RESIDENT LOTS IN Nob Hill!

The whole plat is in a fine state of cultivation, seeded in clover, with a good turf. No grubs, no stumps, no rocks or gravel, soil good, elevated and level, has a fine view of the city, surrounding country, the mountain ranges and snow-capped peaks. Pure cold well water. Is twelve blocks south of the Chemekete hotel and postoffice blocks, on Commercial and Liberty streets. These lots are offered by Geo. H. Jones on monthly or quarterly installments, without interest until paid. They are now actually worth in cash more than the prices named for them on long time without interest. If you want lots call on him at his real estate office No. 206 Commercial street, Salem.

BENT ON GETTING MARRIED.

Wedding of a Boy of Fourteen and a Woman of Twenty-Four.
UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Society circles here are greatly agitated over the marriage of Anna Louise Cushing, a pretty young woman of twenty-four, and Eddie Frey, a boy of fourteen. Miss Cushing has for years been an organist in the churches of Utica, and it was while acting in that capacity in St. George's Episcopal church that she became acquainted with young Frey, who was a member of the boy choir.

On Saturday, September 7th, Miss Cushing told her parents that she was going to West Bloomfield, a little village near Rochester, to visit relatives. Frey disappeared at the same time, went to Boston and from there to Canadaigua, where he met Miss Cushing, and they set out to get married.

The woman looks old enough to be the boy's mother. Several ministers in Canadaigua refused to marry them on this account. The Congregational clergyman finally consented to perform the ceremony.

The bride gave her age as twenty, and Frey said he was eighteen. The couple returned here at once. Mrs. Frey played the organ in St. George's church on Sunday. Frey attends the public school.

A NOTABLE DEATH.

Close of the Career of Ex-Governor Martin, of Kansas.

ATLANTON, Kas., Oct. 4.—Ex-Gov. John A. Martin died yesterday morning from a complication of diseases.

John A. Martin was a native of Pennsylvania, but nearly his whole life was identified with Kansas. He was a printer by trade and rendered the Union great service by his trenchant pen. He was born in Brownsville, Fayette county, Penn., March 10, 1839. He received a common school education and at the age of 14 years he entered the printing office of the Union.

In 1857 he was a journeyman printer in Pittsburg, and then went to Kansas, following the trade. In 1858 he purchased the Squatter Sovereign newspaper at Atchison and named it the Champion. In 1859 he was secretary of the Wyandotte Constitutional Convention, which framed the present constitution of Kansas, and in May of that year he was a delegate to the convention at which the republican party was organized. Still later in the year he was elected a state senator. He was a delegate to the republican National Convention in 1860, and on the admission of Kansas in 1861 he served one session as state senator. In 1884 he was elected governor of Kansas.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

All Interest Centered in the Capital Contest.
ST. PAUL, Oct. 4.—The election of officers and congressmen in South Dakota cut rather a small figure, the vote being acknowledged to be a one-sided contest for the location of the capital overshadowed all else.

Melette was elected Governor by over 20,000 majority. Pickler and Gifford were elected to congress. The republican majority will be at least 60, insuring the election of two republican United States senators. The vote is enormous, probably 90,000. Little attention was given to minority representation, and it was doubtless defeated.

Late this afternoon the first vote came from the Black Hills region, which was thought to hold the balance of power, and it was so overwhelmingly in favor of Pierce that it seems but right that the residents of that city should continue the justification which was started this morning.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

The following is a correct list of the real estate transactions filed at the office of the county recorder today:

P. S. Knight and wife to H. A. Thomas and G. W. Watt, lots 4, 5, 6 and 7 in blk 2 of Capital Park add to Salem; $ 850 00

A. E. Austin, of the Dry Gulch and Silver consolidated mining company, returned home from Albany this morning, where the company has disposed of a number of shares in the mine.

NEW YORK LETTER.

Schools and Libraries Opening Up.—Reducing.—A Huge Lamp.

(Correspondence of the Capital Journal.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 1, 1889.—As the cool weather approaches the city is resuming its natural activity, and the process of "a fall opening" can be plainly seen. While we are not entirely dead during the summer months, still it cannot be denied that there is a marked dullness at that time which is promptly shaken off at the first sign of cool weather. Accordingly there is a general waking up on all sides, and not only is business getting more brisk, but all the various forms of life are being renewed and invigorated. Our public schools, which accommodate nearly 140,000 scholars, are again in operation, and the great libraries are opening. The Astor Library, which has been closed for some time, opened last week. It is one of the few great libraries of the world, and is famous not only for the number of its books, but also for the variety of its literary treasures. It contains 250,000 volumes and is free to everybody, but only during certain hours of the day.

The Cooper Institute classes opened yesterday. Nearly 3,200 pupils have been admitted to the various departments and applications have been filed by 1000 others. The library and reading room has also reopened and will remain open on week days, Sundays, and evenings. In this respect Cooper Institute is much more liberal than the Astor Library, which in turn is far ahead of the Lenox Library. The latter, which contains thousands of books and hundreds of rare historical treasures, besides its paintings, is practically a sealed book. A lot of red tape must be gone through with to even gain admission to the building. Among its other treasures are the original manuscript of George Washington's farewell address and the letter of Christopher Columbus announcing the discovery of America.

REPEAL LAW APPLICATION.
The Board of Health inspectors have taken advantage of the wet weather, when all the residents of overcrowded districts would be at home, to make an investigation and regulate the population of tenements according to the sanitary laws laid down by the code, which requires 400 cubic feet for each person. The reductions are chiefly in the Italian districts—"Mulberry Bend" and "Little Italy." One house was found to contain 108 inhabitants, with a rear tenement equally crowded. They were each promptly reduced about one-third and if the order is violated arrests will follow immediately.

A REMARKABLE LAMP.
Our weather Bureau is taking on some improvements of late, and among them is a huge lamp which has just been erected on the top of the Equitable Building for the purpose of giving storm signals at night. It is placed seventy-five feet above the top of the building, is four feet in height, and will be lighted by electricity. The frames will be fitted with red and blue glass. The signal will be lit all night in stormy weather, and will be visible down the bay as far as the Narrows, through which all ocean and coast vessels enter New York harbor.
