

THE CAPITAL JOURNAL. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1889.

The Editor Was In. "This licking an editor is scaly business," said a Detroitier the other day, as the matter was incidentally called up.

"How was it?" "I was in Peoria, Ill. A paper came out one morning and called me a loafer, and my dander was up in a minute. I went around to find the editor, taking a copy of the paper along. He was very courteous and even when I said I had come to lick him he didn't lose his smile."

"Anything wrong?" he asked. "Your paper calls me a loafer." "Ah! does it? Let's see. This is not my paper, but the Eagle, published two blocks further down. My paper is the Argus."

"And this is not the Eagle office?" "Oh, no."

"Well, I went down to the other office, and I was going up stairs I met a man tumbling down."

"What's up?" I asked. "Been up to lick the editor," he replied.

"And was he in?" "He was—a waste ton of him."

"What's your complaint?" "His paper called me a loafer. My name's John."

"And I wasn't the person meant at all, you see, and when I afterwards called upon the Bugle man I found him to be an ex-heavy weight pugilist who could have knocked the life out of me with a punch."

It should be generally known that Dr. Henley's Dandelion Tonic injures a hearty appetite and increased digestion, dispels nervous depression and low spirits, overcomes lack of energy and wakefulness and will infuse new life and strength into the weakest invalid. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

Mrs. Sykes—Yes; Bill is a most devoted and loving husband, dear. He only beats me when he is bilious or his horns hurt him.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box.

For sale by Daniel J. Fry, druggist.

Frank in Time of Danger. They were seated very close to the water side, and he was greatly toying with her hair and speaking in that low tone which only comes after nightfall and before bedtime.

"My dear," he whispered, "is this all your own hair?" Shyly she returned: "Yes, George, of course."

Just then a splash was heard, and she fell into the water.

"Look out, George!" she screamed in frenzied tones as he seized her desperately by the hair. "Look out for my hair, much of it is coming loose."

This is the season of the year when the raw, cold winds create and have with the hands and complexion. Soft white hands and a clear "peachy" complexion can be assuredly preserved by the frequent application of Dutard's Specific. It rubs into the skin well it leaves no greasy surface. The skin absorbs it. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

Hernee Walker of Marlborough, Mass., has experienced many disappointments. He tried Paris-green, but took too much; jumped out of a second-story window, but failed to land with fatal effect. The next time he put a bullet in his brain, and much to the surprise of the medical fraternity, he lived. His last suicidal act was to cut his throat from ear to ear, but he failed to sever the jugular vein and is still alive.

Oregon is one of the most productive states in the Union. Its vast mineral regions contain gold, silver, copper, iron, and coal. Its immense tracts of grazing lands support thousands of cattle and sheep, and its extensive agricultural regions produce all the cereals in abundance, the yield per acre being, in some instances, the largest in the world. Among the useful and valuable products of the Web Foot State may be mentioned Oregon Kidney Tea, which has proved a boon to thousands afflicted with pain in the back and kidney difficulties. It is purely of vegetable composition and never fails. Sold by D. W. Matthews.

THE HOUSEHOLD SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT. DR. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR. A FAMILIAR BATTLE-GROUND.

On the banks of the Tippecanoe, a small stream which enters the Wabash River in Indiana, was fought the terrific battle of Tippecanoe.

In this great struggle of frontier times, the allied western Indians under the chieftainship of Elskawatawa, the "Prophet" were defeated in November, 1811, by the Americans under the command of Gen. Wm. H. Harrison.

It was a desperate, hard-fought battle, and much depended upon the result.

Had the Indians been successful, all barriers of defence for the early settlers would have been overthrown and the early townships would have been active in the rapid extermination of the remaining pioneers. On the other hand the fortunate termination of the contest put an end to further attempts at open warfare by the Indians. The rich territory, so long overrun by hostile savages, was thrown open for settlement, which rapidly occurred as soon as the news of the great victory became widespread.

Naturally great praise was rendered to the success and intrepid bravery of Gen. Harrison and he was honored in many ways. He afterwards served as Commander of the Army of the Northwest, and when Indiana was admitted to statehood, he was selected to represent the State in the United States Senate. In 1840 he was elected President and his unfortunate demise occurred shortly after being inaugurated.

The forty-second anniversary of the Battle of Tippecanoe found the gallant grand-son of "Old Tip" leading his forces to a great political victory which resulted in the election of Gen. Ben. Harrison as President of the United States.

The Harrisons have been a hardy race of men, sprung from old log cabin stock, which is a sufficient guarantee of its genuineness wherever found. Realizing the truth of this, great effort has been made to rediscover some of the secrets contained in the old log cabin stock of useful articles, and as the result, the famous Old Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, universally regarded as the best Spring tonic and blood cleanser has been found. Not satisfied with the worldwide esteem which is held for Warner's Safe Cure, the only cure for kidney diseases, the proprietor is willing to do all that is possible to establish Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla as foremost among household articles on account of its purity and effectiveness.

After all, each individual has, at all times, the great battle of life or death to fight, and for security attention must necessarily be given to the best weapons which science can offer humanity in the great contest.

If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eye watering or weak, feel dull or debilitated, pain or pressure in the head, take cold easily, you may rest assured that you have a lurking, thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms terminate in consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive, less understood or more insidious than this. Dr. J. C. Warner's Sarsaparilla, for many years, offered a standing reward of $1000 for the discovery of a better, more reliable, low cost or of low long standing, which they cannot cure. Remedy sold by druggists at 50 cents.

LITTLE WOMEN are as a rule, possessed of happy dispositions but when these sweet dispositions become soured and irritable, in consequence of the long train of distressing features peculiar to female complaints, they are then not companionable to say the least. It is the duty, not only of little women, but of all women so afflicted, to bring about the subjection, and immediate removal, of these painful maladies. This is easily accomplished by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the great specific for "female weakness." It is a positive cure for the most flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions or prolapsus or falling of the womb, weak back, "female nervousness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, and kindred ailments. All druggists.

THEIR BUSINESS BOOMING. Probably no one thing has caused such a great revival of trade at Daniel J. Fry's Drugstore as their giving away to their customers so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

It was a desperate, hard-fought battle, and much depended upon the result.

Had the Indians been successful, all barriers of defence for the early settlers would have been overthrown and the early townships would have been active in the rapid extermination of the remaining pioneers. On the other hand the fortunate termination of the contest put an end to further attempts at open warfare by the Indians. The rich territory, so long overrun by hostile savages, was thrown open for settlement, which rapidly occurred as soon as the news of the great victory became widespread.

Naturally great praise was rendered to the success and intrepid bravery of Gen. Harrison and he was honored in many ways. He afterwards served as Commander of the Army of the Northwest, and when Indiana was admitted to statehood, he was selected to represent the State in the United States Senate. In 1840 he was elected President and his unfortunate demise occurred shortly after being inaugurated.

The forty-second anniversary of the Battle of Tippecanoe found the gallant grand-son of "Old Tip" leading his forces to a great political victory which resulted in the election of Gen. Ben. Harrison as President of the United States.

The Harrisons have been a hardy race of men, sprung from old log cabin stock, which is a sufficient guarantee of its genuineness wherever found. Realizing the truth of this, great effort has been made to rediscover some of the secrets contained in the old log cabin stock of useful articles, and as the result, the famous Old Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, universally regarded as the best Spring tonic and blood cleanser has been found. Not satisfied with the worldwide esteem which is held for Warner's Safe Cure, the only cure for kidney diseases, the proprietor is willing to do all that is possible to establish Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla as foremost among household articles on account of its purity and effectiveness.

After all, each individual has, at all times, the great battle of life or death to fight, and for security attention must necessarily be given to the best weapons which science can offer humanity in the great contest.

If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eye watering or weak, feel dull or debilitated, pain or pressure in the head, take cold easily, you may rest assured that you have a lurking, thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms terminate in consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive, less understood or more insidious than this. Dr. J. C. Warner's Sarsaparilla, for many years, offered a standing reward of $1000 for the discovery of a better, more reliable, low cost or of low long standing, which they cannot cure. Remedy sold by druggists at 50 cents.

VIVID WRITING.

A little descriptive piece entitled "Over the Guns," from the Detroit Free Press, of which we give a paragraph, reminds us that great adventurers, like H. H. Warner & Co., proprietors of Warner's celebrated Safe Cure, might get a hint from it.

Here is the paragraph: "Shoot to the right or left, over the guns or under them. Strike where you will, but strike to destroy. Now the hell surges down, even to the windows of the old farm-house—now back under the apple trees and beyond them. Dead men are under the ponderous wheels of the guns, mad devils are slashing and shooting across the barrels. No one seems to know friend from foe. Shoot, slash, kill and—

"But the hell is dissolved. The smoke is lifting, shrieks and screams grow fainter, and twenty or thirty living men pull the dead bodies away from the guns. Three hundred dead and wounded on the single acre. They tell of war and glory. Look over this hell's acre and find the latter." And in just as deadly a strife, though noiseless, are men falling at our right and left to-day. Is it war? Yes, war of the blood. Blood loaded with poison through imperfect kidney action. And is there no
