LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

A WILD AND WOOLY YARN.

The Wyoming Story Teller Again Broke Loose—Outlaws Annihilated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.—A plausible story of a terrible conflict between a gang of thieves and settlers, came from Big Horn basin in Northwestern Wyoming, and more than 100 miles from a railroad or telegraph line. While the recital is given credence here, for the lawless gang has long terrorized that region.

A desperate character called Kettle Jack leads the clan. He and a few companions went there as miners, but soon threw off all pretense of honesty or respectability and soon began to levy tribute on citizens.

The latter objected at first but were cowed into submission, after three men who had attempted to recover a bunch of horses, had been killed.

Jack and his followers after perpetrating a series of outrages, proposed to set up a monarchy in the basin with their leader as potentate.

They formulated a decree calling for an election, but hinting that the candidacy of others than the gang men would be fatal to the ambitious ones.

The people took a firm stand and 200 mounted men moved on the camp of desperadoes. Preparations were made for their reception, but they put the enemy to rout by the judicious use of an improvised howitzer. The cut throats fled like rats, and were hunted down mercilessly. They were strung up as fast as overtaken until eleven had been hanged. There was a series of ambushes for three days, with the settlers victorious every time.

Most of the outlaws met death unconcernedly. When captured they were worn out, hungry and sleepy. It is believed that Jack escaped, but he will not return. He came from Central America, having fled there from Texas.

Johnstown Theater Panic.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 11. The mangled remains of twelve victims of last night's Theater panic are lying at their homes, and the hospitals are filled with two score of crushed and disabled men and women. The death list will probably be swelled to fourteen, as two more persons are expected to die.

The panic was caused during the last act of Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," by a false cry of fire. Threats of lynching are made and will be executed if the culprit is found. Doctors say that the most remarkable feature of the accident is that not a single bone was broken either of the killed or those injured.

The cause of death in every instance was the crush at the doorway leading to the street in the frantic efforts of people to get out of the building.

An Immense Number of Rabbits.

VANDALIA, Ill., Dec. 11.—This year's rabbit crop in this, Fayette county, is by far the largest ever known in the county's history.

Within the past five weeks upwards of 8000 rabbits have been marketed here. Other towns in the county report the same proportion, and similar reports come from adjoining counties. One day last week over 1000 rabbits were brought to town and sold.

The Wallawa Valley Road.

PORTLAND, Dec. 12.—General Manager C. J. Smith has awarded the contract for building the Union Pacific branch twenty miles across the Grande Ronde valley from La Grande to Elgin, to Messrs. Anderson & Doe. The road taps the extensive and fertile Wallawa valley once occupied by the Nez Percés Indians. The road is to be completed by July 1.

England Wins Her Own Tin Mines.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—An English syndicate with $15,000 capital is going to develop the tin mines in the United States. Captain Edward Mitchell, an old Cornish citizen and tin mine expert, has called on the Trustees. He is one of the experts sent to this country to report upon and arrange for the development of the tin mines discovered in the Black Hills. It was said to-day that already the company own 600 mining claims.

Express Their Regrets.

NONANTUM, Pa., Dec. 12.—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union addressed a letter to President Harrison's wife expressing regret that in entertaining the Pan-American delegates she served them with whiskey punch. The letter concludes with, "Push back the wine cup in our name." J. G. W.

Oregon Postal Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Representative Hermann to-day filed in the office of the first assistant postmaster general a petition from citizens of Tillamook county, Oregon, asking for a new post office to be called Trask, on the Trask river, in Tillamook county. An order has been issued for its establishment.

He also went before the second assistant postmaster general and repeated the necessity for a new mail service between McMinnville and Vilas, in Yamhill county, Or., via Ivy, Deer Creek and Grover.

A semi-weekly service is asked for by a very large petition of the people of that county. Several post-offices will be established at intermediate points, and persons are recommended for appointment.

D. D. Levens has been appointed postmaster at Galesville, Douglas county, Oregon.

Dazzled by Electric Light.

McMINNVILLE, Or., Dec. 12.—Tonight the town is enjoying the brilliancy of the electric light. Great interest is taken in the display. People wander about in groups, looking at the different lights. The streets are lit up in every direction, and stores, shops and offices are all lighted up. The pumps for the water works are also running. Everything seems to be a grand success, and the town believes itself up with any of its modern neighbors.

McMinnville is keeping up with the tide.

Nominations Confirmed.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 12.—The senate has confirmed the following nominations: Robert P. Port, New York, superintendent consuls; Lewis A. Craf, Nebraska, commissioner general land office; William M. Stone, Iowa, assistant commissioner of general land office; James A. Townsend, Indiana, recorder of general land office.

Special Military Orders.

SPECIAL ORDERS No. 1. HEADQUARTERS CO. B, 2D REG. O. N. G. SALEM, Or. Dec. 9, 1889

For the purpose of promoting the welfare of company B the following order of drills will be observed:

1. The company will be divided into the following squads:

1st squad.—Sergeant Rice, Corporal Chase, Privates Alderson, M. C., Alderson, W. S., Bozorth, Belt, Catterlin, Cross, Conn, Howard, Jordan, Murphy, Rossiter, Singleton and Berry.

2d squad.—Sergeant Cox, Corporal Leabo, Privates Brown, Fisk, Griffith, Harris, Hetzler, Lee, Robertson, Saunders, Vanduyin, Ladue, Patton and Westcott.

3d squad.—Sergeant Condit, Corporal Singleton, Privates Welch, Groff, Held, Shafter and Gilbert, and recruits to be assigned.

4th squad.—Sergeant Dinsmore, Corporal Steiner, and recruits to be assigned.

11. The order of drills shall be as follows:

1st squad.—Thursday night, beginning at eight o'clock.

2d squad.—Wednesday night, beginning at eight o'clock.

3d squad.—Thursday night, beginning at eight o'clock.

4th squad.—Friday night, beginning at eight o'clock.

These squad drills shall be held at least one hour, beginning at the specified time and continuing at least for one hour.

111. The regular weekly drill shall be held every Monday night beginning at eight o'clock, at which said weekly drills the officers and non-commissioned officers only shall be required to attend and shall be constituted the commissioned officers' school of instruction.

IV. The sergeant and corporal of each squad shall be constituted chief of squad in order of rank. Each non-commissioned officer shall provide himself with a roll book in which shall be entered the names of the members of his squad, and he shall keep a correct roster of those present and absent, in regular order, and shall report the same to the first sergeant at each regular monthly meeting, which said monthly meeting shall be held as by law provided, when the non-commissioned officers' school of instruction will be dispensed with and the regular company will take its place.

VI. The non-commissioned officers in charge of squads, shall on his special drill night be in complete command, subject to the order of any company officer who may be present. The chief of the squad will report to the sergeant any member of his squad or any member of the company who may be present, any violation of rule or discipline.

VII. The orderly sergeant will hereafter assign all recruits to their respective squads.

This order will go into effect on Monday, the 10th of Dec, 1889.

By order of
M. W. HENY,
Captain Commanding Co. B.

John Todd, stabbed in a San Francisco saloon Sunday, is dead, and Wm. H. Spindler is in jail, charged with murder.
