FRIDAY..... NOVEMBER 8

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

To the end that public acknowledgement may be made to God for His unnumbered mercies, I do hereby appoint Thursday, the 28th day of November, 1889, as a day of thanksgiving, and I would remind the good people of this commonwealth that no expressions of gratitude can be more acceptable to Heaven than are gifts from their abundance in aid of the poor.

In testimony whereof, I hereunto sign my name and cause the seal of the state to be affixed at the city of Salem, this 4th day of November, 1889. SYLVESTER PENNOYER, Governor.

BY THE GOVERNOR:
GEO. W. MCBRIDE,
Secretary of State.

A MAN may hear what is going on 'round the corner, but he can't see it even with a circular saw.

FUNNY, isn't it? that no marriage ceremony is a success unless there is a hitch in it somewhere?

EVEN the girl who does not want to be cremated after death is perfectly willing to be ice creamated during life.

A DELAWARE man named John Canning boasts that he has not done a stroke of work in sixteen years

"WHAT? Is the Widow Brown going to be led to the altar for the third time?" "No, I guess not. She ought to be able to find her way there herself by this time."

A CHRISTIAN should be a broad gauge man wide in sympathy, generous in purpose, open-handed in helpfulness. Many people are not even narrow gauge—they run on one rail.

A NEW YORKER says: "The tower for the World's Fair should appropriately be 1,492 feet tall, with a liberty-pole 400 feet above that, making it 1,892." But such an undertaking would cost like 60, which would make it 1952, and that would be 2 much.

IT is a poor day that does not yield a new Tascot suspect. The latest has been unearthed at Dallas, Tex., by a detective who probably has great hopes of getting a big reward. The chances, however, are decidedly against any one fingering that coin, as the fugitive, if he had ordinary shrewdness, is in a place where extradition can't reach him.

WASHINGTON, like New York and Chicago and Buffalo, is getting its eyes open to the true character of the Chinese. The police raided an opium den there a few nights ago, and this is only the beginning of what they will find if they prosecute their inquiries. Before three years the great cities of the East will be as active in demanding Chinese exclusion as this coast has been.

PROGRESS OF INVENTIONS.

In the year 1845 the present owners of the Scientific American newspaper commenced its publication, and soon after established a bureau for the procuring of patents for inventions at home and in foreign countries. During the year 1845 there were only 502 patents issued from the U. S. Patent Office, and the total issue from the establishment of the Patent Office, up to the end of that year, numbered only 4347.

Up to the first of July this year there have been granted 406,418. Showing that since the commencement of the publication of the Scientific American there have been issued from the U. S. Patent Office 402,166 patents, and about one-third more applications have been made than have been granted, showing the ingenuity of our people to be phenomenal, and much greater than even the enormous number of patents issued indicates. Probably a good many of our readers have had business transacted through the offices of the Scientific American, in New York or Washington, and are familiar with Munn & Co.'s mode of doing business, but those who have not will be interested in knowing something about this, the oldest patent soliciting firm in this country, probably in the world.

Persons visiting the offices of the Scientific America, 361 Broadway, N. Y., for the first time, will be surprised, on entering the main office, to find such an extensive and elegantly equipped establishment, with its walnut counters, desks and chairs to correspond, and its enormous safes, and such a large number of draughtsmen, specification writers, and clerks, all busy as bees, reminding one of a large banking or or insurance office, with its hundred employees.

In conversation with one of the firm, who had commenced the business of soliciting patents in connection with the publication of the scientific American' more than forty years ago, I learned that this firm had made applications for patents for upwards of 100,000 inventors in the United States, and several thousand in different foreign countries, and had filed as many cases in the Patent Office in a single month as there were patents issued during the entire first year of their business career. This gentleman has seen the Patent Office from a sapling to a sturdy oak, and he modestly hinted that many thought the Scientific American, with its large circulation, had performed no mean share in stimulating inventions advancing in the interests of the Patent Office. But is not alone the patent soliciting that occupies the attention of the one hundred persons employed by Munn & Co., but a large number are engaged on the four publications issued weekly and monthly from their office, 361 Broadway, N. Y., viz.: The Scientific American, the Scientific American Supplement, the Export edition of the Scientific American, and the Architects and Builders edition of the Scientific American. The first two publications are issued every week, and the latter two, the first of every month.

The Blind Postmaster.

Henry Fawcett, the blind English postmaster general, who died in 1884, was a greater man by half after the unfortunate accident which deprived him of his sight, than he ever was before. He was born in 1833 and lost his eyesight in 1858 at the age of 25 from the effect of a gunshot wound. At that time he was a poor law student. Within less than ten years, through constant association with John Straut Mill, he became only second to the great author as a writer on political economy. In 1865, eight years after his misfortune, he was elected to the house of commons from Brighton, and soon became one of the leaders of that body. His writings mostly on political and economical subjects, would fill a large library case by themselves. His career as postmaster general, dating from the time of his election in 1878 until the time of his death in 1884, was marked by many radical and important changes in the English postal system, not a few of which have been incorporated into the postal service of this country.—John W. Wright in St. Louis Republic.

That Little Tickling

In your throat, which makes you cough once in a while and keeps you constantly clearing your throat, arises from catarrh, and as catarrh is a constitutional disease the ordinary cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What you need is a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Many people who have taken this medicine for scrofula, dyspepsia, loss of appetite and other troubles, have been surprised that it should cure this troublesome cough. But to know the actual cause of the cough is to solve the mystery. Many cases of consumption can be traced back to the neglect of some such slight affection as this. Consumption can be controlled in its early stages, and the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, building up the general health, and expelling the scrofulous taint which is the cause of catarrh and consumption, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom this dreaded disease seemed to have a firm hold.

A can for the preservation of perishable articles is among the latest advertised inventions. There must be a big call for it in this world of perishable and perishing things.

A SERIOUS BLUNDER.

A Lady Nearly Prostrated by a Patent Medicine.

A lady well-known in the Western Addition has been a great sufferer for years with indigestion and dyspepsia. Struck with the testimonials praising Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, she sent for a bottle. The druggist, not having it, talked them into taking another Sarsaparilla. As the leading Sarsaparillas use mineral blood purifiers, the effect of the emptying of Iodide of Potash into a stomach already distressingly delicate was disastrous, almost prostrating her before the mistake was rectified. She then called upon Mrs. Fowler, of 327 Ellis street, whose name was among those cured by Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Fowler said it was true that it had cured her. Again reassured, the vegetable compound was sent for and gotten. The gentle action of its vegetable stimulants upon the liver, kidneys and digestive organs, and its warm stomach tonics, were the very things needed, and she began improving and was her old self within a fortnight. This sounds like fiction, but the names can be given if necessary.—San Francisco Examiner.

A Fish Story From England.

Seven years ago a number of salmon, as many Tynesiders will remember, were shown in a tank during the exhibition at Tynemouth aquarium. After the exhibition closed they were returned to the sea, but before being set at liberty each had a silver ring, recording the sojourn on shore, fixed in the dorsal fin. About a year afterward one of the fish was caught with a fly some miles above Hexam. A day or two ago the biggist fish of the lot, which went by the name of "Jumbo" during the exhibition, was caught at Ovingham and the ring was returned to Inspector Harbotte. It would be interesting to know how many times that ring had been under Tyne bridge during these seven years.—Newcastle Leader.

A SCRAP OF PAPER SAVES HER LIFE.

It was just an ordinary scrap of writing paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottle of this wonderful discovery free at Dan'l J. Fry's drug store.

The custom is to slice and dry apples, and those dried in this way are generally preferred. But there are those who like apples dried in quarters.

A Female Paradox.

A lady, old and growing older still,
(As ladies will grow old; you know), became.
In spite of age, as young as youth—but ill,
And old, and wretched, feeble, lame, and sore,
A lady young became in spite of youth,
As ladies will and why? Because the truth,
That keeps a lady young, they fail to grasp
And yielding to disease, die in its fatal clasp.
That truth is that woman's weaknesses may be Subdued by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The earl of Meath does a great deal for the poor. He buys tenements near the poor sections and tears them down to build public parks which contains gymnastic machines.

Prof. E. W. Stewart declares that a concrete wall, properly made, is the strongest and most enduring wall that can be built, unless cut stone is used.

A WOMAN'S DISCOVERY.

"Another wonderful discovery ha been made and that too by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severst tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at Daniel Fry's drug store.

Flowers and strawberries are said to be benefitted by an application to the soil of a pound of saltpeter to each square rod. The results are immediate.

Deafness Can't Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucus lining of the eustachian tube When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by atarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucus surfaces.

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.
Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has given to this medicine a popularity and sale greater than that of any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier before the public.

Merit Wins

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum and all Humors, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, overcomes That Tired Feeling, creates an Appetite, strengthens the Nerves, builds up the Whole System.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.
