old gentleman was also bruised about the face, his nose being nearly torn off. The result of the accident is yet seriously in doubt, as the injured ones are both in their seventies.

The accident occurring as it did just on the eye of the lecture on Secularism caused it to be adjourned till Tuesday night next. This is the fourth accident that has happened within the week, making quite a chapter of happenings.

The death of Mr. Benson has already been reported in these columns. Wm. White's boy was run over by a bicycle and crippled, which caused him to be confined to his bed. Mrs. Jennie Adleman was out riding when she met two men on bicycles, which scared her horse which jumped, throwing her from her buggy but not seriously injuring her.

LATER:—The cause of Mr. White's accident as has since been ascertained was not a drunken man but the breaking of one of his buggy shafts, throwing him and his wife on the fence, and the old gentleman is much worse hurt than was at first supposed. He has a long scalp wound, cutting clear to the bone, one eye is nearly torn out, and his nose and face are horribly mangled.

Case Continued.

The trial of George Manning, who was arrested yesterday evening on complaint of Charles Stevenson for assault, was postponed until seven o'clock this evening.

The Town Booming.

Falls City is the name of the new town at Luckiamute falls, and it is beginning to boom in a good way. The farmers' mercantile association of Independence have started a branch of their general store there. They freighted their goods over yesterday, and will open up on Monday.

He Waived Examination.

Raymond Gribble was arraigned before Justice Chase this morning, on charge of stealing a horse at Aurora on April first. He waived examination and was returned to jail to await the action of the grand jury. His bonds were placed at $500 but he could not raise them.

June Showers.

Yesterday, last night and to-day this valley has been treated to gentle showers and the earth has been well moistened. The rain has done much good, but there is a great deal of hay cut throughout the country and if the rain does not stop soon the hay season will be short. A little wheat is breaking down and it will be hard to cut.

Mistaken Identity.

A remarkable case of mistaken identity has come to light in Raleigh North Carolina, and will form a topic of conversation for people in England and Ireland as well as in this country.

Thirteen years ago, in Raleigh, Scott Partin murdered his wife and child and succeeded in evading arrest. Recently a man bearing a striking resemblance to Partin made his appearance in Raleigh, and was promptly arrested for the crime. The authorities did not doubt for a moment that they had the right man, for not only was he very much like Partin in appearance, but he had body marks similar to which Partin had, and as in the case of the latter, one of his fingers had been cut off.

Matters looked very gloomy for the prisoner. He wrote to his sister in England, telling of his arrest, and evidence is said to have been gathered which will show conclusively that he is Robert Porter of South Ireland who came to this country in 1873. A part of the evidence to be offered consists of a letter written by Porter to a relative in Ireland and dated from a town several hundred miles from Raleigh, on the day the murder was committed. English authorities have investigated the matter very thoroughly, and the documents, which have been posted to America will probably cause Porter's release. Cases of mistaken identity are quite numerous, but it is not often that a man comes as near being hanged for the heinous crime of murder as Porter.

Saved by a Dream.

A man by the name of Joe Williams had told a dream to his fellow-soldiers, some of whom related it months previous to the occurrence. He dreamed that he crossed a river, marched over a mountain and camped near a church located in a wood, near which a terrible battle ensued, and in a charge just as he crossed a ravine he was shot in the heart. On the ever-memorable 7th of December, 1861 (battle of Prairie Grove, Northern Arkansas), as we moved at double quick to take our places in the line of battle, then already hotly engaged we passed a church then a small, frame building. I was riding in the flank of the command, opposite to Williams, and we came in front of the house. "That is the church I saw in my dream," said he. I made no reply, and never thought of it until evening.

We had broken the enemies' lines and were in full pursuit, when we came to a dry ravine in the wood, and Williams said: "Just on the other side of this ravine I was shot in my dream, and I'll stick my hat under my shirt." Suiting the action to the word, he doubled up his hat as he ran along and crammed it in his bosom. Scarcely had he adjusted it when a minnie ball knocked him out of line. Jumping up quickly, he pulled out his hat, waved it over his head, shouting: "I'm all right." The ball raised a black spot about the size of a man's hand just over the heart and dropped into his boot.

An Old Select.

The Sunday Mercury is in possession of a copy of the "Western Star," of the date of November 28, 1850. It was published at the city of Milwaukee, then a rival of the village of Portland. Lot Whitcomb was the publisher, and J. O. Waterman and W. D. Carter were the printers. The printers are still living, and in a moderate state of preservation. Where the publisher is it cannot be stated at this writing, but he is supposed to be building a steamboat somewhere on this terrestrial hemisphere. The subscription price for the Star was $7 per annum, or $4 for six months, a little better than the present rate of subscription.
