

You're a Daughter—I had the faintest dream last night. Do you know, I dreamed about James, the coachman. Fond Mother—My dear, you will have to discharge James; he is getting entirely too familiar. Imagine his allowing Mamie to dream about him. Such presumption!

Gen. Neal Dow has an invalid daughter who has been confined to her chair for years. She has devoted herself to the study of languages, and is now perfectly conversant with Latin, Greek, German, Spanish, French and Russian.

A LUCKY TRIAL.

The Good Fortune Which Followed.

It affords me great pleasure to send to you this voluntary statement of my experience in testing the merits of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. For the past five years I have been troubled with an exceedingly sluggish liver, including loss of appetite and distress after eating, pains in the back and kidneys, and boils around my neck and face. I tried many liver remedies, only getting temporary relief. I was recommended to try a bottle of "The California Remedy" Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla as a test, and while taking the first bottle I became convinced of its merits, for I could feel it was working a change in me. I took five bottles, and during that time my troubles left me. Everything is working full and regular, in fact it has cleansed, purified and braced me up generally. I feel like another man. You are at liberty to use this as you see fit, or can refer whom you please to Caller—Doctor, Mr. Divine, the muscle reader, fell into a sort of trance a little while ago and we cannot arouse him. Is it catalepsy or death? Doctor (a great scientist)—Bring me his head and I'll soon tell you.

It should be generally known that Dr. Henley's Dandelion Tonic insures a hearty appetite and increased digestion, dispels nervous depression and low spirits, overcomes lack of energy and wakefulness and will infuse new life and strength into the weakest invalid. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

The lady took her time: The following quaint epitaph on husband and wife—the husband having died first—is to be seen in one of the Parisian cemeteries: "I am anxiously awaiting you—A. D. 1827." "Here I am—A. D. 1867."

This is the season of the year when the raw, cold winds create sad havoc with the hands and complexion. Soft white hands and a clear "peachy" complexion can be assuredly preserved by the frequent application of Dutard's Specific. If rubbed into the skin well it leaves no greasy surface. The skin absorbs it. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

Bessie—So this is a sawmill. I wonder what they do with the timber that is full of knot-holes? Jennie—From my own experience, I should say they used it to build bathing-houses.

Oregon is one of the most productive states in the Union. Its vast mineral regions contains gold, silver, copper, iron, and coal. Its immense tracts of grazing lands support thousands of cattle and sheep, and its extensive agricultural regions produce all the cereals in abundance, the yield per acre being, in some instances, the largest in the world. Among the useful and valuable products of the Web Foot State may be mentioned Oregon Kidney Tea, which has proved a boon to thousands afflicted with pain in the back and kidney difficulties. It is purely of vegetable composition and never fails. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

An army officer living at Orchard, Neb., is said to have discovered a plant common to the country which has the property of converting milk into butter—one pound of the former making one pound of the latter.

A mob at Gravity, Io., broke into the jail there the other night and took possession of an Indian who was dragged out of his cell and hung right in the center of Gravity.

For the Public Good.

It is an indisputable fact that the hand-somest vestibule trains that are now run on the American continent are those on the Burlington route, leaving from Union depot in Denver, also St. Paul, immediately on arrival of all through trains from the west. The Oregon Short-Line class consists of magnificent, the receiving chair cars, the Pullman sleepers extremely luxuriant, and as for the meals that are served in those famous Burlington dining cars—yum yum. The next time you go east to Kansas City, Chicago or St. Louis, if you mention to the ticket agent that you want your ticket to read Denver or St. Paul over the Burlington route, you will get it, and you will always be glad of it. If you go via the Northern or Canadian Pacific, the elegant vestibule trains of the Burlington route, between St. Paul and Chicago, or St. Louis, will carry you over the Oregon Short-Line class. The Oregon Short-Line route is a distance of 550 miles, amidst scenery that cannot be surpassed; or, if you go via the Oregon Short-Line class, you will pass through all the thriving cities and towns located in what is popularly known as the Heart of the Continent. For further information apply to A. C. Sheldon, General Agent, St. Paul, Minn., or Portland, Oregon. 4194&vii

LOS IN THE STORM.

One of our local editors clipped from a leading magazine extracts from a vivid description of a western blizzard which we have taken the liberty to publish and at the same time suggest to H. H. Warner & Co., the proprietors of the celebrated Warner's Safe Cure, the feasibility of tabling therefrom an extract for the introduction of one of their telling advertisements. The following is the description: "At the close of a dark day in January a solitary horseman wends his way across the open prairie in one of our western territories. He passes at long intervals the lone cabin of the hardy frontiersman. Two or three old settlers, of whom he has inquired the way, have warned him that a storm is approaching, and one of them, with true western hospitality, urges him to find shelter in his cabin for the night. But he declines the proffered kindness and urges his tired horse forward. The sky grows suddenly dark. The storm increases in its fury. The rider dismounts to warm his fast chattering limbs. Can scarcely breathe. Blindness comes on. Drowsiness steals over him. The end is near. He is lost in the blizzard. There is no doubt that the terror which seizes the bewildered traveler is similar to that which overcomes one when he learns that he is suffering from an advanced Kidney Disease, and is informed that he is in the last stages of Bright's disease. At first he is informed that he has a slight kidney affection. Later he begins to feel tired. Slight headache. Fickle appetite. Failure of the eye-sight. Cramp in the calf of the legs. Wakefulness. Distressing nervousness. Rheumatic and neuralgic pains. Occasional pain in the back. Scanty, dark colored fluids, with scalding sensation. Gradual failure of strength. Any of the above symptoms signify Kidney Affection, but he is told that he is all right. His physician notifies him for symptoms and tells it a disease, when in reality it is but a symptom of Kidney trouble. He may be treated for Rheumatic or Neuralgic pains, heart affection, or any other disease which he is most susceptible to. Finally the patient has puffing under the eyes, slight bloating of the ankles and legs. His physician may inform him that it is but the accumulation of blood in his ankles for want of proper exercise. The bloating continues and reaches his body. Then he is informed he has dropsical troubles, and is tapped once or twice. He notices it is difficult to breathe owing to irregular action of the heart, and finally is informed that he has a slight attack of Bright's Disease. Soon his friends are notified that he is in an advanced case of Bright's Disease, and that he can live but a short time. His honorable and dignified physician asks for counsel. It is too late. Still he sticks to the old family physician, and the physician knows and has known from the beginning that the patient has been stricken with death for months, for he knows full well that the profession acknowledges they have no remedies for the cure of Kidney Disease. At last the patient suffocates—is smothered—and dies from dropsical trouble. Or perhaps the disease may not take the form of a dropsical tendency, and the patient dies from apoplexy, paralysis, pneumonia or heart trouble. Or it may take the form of blood poisoning. In each form the end is the same. And yet he and his friends were warned by the proprietors of the celebrated remedy known as Warner's Safe Cure, of the lurking dangers of a slight Kidney affection. The newspapers have published the dangers. Columns of facts have been printed of men dying from advanced Kidney Disease or Bright's Disease. His friends and physician look around with horror and regret for a remedy, but he is lost. He did not heed the warning that a storm was approaching. He declined the proffered hospitality, and reckless went forward into a danger, but his strength manfully for a time, but his strength faded, he grew gradually weaker and lost to the world. Not in a moment but from the terrible malady most daily occurring in unity, and which is deemed incurable unless prop-

A Fortunate Druggist.

Mr. Edwin W. Joy for many years and now a prosperous druggist on the corner of Stockton and Market streets in San Francisco, probably never dreamed of rivaling in wealth the medical king of the country. But various rumors having been floating around to the effect that he had struck it big, an Examiner reporter was detailed to unearth the cause, and after much difficulty unraveled the following story: It seems that about seven years ago an English physician, a great student of botany, located in this city. His practice was not extensive, and yet the few cases that came to him attracted no little attention. His success seemed to be in the treatment of liver and kidney disorders, and vitiated blood. In fact his ability to cope with these common complaints was marvellous. He seemed almost infallible, and his quiet, modest methods and his well-kept secret was as much a mystery as himself. After his departure about a year later Mr. Joy determined to fathom the secret, and copying all the prescriptions he had filled for the erratic doctor he began a systematic analysis. In his examination he discovered running all through the prescriptions for liver and kidney troubles, vitiated blood and stomach disorders a couple of vegetable extracts indigenous to California, so simple and so well known under homely every day names to every school boy as to entirely dissipate the suspicion that they were modest methods and his well-kept secret was as much a mystery as himself.
