A Few Questions Asked.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 25 '89.

EDITOR JOURNAL: I have observed of late that you are taking considerable interest in the welfare of our city and county, and are setting the people to thinking on various topics for their future good.

A question has arisen in my mind about the Motor car line. What is it? And how is it run? I understand that the city council has decided that the tracks or rails of the various car lines must conform to the present surface of the streets, therefore I am most awfully puzzled over the problem of how the cars can run up Ferry street to Liberty, then down in that quagmire along Liberty to Trade and then jump up on the embankments in Trade and up on that street and on and out of the city. I don't think it can be done, and it looks as though it was a very sly way the city fathers had of sitting down on the enterprise. That is the way my neighbors look at the matter.

The Grangers at Woodland.

WOODLAND, Nov. 23.—The excursion bringing the delegates of the National Grange, 300 strong, arrived here at 7 o'clock this evening. They were met at the depot by the Citizens' Reception committee, attended by a band. This evening the Grangers were the guests of the citizens and will be entertained until their departure Sunday afternoon. A reception was given at the opera house this evening. Judge C. H. Garoutte delivered an address of welcome, which was responded to by Mr. Humphreys, Master of the Grange. W. H. Mills, of San Francisco was present by invitation of the Business Men's association and delivered an interesting address.

Disposing of Sewage.

Many are the efforts that have been made to satisfactorily dispose of the sewage of large towns. The results of experiments carried on under the auspices of the Wimbledon Sewage works, England, make it appear that a more satisfactory answer than usual has been made to the problem. The method employed there consists of sterilizing and precipitating the sewage with herring brine and milk of lime. It is claimed that the destruction of micro-organisms is immediate and complete, and that there remains positively no disagreeable odor.

DEATH IN A MINE.

FOUR MINERS PERISH IN AN HEROIC ATTEMPT TO SAVE PROPERTY.

Over 5000 Laboring Men To Be Thrown Out of Employment by the Accident—An Appalling Scene Witnessed.

BUTTE, M. T., Nov. 25.—About 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning a fire was discovered on the 500-foot level of the St. Lawrence mine, of the Anaconda company. Fortunately there were few men in the mine or in the Anaconda, which mine adjoins and is connected with the St. Lawrence on every level, the fire having broken out in the interval between the night and day shifts. All of these reached the surface in safety.

The draft created by the fire caused the air to suck down through the St. Lawrence shaft, through the levels to the Anaconda, and carried the smoke up the Anaconda shaft. Thus the workings of the St. Lawrence were cleared of smoke, while all of the connecting levels and shafts were filled, and the fire doubtless spread into the Anaconda timbers. A solid column of dense smoke issued from the mouth of the shaft.

The shaft house was filled with miners who seemed spellbound at the ominous spectacle. It was known among them that quantities of powder were stored in some of the lower levels, the igniting of which meant certain destruction to the great underground workings. At this juncture four men came forward and volunteered to go down and try and get out the powder, and they were at once lowered into the shaft. These were Henry Page, Jerry Sullivan, Pat Murphy and Tim Keleher, and they are entombed and undoubtedly dead, as a party of six men soon followed the four unfortunate men into the depths to rescue them, but were forced to abandon their perilous undertaking and return to the surface.

The bodies of two of the entombed victims are supposed to be on the 800-foot level. Page and Keleher were on the cage coming out of the mine, when they were overcome by the smoke, fell off, and their mangled remains are doubtless now in the dump, 1000 feet below the surface.

The origin of the fire is open to conjecture. Several theories are advanced. One is that it caught from a lighted candle carelessly left sticking in the timbers in the crosscut. This seems to be the most plausible. Both mines are bulkheaded and sealed, and by this means Superintendent Carroll hopes to smother the fire. The bulkheads have served to prevent the fire spreading thus far, but should the flames break through into the other levels and into the forest of timbers it would mean the tying up of probably the most valuable copper and silver mines in the world, the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars and the enforced idleness of 5000 men.

JIMMY HOPE.

Governor Hill Gives the Bank Burglar His Freedom.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Governor Hill has decided the case of "Jimmy" Hope, the notorious bank burglar. In view of the facts presented, the Governor has revoked the warrants heretofore issued to arrest Hope. It appeared that Hope was compulsorily brought into the state from California on a requisition, and upon his release from prison, was immediately arrested under a requisition from Delaware.

Governor Hill has filed an elaborate decision, holding that Hope is entitled to a reasonable time to return to California after his release here, and hence his arrest was premature. The point of law is an interesting one, in regard to which there have heretofore been many conflicting decisions. Hope is now in custody at New York, and under this decision must be discharged and given an opportunity to return to California, if he so desires.

Swallowed Cresset.

GILROY, Nov. 25.—Miss Lizzie Muth, a young lady 23 years of age, a native of Philadelphia, acting as telegraph operator at Gilroy Hot Springs, attempted suicide yesterday morning by taking half an ounce of cresset. Medical aid was at once sent from here and the lady assisted as far as possible. She acknowledged to Dr. Thayer that she had taken the poison with suicidal intent. Her recovery is hopeless and death must result in a few hours. Ill health and bad news from the East, it is supposed, caused a despondent fit. She had no relatives on this coast, but many friends. She left Philadelphia about three years since and has been a telegrapher here since her arrival.

Seattle Wants a Fight

SEATTLE, Nov. 25.—A combine is being formed here to induce Sullivan and Jackson to fight in this city. The plan is to raise a purse of $25,000 for the pugilists. If successful the parties will build a pavilion capable of holding 6000, in which the fight will take place.

Adam Albert, employed on railroad construction work near Walla Walla, was run over by the cars and killed last Friday.

OREGON ITEMS.

A Robber Sent Up for Seven Years—Dry Goods Merchants Assign.

PORTLAND, Nov. 23.—To-day John Case was sentenced by Judge Stearns to seven years in the state prison. Case and Myron Lockwood a few weeks ago made a raid on a Chinese wood-choppers' camp, near this city, and attempted to rob them. The Chinese made a spirited resistance, fighting with hatchets. Lockwood was so badly chopped about the head that he died the following day. Case was also severely cut with a hatchet about the head. During the fight several shots were fired by the robbers, and one Chinaman was severely wounded. Only a few days before the attempted robbery of the camp, Case broke into a house, and on being discovered in the act by a young man named Charles Kallich, the robber knocked him down and attempted to cut his throat with a razor. Case has already served one term in the penitentiary, and is considered a very dangerous fellow.

At the same time Judge Stearns sentenced George Smith, for robbing an old man, to the penitentiary for three years, also John Barry for four years for robbery.

The total loss caused by the destruction of the public school building in East Portland last night will reach nearly $20,000. There is insurance on the building of $12,000, in the following companies: North British and Mercantile, $6000; Columbia Fire and Marine, $4500; New Zealand, $1500.

The firm of Lewis & Isaac Jacobs, doing a general dry-goods business, made an assignment to-day to Emil Frank for the benefit of their creditors. Their assets, contained in their store in this city, are estimated at $6000, and their liabilities at $11,111. There are a number of San Francisco and Portland creditors.

MASSACRED BY RUSSIANS.

A Story of Bloody Times in Alaska in the Fifties.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 25.—Sam Evans, an old miner just returned from the Yukon country, relates a strange story of a massacre of Indians by Russians in 1853 in revenge for the murder of Lieutenant Bernard in that year. An old Russian priest at Mulato told Evans how Bernard in 1852, with a party, went up the Yukon river as far as Mulato in search of Franklin. The party was attacked by Indians and Bernard was killed. The priest pointed out the spot where the deceased Lieutenant was buried, and Evans fixed up the grave as well as he could, erecting a rude tombstone with the name of the deceased and the name of the ship Enterprise.

After the murder of the Lieutenant's party had another fight with the Indians, killing thirty-seven of them, one of the white men being badly hurt. The following spring the Russians in large force went up Koyukuk river, and under pretense of trading got the Indians together from various camps along the river and butchered fifty-three natives, men and women. The Russians lost four men during the fight and then returned to St. Michaels. An old Indian, one of the survivors of the massacre, still living at Mulato, told the story to Evans.
