dulgence of his readers. The truth is we are having a fearful time at these headquarters. Editor sick, young man printer gone and female devil absent on short furlough. So you see how it is, and "if you've got any tears to shed, shed them now." Every great newspaper represents an intellectual, a moral and a matterial growth; the accretion of successful efforts from year to year until it has become an institution and a power; it is the voice of the power that ten, twenty or thirty years of honest dealing with the public, and just discussion of current questions have given.—W. Reid.

A MYSTERY AT TACOMA.

F. Eugene Clark, Formerly of Salem, the Principal Actor.
TACOMA, Sept. 8.—About eight o'clock this morning Mr. Stewart of the Stewart & Holmes drug company, on coming to the store found his shipping clerk, F. Eugene Clark, looking very strange, and at once accused him of being intoxicated.
Clark denied the charge but handed over the keys on Mr. Stewart's demand. He had hardly done this before he fell over backwards insensible. Mr. Stewart had him at once carried up stairs into the office of Dr. T. F. Smith, where it was found he was suffering from poison. A search of the store revealed the fact that a bottle of atropia had been emptied a few minutes previously.
As soon as Clark had been taken into the doctor's office Mr. Stewart crossed the hall into the room occupied by Clark, where a shocking sight met his view. A woman, about thirty years of age, was lying dead on the bed with her mouth open and the back of her head shot off.

The coroner was notified and opened an inquest at which the evidence was given to show that the woman, who was a notorious street walker named Florence Cross, known both in Seattle and Tacoma, had been drinking with a Northern Pacific yardman last night and that she took him to Clark's room stating that it was her own.

About 12:30 Clark was taken in a very intoxicated condition to his room by the son of a prominent politician, who had found him almost helplessly drunk in the store, and had locked up the place. When the door was opened this man saw some one else in the room, and left Clark, supposing him all right.

The yardman, whose name is Thos. R. Weems, stated that after Clark came to the room he ordered him out stating he had been there long enough and drew a revolver on him. Weems left and went home and on reaching his room began to think that he had been bluffed, and returned to the room. Some one opened the door and again presented the pistol, when Weems said, "Oh, you wouldn't shoot anyone," and the woman made some remark, when the man turned round and said, "Wouldn't I?" at the same time putting the pistol to the cheek of the woman and firing.

His evidence is not believed, as the doctor thinks the woman must have committed suicide, from the fact that the revolver barrel must have been inserted nearly to the end of her mouth, as there are no powder burns on the face or the front of the mouth, and he failed to identify Clark.

Clark was last from St. Paul, where he was employed by the Ryan drug company and prior to that was employed in Portland by Wisdom & Co., Hodge, Davis & Co., and Geo.
H. Holbrook & Co.

Clark is well known in Salem.
He worked from February to July in 1885 for J. J. Briggs & Co., as drug clerk. He was considered a very good clerk, and except when intoxicated, which happened once or twice a year, he was very steady and reliable. The case has caused considerable comment wherever it has been made known.

PARDON CAME AT LAST.

An Innocent Woman Confined in Prison Thirteen Years.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 7.—A case which in many respects resembles that of Mrs. Maybrick was ended to-day by the full and unconditional pardon of Mrs. Henrietta Cook, of Osborne county, Kas., by Governor Humphrey of that state, after she had been confined in the state penitentiary for over thirteen years with the death sentence constantly hanging over her.

The woman had married in Illinois in 1866, before their marriage she and her husband did not live happily together. One day the husband was taken very ill in a field and was carried home and nursed by his wife until she was worn out, when she was taken to a neighbor's to rest.

While she was absent her husband died, and she had shortly before obtained strychnine from a neighbor, the dead man's stomach was examined; and, after a jury trial, the woman was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary until the governor should order her execution.

Three years ago two hunters appeared before the State board of Pardons and swore that Cook, who had been with them on a hunting trip, had used strychnine for heart troubles. This bore out Mrs. Cook's statement, and the board investigated further and found the woman had suffered wrongfully. They recommended her pardon to Governor Martin, but he refused to pardon her. Governor Humphrey, however, did so to-day.

Crushed by the Cars.

TACOMA, W. T., September 8.—As the eastbound overland train was passing over the drawbridge in front of the city this morning, an unknown man, supposed to be a Norwegian, jumped from the train and fell under the cars. The right cheek and ear was cut off, the skull on the same side very badly crushed.
His right arm was cut off at the shoulder and his right leg was broken above the knee. He had $46 in his pockets and a handsome watch and chain. It appears that he got on the train under the idea it was going to Seattle and discovering his mistake, attempted to get off while passing over the trestle.

Postoffices Established.

WASHINGTON, September 8.—New postoffices have been established at Sycamore, Multnomah county, Or., with Mary Kesterson as postmistress; at Porter, Chehalis county, W. T., with Charles P. Boyer as postmaster.

FALL CITY NOTES.

Monday, September 9, 1889.
Mr. Youm secretary of the Development company of this place, is in San Francisco, looking after manufacturing interests to be located here.

A surveying party will begin the survey for the Salem & Falls City Rail Road via Monmouth, to-morrow it is without doubt, a wise move and a good investment.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollowell are both quite ill from overwork in the hotel, but the doctor informs us this evening that both are improving. Also the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Sawtell.

The Misses Coriella and Victoria Barzee, with their brother Ellsworth who has charge of the F. S. D. company's store here, spent a pleasant hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Bond, in social sing.

Mr. N. H. Butler, druggist at Monmouth, was buried to-day in the family burying ground, near that place. He was fifty-three years old, unmarried, and was sick only a short time. His trouble being neuralgia of the heart.

While driving through this beautiful valley this morning, we noticed hop-pickers busily engaged, although it is Sunday. Such is the anxiety of the owners, that they do not want to risk a day's lay off until their yards are clean.

Mr. George Montgomery, one of the proprietors of the South Side mill, died last night of typhoid fever. We feel his loss very much, for he was an honest and enterprising gentleman, lately from the East.
He leaves a wife and five small children, father, brother and two uncles here, to mourn his loss. The deceased was thirty-four years old.

A Literary Note.

A new western publication of high class is the "Young Californian" of San Francisco, the first number of which will be issued on Sept. 15. The Young Californian, as its name indicates, will be devoted to the young. Each number will contain complete stories, by celebrated authors, installments of continued stories, poetry, sketches, and a vast amount of intensely interesting reading for both young and old.
This publication will be printed on fine book paper and will be hand-somerly illustrated. Its place will be in the home and in the schools. Its character will be educational. There is nothing to which to compare it as it is something entirely new, though on the same high plane as the "Youths' Companion." Address the "Young Californian," San Francisco, Cal., for sample copies. Splendid inducements to agents and canvassers and elegant premiums to subscribers. It is only $1.50 per year.

The candidate for lieutenant governor of the new state of Washington is Charles E. Langton, of Okanoan county, and not C. E.
Langton, as heretofore stated.
