A CURIOUS feature of New York life, which is increasing steadily, is the presence of barber shops exclusively for women.

"Every night and every morning she ought to brush it herself," was the reply. "Many of them never brush it thoroughly at all, and as for cleaning it, all they know about that is to scour it once or twice a year with borax or ammonia, as they would their kitchens.

No matter how fine a woman's costume may be she must have physical health if she wishes to be attractive, and for this purpose exercise is necessary.

Among new importations are directorio redingotes of cream-white pilot cloth or camel's hair with crinoline to match.

The rage for flower bonnets and toques is increasing and over in Europe it amounts to a craze. Some of the bonnets are made of foliage alone.

Necklaces in the reign of Charles I. were made of amber set in gold. Pharaoh put a gold chain about Joseph's neck as a mark of his authority in Egypt.

THE estimate of the Railroad Gazette that the total mileage of new road constructed this year will not exceed 3000 will seem small compared with the performance of previous years when as many as ten to twelve thousand miles have been completed.

formidably; the equally important feeders count up very slowly. It is safe to assume that there will be no repetition in the near future of the extraordinary operations which marked the years 1885, 1886, 1887 and 1888, but in a quiet way two or three thousand miles of new track will be added to our system every year, and what is equally important, most of the old roads will be put in better condition and provided with better equipments.

MR. BRUSH, inventor of the electric arc light, fifteen years ago was a reporter in Cleveland at $15 a week, and a franchise on a free lunch route. Now he lives in a $1,000,000 house, and is not as happy as when he wrote items on a furtive diet by a sputtering kerosene lamp.

MRS. CANBY, widow of Captain Jack's victim in the lava beds, died last week in Indianapolis. Her husband was brave and trustful to the point of indiscretion, and paid for it with his life.

ONE of the sad effects of the Pennsylvania disasters is the whimsical naming of innocent children. One is condemned to go through life named May Wreck James and another as Flood Moses Williams.

FASHION NOTES. Killed skirts are still the favorite ones for tennis and yachting suits. The straight undraped empire skirt is in vogue and is seen everywhere.

Floral garnitures for summer dancing toilets are very dainty and stylish. English serge is a good fabric for dresses for ordinary wear. It is both durable and stylish.

For evening dresses Bengaline, Sicilienne, peau de soie, Victoria reps and China and Indian silks are used. Many pretty effects are gained by the use of ribbons, which are used with great profusion on summer dresses.

Orange and black is a favorite combination of colors—especially for killed tennis dresses and lawn costumes. Striped fabrics are in the lead for dresses for out-of-door wear. They are in every variety of color combination.

Cream-white Chantilly lace is very popular for berthas, Marie Antoinette and Charlotte Corday fichus, vests and antique collars. Large La Tosca hats are now decorated with water lilies, English hedge roses, immense carnations and primroses mingled with fern and wood mosses.

Among new importations are directorio redingotes of cream-white pilot cloth or camel's hair with crinoline to match. They are intended for sea-side or coaching use. Neglige corsages on new empire tailor-made gowns represent a shirt waist of corded silk. Below this is a pointed girle trimmed with fine gold braid. Rows of braid are fastened to the front of the loose waist.

The rage for flower bonnets and toques is increasing and over in Europe it amounts to a craze. Some of the bonnets are made of foliage alone. Sometimes pale yellow-green rose leaves overlap each other and form the sole decoration.

Cool transparent white woollens are used by Parisian dress-makers in combination with soft silks which are either figured with delicate buds and sprays of flowers or striped with quaint old-fashioned colors in buff, rose pluk or lilac.

The Necklace. Necklaces in the reign of Charles I. were made of amber set in gold. Pharaoh put a gold chain about Joseph's neck as a mark of his authority in Egypt.

Among the Tartars of Genghis Kahn the necklace was often made of human teeth. The Southern negroes often wear bead necklaces, looking upon them as genuine charms.

In the reign of Henry VIII. any one who had not £200 per year income could not wear a necklace. One of the most valued and coveted possessions of the Western Indian is the necklace of a grizzly bear's claws.

The Puritans abolished necklaces, as they abolished everything they laid their hands on which savored of ornament. Thousands of people place necklaces of coral beads around the neck of babies, with the belief that they will assist the children in teething.

In South America the natives wear necklaces of peculiar marked seed which belongs to a plant growing only on the mountains along the snow line. When the Saxon dynasty was overthrown by the Normans all persons below a certain rank were forbidden to wear necklaces under heavy penalties.

"Now I Lay Me Down To Sleep." (The Wichita Eagle says that the following poem was left at that office by an unknown man who came to ask for work):

Near the camp-fire's flickering light, In my blanket bed I lie, Gazing through the shades of night At the twinkling stars on high.

Sadly sings the whippoorwill In the boughs of yonder tree; Laughingly the dancing rill Swells the midnight melody.

"Mid the stars one face I see, One the Savior called away; Mother, who in infancy Taught my baby lips to pray.

"Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep; If I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take."

"SCRAP." St. Peter (to new arrival at the pearly gate) Do you want to come in? New Yorker—What's the limit? He—I wash my hands of you forever. She—And let me suggest, George, that you also change your cuffs.

Queen Victoria is the richest woman in the British kingdom. She has accumulated a fortune of $20,000,000. No one has yet criticised the President's appointment of Frederick Douglas as minister to Hayti for being off color.

First dude—I have terrible news; Charles is dead. Second dude—Howible! How did he die. First dude—His cane fell on him. Lord Tennesson is to receive $1000 for the poem he is now writing. His first accepted poem brought him the munificent sum of 10 shillings.

A San Francisco paper says that men go in the garden of life and pluck the sweet ripe peach while women must stay back and take the canned goods. The new English gun-boats are all named after birds. If this idea were carried out for all classes of vessels, the Robin would be a good name for a private.

He Kept a Summer Resort. I was tramping along a Jersey highway in search of a farm-house where they took summer boarders, when an old farmer came along in his two-horse wagon and asked me to ride, writes a correspondent of the New York Sun. As soon as he discovered what my errand was he exclaimed:

"Land o' goshen, but you've jist hit the right man! I'll take you in myself. Got one of the resorter's resorts on the hull coast. You shall live on the fat of the land and gain a pound a day."

"What do you ask for board?" "Well, that's aerything. Want much sweet?" "No."

"Care about a carpet on your room?" "No."

"Party good at chopping wood?" "That's my best hold."

"Kin ye milk?" "I can."

"And when night comes you wont object to playing on that guitar and singing?" "No."

"Willing to pay for washing, I suppose?" "Oh! yes."

"And for extra trouble if you git sick?" "Yes. How much will you charge me a week for board?" "Cash in advance."

"Agree to stay all summer?" "Yes."

When the Trouble Began. Police Judge—"Did you see the beginning of this trouble?" Witness—"Yes, sir; I saw the very commencement. It was about two years ago."

Police Judge—"Two years ago?" Witness—"Yes, sir. The minister said: 'Will you take this man to be your lawful husband?' and she said: 'I will.'"—Nebraska State Journal.

Tella woman that she looks fresh and she will smile all over. Tella man the same thing and if he doesn't kick you it is either because he has corns or darsent.

Herr Joachim some time ago became the owner of the baton with which Haydn used to conduct his orchestra. He has since presented it to Herr Richter.

The Age of Modern Man. People are fond of saying that "Mankind is growing wiser and weaker." But is it really so? Let us glance at the facts. According to the latest statistics there are more centenarians now living than at any previous time in the history of the world. Why? Because of the great discoveries in medical science which afford him immunity from diseases that formerly devastated mankind. Greatest of them all is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the best blood-purifier and renovator of the age. Scrofula, fever-sores, tumors, unsightly ulcers and eruptions vanish like magic beneath its beneficent influence.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR. "Who is H. H. Warner, of Rochester, N. Y., whose Safe Remedies, especially Warner's Safe Cure, have attained such success and celebrity at home and abroad?"

The question is inspired as much by affection as curiosity, since through his instrumentality hundreds of thousands, in both hemispheres, have been restored to health and happiness.

Hon. H. H. Warner, then, is a leading and honored resident of Rochester, not only, but a prominent and influential citizen of the United States. On several occasions chosen by his party as a National delegate to nominate a President of the Republic, he has been a member of the Republican State Committee and of its Executive Committee. He is a member of the American Institution for the Advancement of Science; President of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce; a successful and upright business man. He has given away fortunes in charities. The celebrated and costly Warner Observatory of Rochester was conceived, endowed, and is maintained by him. His munificent prizes for the discovery of comets has been at once the wonder and delight of the scientific world.

A GOOD CHANCE

physicians earnestly advise kidney use case, he was miraculously restored to health by what is now known as Warner's Safe Cure. At once he resolved to make known the merits of so potent a remedy, and the consequence is that to-day he has immense laboratories and warehouses in the United States, Canada, England, Germany, Austria, Australia and Burma. Sales of his Safe Remedies are enormous, and their power over disease simply marvelous.

The merit of a production is in exact keeping with the character of its producer. An honest and reliable man himself, Mr. Warner makes honest and reliable medicines—a fact abundantly attested by their phenomenal efficacy and popularity.
