A Cheap Marriage. While a justice of the peace of a country town sat warning his feet by the stove and his nose by a pipe, a stranger entered and presently inquired:

"Judge, how much will you charge me to read over about fifteen lines of printed matter from a book I have?"

"Why can't you read them?" asked his honor.

"I can, but I want to hear how they sound when read aloud. I'll give you a quarter to read them to me."

"All right," said the justice, "I can't earn twenty-five cents any quicker."

A woman opened the door at that moment and the stranger put down the book on the desk, clasped her hands and said:

"Begin at the pencil mark there and read slowly."

His honor's chin dropped exactly eighteen inches, by dry measure, as he saw that the reading matter was the usual form of marriage, but he did not back down from his word. It was the cheapest marriage he had ever attended, and he didn't half enjoy the chuckles of the bride and groom as they went out.

HE FOLLOWED SUIT.

My wife has been under physicians care for two years, for what they called "liver complaint." She would get some relief while taking prescriptions, but would soon fall back into the same drowsy, inactive state.

I got her a bottle of "The California Remedy," Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. It did her immediate good, and when three bottles had been taken she regained her old accustomed health and spirits and is now as well as ever.

Seeing the benefit she derived, I used it for rheumatism with the result that I am now entirely free from the disease with which I had suffered for over a year.

YOUTH'S UNWISDOM. Mamma (trying to castor oil her six-year-old)—Here, Bobby, swallow this nice syrup, like a dear.

Bobby—Der yer take me for a layseed? I'm ont'er yer curves, I am. But gimme a'pence an' I'll swallow spoon an' all.

Bobby gets the requisite "a'pence" and takes the accompanying dose.

Papa (gloomily) That boy will never amount to anything.

Mamma (enthusiastically)—Oh, I think it was real cute of him!

Papa—No, it wasn't. He ought to have refused the medicine after he got the nickel.—To-DAY.

It should be generally known that Dr. Henley's Dandelion Tonic induces a hearty appetite and increased digestion, dispels nervous depression and low spirits, overcomes lack of energy and wakefulness and will infuse new life and strength into the weakest invalid. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

"Where did you buy your new dress, Bridget?" asked a lady in suburban Roxbury the other day of her newly imported Irish domestic.

"At Push & Pull's store on Washington street, it was, ma'am," replied the girl.

"Push & Pull's?" queried the mistress. "I really do not recall any such firm in Boston. Are you not mistaken as to the name?"

"I think not, ma'am," said Bridget, confidently. "At any rate that's what it said on the door."

This is the season of the year when the raw, cold winds create sad havoc with the hands and complexion. Soft white hands and a clear "peachy" complexion can be assuredly preserved by the frequent application of Dutard's Specific. If rubbed into the skin well it leaves no greasy surface. The skin absorbs it. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

Is Consumption incurable? Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable Consumptive. Begun taking Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, am on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlebert, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Troubles." Try it. Sample bottle free at Daniel J. Fry's drugstore.

For the Public Good. It is an indisputable fact that the hand-some vestibule trains that are now run on the American continent are those on the Burlington route, leaving from Union depot in Denver, about St. Paul, immediately on arrival of all through trains from the west.

The first and second class coaches are magnificent, the reclining chair cars superb, the Pullman sleepers extremely luxuriant, and as for the meals that are served in those palace Burlington dining cars—your year. The next time you go east to Kansas City, Chicago or St. Louis, if you mention to the ticket agent that you want your ticket to read from Denver or St. Paul over the Burlington route, you will get it, and you will always be glad of it.

If you go via the Northern or Canadian Pacific, the elegant vestibule trains of the Burlington route, between St. Paul and Chicago, or St. Louis, will carry you along the eastern shore of the Mississippi river for a distance of 500 miles, amidst scenery that cannot be surpassed. If you go via the Oregon Short Line or Southern Pacific, and your ticket reads via the Burlington route from Cheyenne or Denver, you will pass through all the thriving cities and towns located in what is popularly known as the Heart of the Continent. Customer—I like this painting. It is well worth $15. Clerk—That price includes a nice frame, madam. The frame alone costs $2.

Oregon is one of the most productive states in the Union. Its vast mineral regions contain gold, silver, copper, iron, and coal. Its immense tracts of grazing lands support thousands of cattle and sheep, and its extensive agricultural regions produce all the cereals in abundance, the yield per acre being, in some instances, the largest in the world.

Among the useful and valuable products of the Web Foot State may be mentioned Oregon Kidney Tea, which has proved a boon to thousands afflicted with pain in the back and kidney difficulties. It is purely of vegetable composition and never fails. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull or debilitated, pain or pressure in the head; take cold easily, you may rest assured that you have catarrh. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms terminate in consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive, less understood or more unsuccessfully treated by physicians. The manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have, for many years, offered a standing reward of $500 for a case of Nasal Catarrh, no matter how bad or of how long standing, which they cannot cure. Remedy sold by druggists at 50 cents.

A Fortunate Druggist. Mr. Edwin W. Joy for many years and now a prosperous druggist on the corner of Stockton and Market streets in San Francisco, probably never dreamed of rivaling in wealth the medicinal kings of the country. But various rumors having been floating around to the effect that he has struck it big, an Examiner reporter was detailed to unearth the cause, and after much difficulty unraveled the following story:

It seems that about seven years ago an English physician, a great student of botany, located in this city. His practice was not extensive, and yet the few cases that came to him attracted no little attention. His success seemed to be in the treatment of liver and kidney disorders, and vitiated blood. In fact his ability to cope with these common complaints was marvelous. He seemed almost infallible, and his quiet modest methods and his well-kept secret was as much a mystery as himself. After his departure about a year later Mr. Joy determined to fathom the secret, and copying all the prescriptions he had filled for the erratic doctor he began a systematic analysis. In his examination he discovered running all through the prescriptions for liver and kidney troubles, vitiated blood and stomach disorders a couple of vegetable extracts indigenous to California, so simple and so well known under homely every day names to every school boy as to entirely dissipate the suspicion that they were the active principles involved. So certain, however was Mr. Joy that he had discovered the secret, that he embodied the new elements in a preparation of Sarsaparilla to disguise the taste, and put it before his customers under the modest name of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Immediately the same marvelous stories came back of its astonishing effects, and the mystery was solved, and the pills it has created has already caused it to step into prominence, and orders pour in daily from all over the coast. And there another California industry leaps into existence.—E. F. Examiner.

Wright's Lead Cross Cure is recognized by recent and chronic coughs and croup, and all irritability of the air passages. Sold by all druggists.

It is a Curious Fact

That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, and giving a healthy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.

LITTLE WOMEN

are as a rule, possessed of happy dispositions but when these sweet dispositions, become soured and irritable, in consequence of the long train of distressing features peculiar to female complaints, they are then not companionable to say the least. It is the duty, not only of little women, but of all women so afflicted, to bring about the subjection, and immediate removal, of these painful maladies. This is easily accomplished by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the great specific for "female weakness." It is a positive cure for the most flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," asthenia, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, and kindred ailments. All druggists.

THEIR BUSINESS BOOMING.

Probably no one thing has caused such a great revival of trade at Daniel J. Fry's Drugstore as their giving away to their customers so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

LOST IN THE STORM.

One of our local editors clipped from a leading magazine extracts from a vivid description of a western blizzard which we have taken the liberty to publish and at the same time suggest to H. H. Warner & Co., the proprietors of the celebrated Warner's Safe Cure, the feasibility of taking therefrom an extract for the introduction of one of their telling advertisements. The following is the description:

"At the close of a dark day in January a solitary horseman winds his way across the open prairie in one of our western territories. He passes at long intervals the lone cabin of the hardy frontiersman. Two or three old settlers, of whom he has inquired the way, have warned him that a storm is approaching, and one of them, with true western hospitality, urges him to find shelter in his cabin for the night. But he declines the proffered kindness and urges his tired horse forward. * * * The sky grows suddenly dark. * * * He decides to seek shelter. * * * The storm increases in its fury. * * * The rider dismounts to warm his fast chilling limbs. * * * Can scarcely breathe. Blindness comes on. Drowsiness steals over him. The end is near. * * * He is lost in the blizzard."

There is no doubt that the terror which seizes the bewildered traveler is similar to that which overcomes one when he learns that he is suffering from an advanced Kidney Disease, and is informed that he is in the last stages of Bright's disease. At first he is informed that he has a slight kidney affection. Later he begins to feel tired. Slight headache. Fickle appetite. Failure of the eye-sight. Cramp in the calf of the legs. Wakefulness. Distressing nervousness. Rheumatic and neuralgic pains. Occasionally pain in the back. Scanty, dark colored fluids, with scalding sensation. Gradual failure of strength. Any of the above symptoms signify Kidney Affection, but he is told that he is all right. His physician treats him for symptoms and calls it a disease, when in reality it is but a symptom of Kidney trouble. He may be treated for Rheumatic or Neuralgic pains, heart affection, or any other disease which he is most susceptible to. Finally the patient has puffing under the eyes, slight bloating of the ankles and legs. His physician may inform him that it is but the accumulation of blood in his ankles for want of proper exercise. The blood continues and reaches his body.

Then he is informed he has dropsical troubles, and is tapped once or twice. He notices it is difficult to breathe owing to irregular action of the heart, and finally is informed that he has a slight attack of Bright's Disease. Soon his friends are notified that his is an advanced case of Bright's Disease, and that he can live but a short time. His honorable and dignified physician asks for counsel. It is too late. Still he sticks to the old family physician, and the physician knows and has known from the beginning that the patient has been stricken with death for months, for he knows full well that the profession acknowledge they have no remedies for the cure of Kidney Disease.

At last the patient suffocates—is smothered—and dies from dropsical trouble. Or perhaps the disease may not take the form of a dropsical tendency, and the patient dies from apoplexy, paralysis, pneumonia or heart trouble. Or it may take the form of blood poisoning. In each form the end is the same. And yet he and his friends were warned by the proprietors of the celebrated remedy known as Warner's Safe Cure, of the lurking dangers of a slight Kidney affection.

The newspapers have published the dangers. Columns of facts have been printed of men dying from advanced Kidney Disease or Bright's Disease. His friends and physician look around with horror and regret for seeming neglect, but he is lost. He did not heed the warning that a storm was approaching. He declined the proffered hospitality, and reckless went forward into danger. He struggled manfully for a time, but his strength failed, he grew gradually weaker and he was lost to the world. Not in a blizzard, but from the terrible malady which is almost daily occurring in every community, and which is doctoring as a symptom instead of what it is—a mortal disease unless properly treated.

$100 REWARD. $100. The readers of the JOURNAL will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J.
