It was with strange feelings that the writer, crossing the Pacific, having gone to bed on a Saturday night, eaving everything pertaining to the almanac in a satisfactory condition, aweke on Monday morning! Sunday had completely dropped from cur calender—for that week at least. Everyone knows that in traveling around the world from east to west a day is lost, and in order to adjust his reconing to that of the place he has left, one must drop a day as if he had not lived it, when in reality he had not lived it, when in reality the time has passed by lengthening every day during the journey. For along time it was the custom for sailors to affect this change precty much where they pleased; but it has become a settled rule among American and English navigators, that at the 380th degree, a day must be passed over if going west, and one be passed over if going west, and one a time a stranger could not tell exactly whether he was in Oregon of the county. that at the 380th degree, a day must be passed over if going west, and one added if going east, in which case the latter enjoys two Sundays or two of Polynesia, there are no large communities, with their vast com-mercial and social transactions to be effected by the change.

Tomorrow Night. — The Dan and Josie Morris Sullivan company will be at Reed's opera house, on tomorrow evening and present a bril-liant programme. The Provo Utah Enquirer says that of an unique character was the "Mirror of Ire-land" in the theatre last evening by the Dan Morris Sullivan company. A panoramic view of Ireland, consisting of numerous fine and relastic scenes of the "ould sod" with brilliant acting in front of them by "Berney," "Nora" and other characters, was what made the people present last evening so full of enthusiasm. The scenes in Dublin Belfast asm. The scenes in Dublin, Belfast, Cork and Londonderry, the ruined castles, the noted monuments, the the moonlight scene on the "Lakes of Killarney," was simply grand. In the last scene, the waters glittered in the moon light whenever the luminary of the night peeped from behind the thickening clouds, until one fancied that he was really be-holding a mornlight eventure onngnt evening those lakes made so famous in Irish song. It was a fine performance, and the people were never more satisfied

BRANCH OFFICE.—The Astoria Pioneer says the trio of Salem capitalists, W. B. Cottle, Dr. Rowland and Dr. Minthorn, who arrived in this city Sunday did not, as was announced in yesterday's Pioneer, come to this city for their health, but to invest in real estate. Yesterday morning the gentlemen were up early and out in search of bargains. Another Salem gentleman and several days, joined them and several days, joined them and several acreage tracts near the city several days, joined them and several acreage tracts near the city were inspected. The gentlemen admired all, but flually settled on the Monroe property near Holcomb Junction, consisting of 120 acres and a piece near by on the Walluski river, containing sixty acres. "That's enough for to-day," said one of the visitors, and the party was soon back in the city arranging for the purchase of the property. Stockton & Welch received deposits checks and as soon as the deeds are prepared the Monroe place will belong to the Salem gentlemen, the price being £55 an acre and the other property will baye changed hands at $50 an acre." General Order No. 6. HEADQ'RS 2ND REGM'NT O. N. G. )

SALEM OR. Dec. 4, 1889. I. In order to promote and en-courage recruiting in the Second Regiment, Infantry, O. N. G., the colonel commanding will award a valuable gold medal suitably enestate agents in this city say, and they say it very emphatically, too, says the Astoria Pioneer. By real estate dealers with pocket offices, is meant that class of individuals who flock to all growing cities and make their headquarter in the offices of hotels. They never spend a cent in the hotels, but hang about the register and lay for stranger whom they think have a little money and are likely to invest. Their methods are not unlike those those of the bunco steerer. As soon as the pocket men get hold of a yietim they draw a plat of a townsite out of their pocket and explain to him how a small fortune can be made in a few weeks valuable gold medal suitably engraved, to be and remain the property of the musician, private or officer (captains excepted) of any of the infantry companies of the regiment who shall procure the greatest number of recruits to be enlisted in their respective companies for the term of three years, between Dec. 1, 1889, and May 1, 1890.

II. The U. S. Army regulations must be strictly complied with as regards the age of recruits, consent of parents or guardian and the enlistment papers in all things correctly executed as required by Form 8 and forwarded to these headquarters so
