Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has given to this medicine a popularity and sale greater than that of any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier before the public. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum and all Humors, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, overcomes that Tired Feeling, creates an Appetite, strengthens the Nerves, builds up the Whole System. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

Queen Victoria Can Smile. One of the American girls who was presented at the queen's drawing room, was so embarrassed that she made quite a faux pas. She wholly ignored the queen until after she had saluted the Princess of Wales, when she suddenly turned around and astonished her majesty by saying, "Oh, I beg your pardon, madam," grabbed her royal hand, kissed it, and then hurried along the line. The queen, who is a great stickler about matters of etiquette, at first looked angry; then catching sight of the amused smile of the Princess of Wales, she burst into a pleasant laugh and sent the discomfited debutante away with a few kindly words.--Philadelphia Record.

Uncle Johnny Hanks. ST. LOUIS, July 2.—"Uncle Johnny" Hanks died in Illinois, near St. Louis, in his 88th year. He was a cousin of Abraham Lincoln and a warm and confidential friend of that statesman. When Lincoln became President he summoned "Uncle Johnny" to Washington and offered him a federal office, but it was declined. No man, probably, knew Lincoln so intimately and confidentially as Mr. Hanks. The deceased was a member of Gen. Grant's old regiment.

Dead and Dying. ASTORIA, July 2.—Mrs. Susan Wirt and Miss Lizzie Wirt went riding in a buckboard on the seashore yesterday afternoon. Toward sundown the horses came dashing home, drawing the empty buckboard. Search was made for the ladies and they were found on the beach, one sitting and the other lying on the sand, almost submerged by the tide, and both unconscious. They were conveyed home. Mrs. Lizzie Wirt died this morning, unconscious to the last. The old lady is unable to give a coherent account of the accident and is still in danger of dying. It is supposed that the horses ran away and threw them out.

Albany Points. ALBANY, July 3.—Albany is assuming a holiday attire for the Fourth of July celebration to-morrow. First street is handsomely decorated from one end to the other, some of the business houses being adorned in a beautiful manner. Every effort has been put forth to accommodate the great throng there will be here.

The Dallas Railway Scheme. J. J. Daly, M. M. Ellis and N. G. Yocum of Dallas were in Salem yesterday and met with the members of the Salem railway committee last night. The scheme of building a line of narrow gauge railway from Salem to Dallas and the Falls was more fully discussed and the impression prevails that property owners along the projected line are favorable to the enterprise. The prime movers of the line in Dallas and on the Lucklamare are in earnest and are bound to have an outlet to Salem. Salem, on the other hand, stands ready and only too willing to assist them. J. H. Albert of Salem and M. M. Ellis of Dallas were appointed a committee to prepare articles of incorporation, appoint sub-committees, and attend to the details of the organization of the company. They will confer soon and another meeting will be called in a few days.

Haverly's Strategists. To-night Lauri & Bell's company will produce at Reed's opera house Haverly's world-famed comedy, "Our Strategists," which they have played throughout America and at the Opera Comique, London, for eight weeks, receiving the encomiums of the American and European press and public as the best laughing medium in the world. This company will celebrate the 1500 performance of their Strategists in Portland on Thursday, July 12th, which they will make a grand souvenir night, presenting each lady with a beautiful lace fan. A most wonderful coincidence, the souvenir is the birthday of Miss Nash, making an occurrence that never before happened in the annals of the stage. Go see the Strategists, as this is its only performance, as they produce to-morrow night, "Katti, the Family Help," for the first time here.

Go East for His Family. Joseph Gohn, who arrived in Salem several months ago from Johnstown, Pa., started on the return trip to-day after his family. This gentleman came out by Mr. Strayer's excursion and has decided upon a permanent location here. His native city was the scene of the recent great flood disaster, but as fortune would have it his family are among the saved. He has letters telling him that many of his Pennsylvania neighbors think of returning to Oregon, the land of promise, with him.

The Canadian Thistle. A gentleman of this city who has been riding through the country a good deal this season reports that he has seen a few acres of the Canadian thistle, known all over the world as the meanest thistle that grows. If these are not killed before the seeds ripen this country will be taken with them. The right step toward killing them out should be taken immediately, for, if they once get a good start, they are the greatest pest known.

Mr. White Some Better. Mr. White, one of the victims of the Turner runaway accident of a few days ago, was reported as being a trifle better last evening. His recovery, however, continues to be a matter of serious doubt.

The Fruit Season. Fruit is ripening rapidly now. A few apples and peaches are now ripe and the fruit yield will be immense this season.

A Chance to Advertise. The Press Association of Nebraska's will soon arrive in Oregon on an excursion "out West." They should be invited to pay a visit to Salem. They should not be permitted to go to Rome, and fall of seeing the Pope. That is what a tour to Oregon without out seeing the capital city amounts to.

LOCAL SUMMARY. The Strategists. That is the funniest of funny plays. At the opera house to-night. The latest among the daily papers of Oregon is the East Portland Vindicator, for which the CAPITAL JOURNAL predicts a brilliant future. To-morrow is the great national day for fires, accidents by toy pistols, premature explosions of rockets, etc. Salem should be careful about fire and be in readiness to fight it.

Additional Local News. Those R. R. Commissioners. There was nothing for the board of railroad commissioners to do but to transact the routine business and look after the correspondence. The legislative board is the only one receiving recognition now, since the supreme court has sustained the opinion rendered by Judge Boise. Governor Pennoyer, however, is not satisfied with the turn matters have taken and studiously refuses to approve the bonds of the commissioners constituting the board. At this they of course feel indignant and have under consideration the commencement of a new action to have themselves declared the rightful commission. Governor Pennoyer has declined upon making the action a personal matter, defraying all the expenses of the prosecution or defense of a suit from private funds. In the language of the immortal Mikado the governor and each individual member of the board sings, "I'm right, and you're right." How this matter will terminate is not to be conjectured.

Uncle Johnny Hanks. ST. LOUIS, July 2.—"Uncle Johnny" Hanks died in Illinois, near St. Louis, in his 88th year. He was a cousin of Abraham Lincoln and a warm and confidential friend of that statesman. When Lincoln became President he summoned "Uncle Johnny" to Washington and offered him a federal office, but it was declined.
