

THE CAPITAL JOURNAL.

PUBLISHED DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

BY THE

Capital Journal Publishing Company.
(Incorporated.)Entered at the postoffice at Salem, Or., as second-class matter.

JACOB I. MITCHELL, Manager.

See fourth page for terms of subscription.Advertisements to insure insertion (for the same day) should be handed in by 1 o'clock.Correspondence containing news of interest and importance is desired from all parts of the state.No attention will be paid to anonymous communications.Persons desiring the CAPITAL JOURNAL served at their homes can secure it by postal card request, or by word left at this office.Specimen numbers sent free on application.

Office, corner Court and Liberty Streets.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1909

A SAN FRANCISCO paper has kept a record of American newspaper editorial upon the killing of Judge Terry by Marshal Neagle, and but three in all the United States have doubted that it was a justifiable act.

The Chilean congress has offered a prize of $1,000 for the best flouring mill apparatus. The prize will be awarded next November. Manufacturers who desire to compete should address the Chilean legation, Washington, D. C.

AGAIN has the ubiquitous Tascott been captured, this time in Buffalo. It is astonishing how this most notorious of recent criminals cannot keep out of the hands of the police, and it is equally astonishing how the suspect always proves to be a fellow who never lived in Chicago.

THERE are 270,000 voters in the city of New York, of whom only 14,000 pay taxes on property in which they live. Of the others, 140,000 live in rented property, while 20,000 sleep in bar rooms, chairs, lumber yards, hallways, under wharves and similar places. One point in favor of holding the world's fair in 1892 in Chicago.

EDISON has been lionized at Berlin, we are told. It would certainly take an unusually courageous lion to match Edison's nerve. He took his photograph to a reception and reeled off the Boulanger March. To perpetrate the Boulanger March anywhere at this stage of the world's history would be reckless enough, but to do it at Berlin! Signor Conte Edison has evidently become a stranger to fear since his elevation to the nobility.

A SANTA BARBARA cigarette fiend became so nearly crazy in consequence that he thought he was in some sort of great danger and fled to Portland, and then into the country, where he was taken in by a farmer, and after a month or so of abstinence from the poisonous nuisance, he recovered his senses. Societies everywhere ought to make unrelenting war on the dangerous and detestable cigarette.

THE rapidity with which land is being entered by immigrants from other sections has caused the scales to drop from the eyes of many old residents of Oregon, and come to the conclusion that they are getting left. Among the recent locators can be found a few who have lived many years in the vicinity of desirable land that up to a few months ago had remained vacant. Now the old-timers are getting in—a little late.

GENERAL FRANKLIN, the American Commissioner at the Paris Exhibition, declares that the United States will come out much better than any foreign country in the matter of warps. This is comforting, if unexpected. It seems to be as hard to get at the exact truth in the matter of the American display as in that of the condition of the national Treasury. According to the weight of evidence heretofore presented our show is a failure. Perhaps, however, it is a failure merely in comparison with what we ought to have done. But however that may be, we must have a fair of our own in 1892 that nobody can help calling a success.

AN ASYLUM HORROR.

The United States will not be a civilized nation as long as such scenes occur as are said to be witnessed at the insane asylum at Rochester, Minn. The saddest phase of the affair is that this is not a private sanitarium, but the state insane hospital of Minnesota. Weak girls and women have been thrown to the floor and stamped upon and pounded with brutal fists. They have been shut up in a cell naked, with no bedding, and food refused to them till they were almost famished. Such atrocious brutality seems incredible. The insane require in their treatment the utmost patience and kindness that human nature is capable of. They often-times, it is true, seem so perverse and ugly that it is hard to realize that they are at no time responsible. But only those who can constantly realize this and act on it as fit to be trusted with the care of the insane.

THE "PAPER CITY."

The daily product of paper of Holyoke, Mass., is closely estimated at the enormous amount of 177 tons. In this manufacture more than $5,000,000 in capital is employed, and between 4,000 and 5,000 hands are employed, whose monthly wages aggregate upward of $200,000. A large part of the product is fine writing and book paper, but there is a great production of bond and ledger paper, Bristol board and glazed chromo and envelope papers, and manila paper by the chemical process. While the most of the product finds a market in the United States, it makes its way also to Europe, South America and Australia, and there are good judges who confidently expect that in the near future Holyoke will be not only the greatest manufacturing, but also the greatest paper-exporting city in the world. There was a time when the first stationery sold in the United States came from Aberdeen, Scotland, but it was years ago. Holyoke came into the field and made a grade of such unequalled excellence that the foreigners ceased to be competitors in either quality or price.

JAMES ANDERSON, agent of the Massachusetts Humane Society for five counties of that state, reports that during his six years' of service in that capacity he has never found a married man abuse a horse. While it might be unfair to accept this showing as conclusive proof of the influence of the refining influence of woman, yet taken in connection with the fact that he has found but one woman abusing a horse in that period, he submits the inference as an obvious one. The records of wife-beating in most of our large cities, deal a somewhat staggering blow to this inference, and may move old bachelors thus arraigned to suggest that the married man, having an object at hand easier to subdue, does not find it necessary to beat his horse when he wants to subdue his feelings.—Ex.

The Stories Grow.

Stories of the winnings of men at faro and baccarat at the gambling houses of Saratoga and Long Branch are very much exaggerated by the time they get to New York. Not long since it happened that the writer was in Daly's place at Long Branch when a man who bears a well-known name among the 400 of New York came in and laid a twenty-dollar bill on the table. He won, pulled up a chair and played half an hour, and quit the game a little over $1,400 ahead. This amount he counted carefully while at supper with the writer of this paragraph. As the father of the player is of considerable prominence in New York, he was careful to say nothing about the incident; but the following morning local papers in Long Branch announced that he had won $6000 the night before. This amount jumped to the extraordinary figure of $18,000 in the Society Weekly, which was issued last Thursday, and by the time it gets back from a series of peripatetic journeys through the Western press it will in all likelihood reach six figures. And the amiable young son of a New York millionaire will be quoted as one of the most daring and hazardous gambling sharps in the country. In point of fact, he is an estimable young man, and he has not played faro more than half a dozen times in his life.—New York Sun.

Wagner's only son, Siegfried, now grown, is studying to be an engineer. He looks like his father, but shows no marked musical talent.

John Bright's memoirs can't be published, says his son, John Albert, because "it will be inconvenient to the queen and Mr. Gladstone."

The children of Mrs. Maybrick have been adopted by a lady and gentleman of London, with the approval of the relatives of both sides of the family.

The king of Spain took his first sea bath at San Sebastian three weeks ago. His eldest sister, the Princess of the Asturias, aged nine, carried him in.

TOOK THE WRONG MEDICINE.

Robert Stewart, of Petaluma, recently had a queer experience. He writes: "Carbuncles and boils afflicted my face and neck for weeks. Finally I procured a bottle of one of the leading Sarsaparillas. To my surprise it made matters worse. This made me lose faith in Sarsaparillas, but seeing a statement that Joe's Vegetable Sarsaparilla dried up boils and face eruptions instead of forcing more out, as the potash sarsaparillas do, I bought a bottle. The effect was astonishing. The carbuncles and boils began to dry up, and in two weeks my face was as well and smooth as ever. My brother also took a bottle with the same benefit. ROBERT STEWART, Petaluma, Cal."

[Explanatory Note.—The mineral, Iodine of Potash, which is the basis of nearly all other Sarsaparillas, attacks the blood directly, hence forces impurities through the skin, creating carbuncles and boils. Joe's Vegetable Sarsaparilla acts indirectly, its vegetable alkalies stimulate the various secretory organs and thus eliminate all impurities through the natural channels, leaving the skin smooth and clear. The above testimonial is a case in point.]

BIG BUTTERFLY WHALE.

Reminiscences of a Giant Strong Man of the Sierras.

His Great Feats of Strength—Capturing a Cub and Dispatching a Ferocious She Bear—Death His Only Conqueror.

Asberry Willis, says the Fresno (Cal.) Examiner, has been dead a dozen years, but his phenomenal strength, coupled with his daring exploits in the Sierras, are fresh in the minds of pioneers. Asberry was born in Mariposa County, and at the age of seventeen years stood six feet and four inches high in his stocking feet, and was at once entitled to and received the sobriquet of the "Butterfly Whale." The "Whale" was unusually fond of explorations among the rugged, snow-clad peaks of the Sierras, and he was a man of fine physique, proportionately built, an eagle eye and a clear-cut American profile. His hair and beard were as black as the raven's beak, and he always wore a luxuriant growth of both; his beard, at twenty-three, reached his well-filled hunting-belt, and I have often seen him, says the correspondent, tie on his sombrero with his mustache. He had a sparkle of humor about him, and his commanding person, bold, daring and aggressive make-up made him a general favorite in a camp.

He, like other phenomenal men, had his peculiarities. "Old-Hell-in-the-Brush" and "Heart-Deep" were ever his companions in camp and on trail. "Old-Hell-in-the-Brush" was a magnificent London twist, rifle-bore gun which exactly chambered an ounce ball. It was an old-fashioned muzzle-loader, weighing eighteen pounds, but it never went back on its credentials, as indicated by its name, when in the hands of the "Whale." "Heart-Deep" was a tremendous steel two-edged dirk weighing eleven pounds, which the "Whale" could wield as easily as a pen-knife. These two weapons which he had thus grimly christened were his constant companions while traversing the mountain ranges from Mineral King to Mount Lyell.

On one occasion, while camped at a meadow on the south fork of Kings river, he found it necessary to fence off a pasture for his mustangs. He and his companion were felling trees for this purpose, when, by some misadventure, a tree two feet in diameter fell on his companion, crushing him to the earth. But the "Whale" was equal to the emergency. Throwing his giant strength into his arms he lifted the leaden trunk from off the prostrate form of his unfortunate friend. His friend died from the injury, but his prompt action in removing the tree allayed much of his pain, and gave those who knew the "Whale" an example of his muscular strength, which won the plaudits and praise of the people throughout the sparsely settled country.

The "Whale's" lifting weight was nine times his own, or 1,800 pounds. At another time he displayed even greater strength and wonderful presence of mind. He and Frank Lewis were on the middle fork of Kings river prospecting for gold and silver. One evening about dusk, when nearing camp, the "Whale" espied a cub bear fully six months old and weighing upward of two hundred pounds. The cub was asleep on top of a slanting boulder. Willis determined at once to capture the beautiful specimen alive.

"Better give him a little lead morphine and burn a little saltpeter behind it," remarked Frank, "to make him sleep sounder." But the "Whale" wouldn't listen to it. Frank got on the pinnacle of a neighboring tree, so, as he said, he could see just how Willis caught hold of the cub. Willis grabbed the animal by both hind feet, and started to drag him to his lair, the "Whale" was soon convinced that he had a large and powerful brute to contend with. The cub set up a hideous yelling, and, showing fight, summoned its young strength for the first time to cope with its new-found foe. The boulder was slanting and slick, making footing unsure, and down its declivity side rolled man and bear. A thick copse of yerba buena and fern received the mysterious couple into its wild retreat. When a footing was reached Willis was on top, but the desperate animal by its cries had warned the ferocious mother of its peril. Frank from his perch attempted to pour hot lead into the approaching bear, but was not more than fifty yards away and hearing the spot twenty feet at a bound.

The "Whale" took in the situation. It took both hands to overpower the cub; what was he to do? There was no time to theorize. Swinging the cub as a boy would a cat, he struck the mother full in the mouth with the cub's head. The bear fell stunned to earth at the cub's jump, from the "Whale's" grasp bleeding and helpless. Quicker than you could even think the circumstance in rehearsal, trusty "heart deep" had done his work. The cub and mother had met the enemy and they were his.

Frank cautiously descended from the upper tier of the wild amphitheater, and spent the remainder of the night in trying to find the point in the animal's anatomy that the leaden messenger from the rifle had penetrated on its mission of death; but he found only a wide, deep gash through which eleven pounds of steel, obeying the influence of a giant's muscle, had served notice of ejection upon the chain of life.

The "Whale" met with but one enemy to whom he succumbed. In the spring of '72 mountain fever seized his powerful frame, his mind weakened, and day by day he craved his tickle, mysterious manna of eternity about him and the "Whale" was no more. On the left bank of the great Kings river canyon, "neath a few feet of granite soil and the refreshing shade of a wide-spreading juniper, wrapped in his hunting garb, unwept, uncondemned and unsung, lies the hero of Mariposa, and above his grave is this simple inscription: "The Whale."

The Nature of Fog.

In an interesting letter to Science H. A. Hazen, of Washington, gives some interesting and valuable particulars respecting the properties and nature of fog. He says that it is admitted that fog is simply cloud composed of water, dust or solid minute spheres of water, from 17,000 to 14,000 of an inch in diameter. Many have supposed that a dust particle must be a nucleus for each sphere, but an examination under the microscope of evaporated fog has proved that such is not the case. Briefly stated, the cause of fog is as follows: It is essential that there be no wind. The sky must be saturated, or nearly so. The formation of fog is a purely mechanical process, unaccompanied by heat.

The Flowers of Europe.

Of the 4,300 kinds of flowers which grow in Europe only 433, or 10 per cent., are odoriferous. The commonest flowers are the white ones, of which there are 1,194 kinds. Less than one-fifth of these are fragrant. Of the 951 kinds of yellow flowers 77 are odoriferous; of the 823 red kinds, 84; of the 894 blue kinds, 31; of the 300 violet-blue kinds, 13. Of the 249 kinds with combined colors, 55 are fragrant.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has given to this medicine a popularity and sale greater than that of any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier before the public. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum and all Humors, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, overcomes Thirst, creates an Appetite, strengthens the Nerves, builds up the Whole System. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all drug stores. $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

A whirlwind at Lulu Island, B. C., Tuesday devastated the whole country through which it passed.

Oregon is one of the most productive states in the Union. Its vast mineral regions contain gold, silver, copper, iron, and coal. Its immense tracts of grazing lands support thousands of cattle and sheep, and its extensive agricultural regions produce all the cereals in abundance, the yield per acre being, in some instances, the largest in the world. Among the useful and valuable products of the Web Foot State may be mentioned Oregon Kidney Tea, which has proved a boon to thousands afflicted with pain in the back and kidney difficulties. It is purely of vegetable composition and never fails. Sold by D. W. Mathews.

Gambler are called robbers, yet a New York journalist records the death of thirty-five professional gamblers, not one of whom died worth enough to pay his funeral expenses.

A WOMAN'S DISCOVERY.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus wrote W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at Daniel Fry's drug store.

A grand Bonapartist banquet was given at Bonaparte on the 15th, at which 1600 persons were present. Every mention of the name of Boulanger was greeted with applause.

MERIT WINS.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Sold by Daniel J. Fry, druggist.

Numerous suits are to be begun against the Chinese council-general at San Francisco for the recovery of the indemnity fund the government put in his hands.

EPOCH.

The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health, to the use of the Great Alterative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidneys, Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c and $1 per bottle at Daniel J. Fry's Drugstore.

The latest Government report shows a gain of about 12 per cent. in the wheat crop of France over last year. This will tend to balance the deficiencies in the exporting countries of Eastern Europe and Asia. If the demand from the importing countries were as great this year as usual the heavy crop of the United States could be marketed to the best possible advantage. Unfortunately for us—fortunately for them—they need to buy less just at the time when the East has less to sell.

It should be generally known that Dr. Henley's Dandelion Tonic induces a hearty appetite and increased digestion, dispels nervous depression and low spirits, overcomes lack of energy and wakefulness and will infuse new life and strength into the weakest invalid. Sold by D. W. Mathews.

The Best Residence Localities

In the city of Portland and other prosperous towns are those owned by men or corporations who have the disposition and ability to improve them.

HIGHLAND ADDITION

—IS OWNED BY—

THE OREGON LAND COMPANY!

And this Corporation is determined to

Make It The Most Attractive Addition

To the city of Salem. They have at this time fifteen teams employed and the contemplated improvements have scarcely begun. It is intended to make the drive leading from Commercial street through Riverside and Highland additions and around Highland Park.

THE FINEST DRIVE IN THE STATE

Of Oregon. The line of the Salem Street Railway Company runs through the middle of this addition, and no lots will be more than two blocks distant from the line. Highland Park will in the near future be

THE MOST POPULAR RESORT

ABOUT THE CITY OF SALEM.

Lots in Highland Addition are High and Dry and Well Located; Most Excellent Drainage

The soil is black and rich. From all points a fine view is obtained of the public buildings and our highest mountain peaks. Arrangements are already being made for the location of two churches in this addition, and a number of residences are soon to be built. Buildings only of the best class will be permitted. Residence lots within the limits of the city of Salem are worth on an average over $1000. We can sell you better lots in Highland addition for one-third of the money, and being directly on the line of the street railway they are practically not half so far from the public buildings and the business part of the town as the majority of the so-called "inside lots."

Buy a Lot in Highland Addition for Three Hundred Dollars,

And let some other fellow pay $1000 for an inferior lot not so well located. With the difference of $700 you can build a beautiful cottage, or put it out at a rate of interest that will buy you nearly two thousand street car tickets every year.

Farmers, Mechanics

AND SPECULATORS.

Your attention is respectfully called to the special advantages of

Wm. R. White's Patent Gate,

Which received the highest honors ever given to gates at New Orleans World's Fair. Call and ask to see the wonderful and simple mechanism, which, in the words of the jury on awards, "is a wonderful combination of simplicity." Also the

Lone Star Hay Press,

The price of which, $100, puts it within the reach of the ordinary farmer. Branches taught are Vocal Culture, Piano, Organ, Violin, Pipe Organ, Harmony, Counterpoint, and Class Teaching. Diplomas given on completion of course sent for catalogue and circular.

Z. M. PARVIN, 7-25d 3m-wlm.

Small Farms for Sale.

A number of ten-acre tracts of desirable and within one and a half miles of Salem, at prices ranging from $80 to $100 per acre. Apply to

WILLIS & CHAMBERLIN, Opera House Block.

C. M. LOCKWOOD,

SALEM, - - - OREGON.

Headquarters for the Willamette Valley for the celebrated Columbia bicycles and tricycles. The Columbias are well known and are the best made, and have valuable improvements for the year. Those wanting machines will do well to call on or correspond with me before purchasing. Office at Gilbert Bros.' bank, 267 Commercial street, Salem.

NEW ZEALAND INSURANCE

JOS. ALBERT, Agent, - - Salem, Oregon

NEW LIVERY STABLE.

Gaines Fisher, Proprietor.

Corner Ferry and Liberty streets, N. E. cor from Chetumeta hotel, Salem, Or.

Good accommodations for commercial travelers. First-class rigs always on hand. Charges reasonable.

W. S. MOTT, M. D.

(Formerly of Williams Grove, Pa.)

Office for the present at

RESIDENCE,

No. 470 Commercial Street!

Calls in the city or from the country promptly responded to. 8-16d w2m

DORRANCE BROS.

Dealers in every variety of

OREGON LUMBER.

DRESSED AND UNDRESSED!

Lumber Delivered on Short Notice.

Yard at the Agricultural works, Salem, Oregon. Mill located four and a half miles northeast from Salem, on the John Martin donation land claim.

Slab Wood 50c Per Cord.

Call and see us before purchasing else where. d-w

Kansas House,

Corner of Court and High Sts.

E. M. LAW, Proprietor.

We have taken a new name but will continue to serve our patrons with the best the market affords, give them a cordial welcome to Our Home. Terms reasonable. Give us a call and we will do you good.

No Chinese employed.

Store Enlarged

Having enlarged my store I am now able to supply you with all kinds of groceries, feed, cigars, tobacco, crockery and glassware.

Country produce of all kinds always on hand. If you have not traded with me before, I respectfully solicit a trial believing I can suit you both in prices and quality.

THOMAS BURROWS,

Commercial Street, Salem, Or

New Butcher Shop

AT NO. 110 STATE ST.

ANGEVINE & JEFFERSON.

Have opened a first-class butcher shop at the above location, where they will be pleased to serve the people with the

CHOICEST AND BEST MEATS

of all kinds that the market affords.

Give them a call and be convinced of the superiority of their meats.

Goods delivered free.

$75 to $250 A MONTH can be made working for us. Agents preferred who can furnish a horse and give their whole time to the business. Spare moments may be profitably employed also. A few vacancies in towns and cities. R. F. Johnson & Co., 1000 Main St., Richmond, Va.

N. B.—Please state age and business experience. Never mind about reading stamp for reply. R. F. J. & Co. 4-6m-w.

Oregon State Fair

Twenty-ninth annual exhibition at Salem, Oregon.

Commencing Monday, Sept. 16,

Continuing one week under the management of the Oregon State Board of Agriculture.

OVER $1,500 In Cash Premiums

Offered for agricultural stock, dairy and mechanical exhibits, for works of art, fancy work, and for trials of speed.

Running and Trotting Races

EVERY DAY.

Important improvements have been made in the premium list.

Reduced rates for fares and freights on all transportation lines to and from the fair.

PRICES OF ADMISSION:

Men's day ticket 50

Women's day ticket 25

Men's season ticket 50

Women's season ticket 1 00

Send to the secretary at Salem for a premium list.

J. T. APPERSON, President

J. T. GREGG, Secretary.

BLACKSMITHING and WAGONMAKING.

JOHN HOLM, THE RELIABLE BLACK smith, has removed his shop to the corner of Commercial and Chetumeta streets, where he is ready to serve the public. He is now prepared better than ever to do all kinds of wagon and carriage making and repairing all kinds of blacksmithing and repairing, and a general horse shoeing business. He has all kinds of shoes, steel, trotting, hand made, etc., and fits them in a scientific manner. Special attention given to the construction of wagons and carriages. Remember the place opposite State Insurance building.

BLACKSMITHING and HORSESHOEING.

SCRIBER & POHLE

Have moved to 47 and 49 State street, where they are now ready for work. All our old patrons and friends are invited to call and see us in our new location. We are better prepared for work now than ever having secured more room. 10-14.

WESTACOTT & NYE.

Feed and Boarding Stable.

Hay and oats sold and delivered. Stables on Ferry street, back of postoffice.