BUFFALO BILL has left Paris for Lyons.

THE MAYORS of the Province of Ontario, have declared in favor of taxing church property.

Is the motor line to be crowded out for private enterprises? See that your next councilmen are square on the subject.

THE Montreal board of Aldermen has sent a committee of their number to New York to investigate the elevated roads system.

THE motor line has been asking for recognition. Do the Salem want to encourage this enterprise or not. Be careful how you vote!

THE motor line will insure a large increase of capital and population for Salem and Marion county. See how your councilmen stands on this subject.

THE New York World has sent its correspondent, Nellie Bly, on a flying trip around the world. She expects to make the quickest time on record.

THE volcano of Colima, Mexico, is in active eruption. Many buildings in its vicinity have been thrown down and for miles around the forests are on fire.

THE leading manufacturers of loft-dried writing papers in Holyoke have concluded to shut down their mills to relieve the market of the surplus now on hand.

THE Centenary of the Catholic church in America, came off with eclat last week, in Baltimore. Nearly all the Catholic Archbishops and Bishops in the country were present.

IN St. Louis, the students in the public schools will be supplied with school books free of charge by the city in the future. This much was decided in a recent school election held in that city.

MAYOR McDOWELL, before the Chamber of Commerce, at Charlotte, N. C., recently gave some sound sense regarding newspapers. Hear him: "Encourage your home papers and help build them up, for the culture, intelligence and public sentiments of a city are often gauged by the character of the paper it supports. Every place of importance must have the mighty aid of the press, a journal that will publish to the world its advantages, its life, its wares, its goods, its manufactures; and reflects like a mirror its daily acts, deeds, intentions and its people. I make the statement that an able, dignified, conservative and progressive newspaper is of more real benefit toward advertising, stimulating and building a city than any one agency or enterprise she can possess."

A Small Boy's Heroic Independence. A Lewiston little boy declared a philosophic independence and accepted the consequences in so matter-of-fact a way last week that it may make a story, even if it is not very funny. His mother dressed him up in a new flannel shirt Friday and sent him to school. The shirt irritated his cuticle, or, in other words, he itched. When he came home that night he was cross and very cross for a small boy and he declared that he and the flannel had departed company for ever. The next morning as his mother prepared to dress him for school the boy drew the line at the shirt. "No," said he, "I don't wear that shirt." A brief debate ensued, in which the boy appeared to have formed his opinion, and to have decided to stick to it. The question, when put to the house, was carried by the boy, who would not don the shirt. "If you will not wear it," said his mother, "I shall send you back to bed." Back to bed he went. He got no dinner. Afternoon came. A neighbor went in to see him—his mother telling her that she had a bad boy up stairs. The boy lay there in bed, wide awake, his little cheeks flushed with the situation but showing no sign of change of heart. "Don't you want to go to school?" asked the neighbor. "School?" was the reply. "I shall never go to school again." "Don't you want to?" "Yes, but I can't. I've got to stay here." "All your life?" "Yes, m," was the reply, "all my life. I shan't ever get up again, prob'ly." What could a mother's heart do against so philosophic an acceptance of the termination of a life-career as this? What but kiss him at tea-time and go down and buy the little bunch of pluck some downy little undershirts that should never tickle him even once! —Lewiston Journal.

NEW YORK LETTER.

Street Music Shut Off.—Eg Street on the Elevated Road. NEW YORK, Nov. 20, 1889.

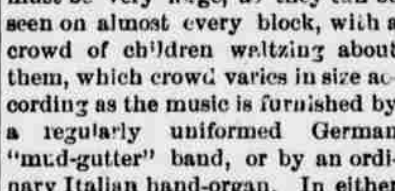

A few days ago the Board of Aldermen passed an ordinance prohibiting organ grinding, or the playing of any musical instruments, in the streets of this city, except in parades, e. c., under penalty of fine or imprisonment. The intention was to stop the alleged annoyance caused by the everlinging grinding of the hand-organ and the tooting of the "de German band"; but events have proven that our plebeian populace do not consider it much of a nuisance after all. In fact they rather like the music, and are coming to the rescue of the musicians by demanding an amendment to the law, which will allow them to follow their old-time occupation with some restrictions. For this purpose a mass-meeting will be held to-night in Brook's Assembly Rooms, where, no doubt, there will be music in the air. The number of people who gain a livelihood by this means must be very large, as they can be seen on almost every block, with a crowd of children waiting about them, which crowd varies in size according as the music is furnished by a regularly uniformed German "mud-gutter" band, or by an ordinary Italian hand-organ. In either case the children are vastly interested and, whether the tune is "Where Did You Get That Hat?" or "Home Sweet Home," the performers are always sure of an audience of little ones who appreciate their efforts.

A PAYING INVESTMENT. On the heels of the report that the Broadway Railway company had made application for permission to change its motor power from horses to cable, comes the announcement that the elevated railroads carried during the past year nearly 180,000,000 passengers, this is an average of half a million a day, or, in other words, the receipts were more than a thousand dollars an hour, night and day. In return for all this money the company gives very poor accommodations; one is very lucky if he can get a seat in the morning or evening, and if he does, he is not sure whether he will be roasted or frozen to death before he arrives at his journey's end. Often on the coldest days in winter there is not a vestige of heat in the cars, while on a mild day the heat is sometimes suffocating; besides this, the speed is little better than that of the horse cars, being less than ten miles an hour at best. "Rapid transit," so long talked of, and which we thought we had, is still in the future.

REMARKABLE STAGE MACHINERY. The mechanical arrangement for reproducing a horse race on the stage, which is done in the "County Fair," now running at the Union Square Theatre, is a remarkable piece of stage machinery. It is not a brand new device, but the proprietor and chief actor, Neil Burgess, has greatly improved on it since it was seen here last spring. The effect of the horses running at full speed and yet not getting ahead, is produced by the "revolving stage" which the horses keep pushing from under them. The moving panorama at the back has been rearranged, and the rearrangement is so clever and artistic that it gives the impression of the landscape flying back from the heels of the horses precisely as in a genuine equine contest. The front panorama, which used to be a picture of a fence, has been transformed into a practical fence and greatly assists the illusion. Altogether it is an ingenious arrangement and should serve to stimulate other inventions of a similar nature.

EDWIN ARLINGTON.

CAUSE OF THE GROWL.

"What are you growling at, sir?" "At the amount you are eating, sir! Have you no regard for the feelings of a dyspeptic, sir?" "No sir! Go and take a course of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and you won't have the dyspepsia, sir!"

John Agall, of 223 Golden Gate avenue, writes: "You may also use my name as an additional authority that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla will cure dyspepsia and liver and kidney complaint. It has done it for me." James Wells, Oakland, Cal., writes: "I suffered acutely from dyspepsia for years, scarcely taking a meal without the distressing pains of indigestion. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla relieved me of it entirely."

AUMSVILLE NOTES.

AUMSVILLE, Nov. 22, '89. EDITOR JOURNAL: The Waldo Hills literary society met at Keene's school house last night and discussed the question, Resolved, "That Catholic aggression is injurious to American institutions, and ought to be abolished. The affirmative showed many aggressions of Catholicism, especially in regard to our public schools, civil liberty, right of free speech, etc., none of which the negative denied, but proceeded to show similar aggressions on the part of Protestantism, and contended that the "pot should not call the kettle black." The negative also produced argument to show that the Free-thinker is the conservator of civilization and morals, which the affirmative failed to answer and the decision was given to the negative.

The debate was conducted with the best of friendly feeling, and we had a whole lot of fun over it too. Our next meeting will be on Thursday evening Dec., 5th when the question of taxation of church property will be discussed. The public are invited.

There is as yet no one booked to represent the side of protection at the coming meeting of the Waldo Hills Free Trade club, at Aumsville, on Dec. 3d at 6:30 o'clock p. m. It is to be hoped there will be, as this club is in search of information on the subject; and having exhausted its immediate neighborhood, is now moving from place to place in search of some of the oratorical enthusiasms that was around just before the late presidential election. Somehow it don't appear to materialize. Come now. We are only a few plain farmers, just getting so we can read and figure a little, and we can't work out these problems as the proticks do, and we want to know, you know. Come and explain them. It won't take long.

She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. is a constitutional and not a local disease, and therefore it cannot be cured by local applications. Thousands of people testify to the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh when other preparations had failed.
