She Has Been in Salem.

JULY 8, 1889

Chief of Police Chesney of Tacoma, says the News, has received several inquiries about Mrs. Allen, the redhaired woman, who was indicted by the grand jury for burglary and grand larceny and who is now in custody at the county jail. These inquiries would lend one to think that Mrs. Allen or another woman, the exact counterpart of her, has been conducting herself in all of the principal cities of the Pacific coast as she has been doing in Tacoma. One letter was from William Van Carron, the proprietor of the Riverside hotel at East Portland, Mr. Van Carron stated that last May a and that soon after she departed it ing by the neck to a rafter. For find's sake, Pa is hangrooms. As his description exactly ling!" resembles Mrs. Allen, Chief Chesney wrote him that she was undoubtedly the woman who visited him last May. Another letter was from J. H. Ross, the chief of police at Salem. Oregon. He asked Chief Chesney not be revived. if an enameled watch with a gold No such watch or chain was found, but her trunk did contain a charm letter to this effect.
