Peace in the Family.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—There was some rivalry between Oregon and Washington over securing the collectorship for the port of Oregon. Washington felt that this office has gone to the southern half of the district long enough. There were candidates from Washington endorsed by the two Senators, but Oregon won when Milton Krielder was appointed. Arthur A. Putnam, of Tacoma, had a fighting chance, and Congressman Wilson had recommended H. W. Fairweather, who had not announced himself as a candidate. When Krielder was appointed as a compromise measure, Senators Dolph and Mitchell, of Oregon, agreed to give the two deputy collectorships to Washington, and thus preserve peace in the family from the far West.

STARVATION IN FILTH.

HOW POOR HOUSE PATIENTS ARE USED BY INHUMAN PERSONS.

Family of Seven Sleeping in one Bed and Living From the Poultry Sum of 1.25 per week.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 23.—At a trial just ended of Washington Butler and P. M. Dodge, overseers of the poor, charged with neglecting their duty, a terrible story was told by witnesses under oath. Five years ago Edward Wisberman became sick and was removed to the house owned by his wife in Burrell township. His father-in-law was also quartered in the same place, and both men being unable to work were allowed $4 per week by the overseers. In 1887 the father-in-law died and the allowance for the family was reduced to $1.60 a week. In the meantime Wisberman's body became a mess of corruption with running sores, and he was unable to do any kind of work. The allowance was reduced to $1.25 per week for a family of five, another child having arrived. Their clothing was of the scantiest, neighbors testifying that they were ashamed to look at Mrs. Wisberman on account of the scarcity of her apparel, which was the same winter and summer. Fuel was so scarce in the winter that logs were used by resting one end on a chair with the other in the fire. At the same time the children were without shoes. Their food consisted of corn meal one week and flour the next, with some rice and tea. All five had to sleep in one bed to keep warm. While Mr. Butler was overseer Mrs. Wisberman was confined twice, and neither case did she have medical aid, and none at all except that of her husband. Mrs. Wisberman had to go two miles away to get her cornmeal and flour, and carry it home. On one of these trips she gave birth to a still-born child, and carried it home in her apron. The child was buried by an overseer, but Wisberman received no medical attention. The defence claimed that no order of relief had been taken out before two justices in Wisberman's behalf, and that consequently the paupers were not legally in that township. The defendants were discharged.

MURDERS HIS OWN BLOOD.

Driven by Strong Drink to Commit a Terrible Crime.

LOS GATOS, Cal., Dec. 23.—James Eubanks, a drunken loafer, shot and killed his sixteen-year-old daughter, Ada, this morning. Eubanks was a widower with six children, all except Ada dependent on charity for support. This morning while sober he stated to relatives that he would kill two persons before night. He then borrowed a shotgun and ten cents to buy powder and buckshot to load the gun. He went to the Heath house, where Ada worked as waitress, called her to the door and shot her. He then placed the butt of the gun on the ground and attempted suicide but was unsuccessful. He then stepped into an adjoining saloon, passed upstairs and made an unsuccessful attempt to cut his throat with a razor. Deputy Sheriff Reynolds arrested and took him to the San Jose jail in time to save him from the hands of an infuriated mob. He said he wanted to kill another fellow before dying himself and asked why he couldn't hang to-day as well as some other time.

JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE.

John O'Neill Killed in Trying to Murdered His Wife.

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 23.—John O'Neill died this morning at the residence of William Harris, his son-in-law, in South Butte, by whom he was shot Saturday night. The shooting was done by Harris in self-defense. O'Neill and his wife had separated some months ago. Mrs. O'Neill going to live with relatives in Wyoming. She returned Saturday and went to Harris' house where her husband sought her and after abusing her pulled a pistol and threatened to shoot her, Harris had tried to prevent it, but seeing O'Neill determined to kill her, endeavored to take his weapon from him. O'Neill then fired one shot at Harris, which missed him, when Harris drew a weapon and fired two shots, both taking effect, one in the abdomen and the other in the thigh. He lingered in pain till this morning when he died. An inquest was held this afternoon, when the verdict of justifiable homicide was rendered.

Cut all Their Throats.

NILES, O., Dec. 24.—The dead bodies of Charles Shelar, his wife and three children, all with their throats cut from ear to ear, were found in their house here this evening. Shelar of late drank very heavily. It is said he and his wife did not live happily. The theory is that Shelar early this morning cut the throats of his wife and children and then cut his own.

An Inhuman Mother.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Dec. 23.—Late Friday night Mrs. Mary Goodwin, while intoxicated, hurled a lighted lamp at her 6-year-old daughter, striking her on the head and inflicting a bad wound. The oil from the lamp was scattered over the girl's clothing and speedily ignited. Before the flames could be extinguished the girl was terribly burned about the face and back, and will probably die. The mother is in jail.

ARGENTI NOTES.

Some snow in this part of the country.

Mrs. Ormsby, who has been sick, is getting some better.

The contract for carrying the U. S. mail has been awarded to S. B. Ormsby.

The mail will leave Argenti on Jan. 3, 1891, for Knight, with Mr. Ormsby, carrier. Success to him.

Mr. J. Dunles is building a residence on his claim. Mr. D. Lantis came up from Silverton and built a house on his claim.

Mr. Jas. Rosell, the gentleman who bought Bill Mack's place, will move up as soon as he can get a residence for his family.

Shorty Myers, the gentleman who has taken a claim in the forks of Silver creek, has built a shanty, and is making a road so he can move in.

There is a party coming up from Salem on the 30th of December, to hunt deer, or dears, they did not say which, but let them come, either are plentiful.

Bees do well here. Mr. George Lehman says he sold all the honey he had at 12 and 15 cents per pound, and some parties are contracting for the next year's supply.

There is great need of houses around Argenti, and some of those who own lots in Silver Creek City would do well to build houses, as there would be no trouble in renting them for a good price.

The young folks of the North Silver creek neighborhood gave Mr. Jack Patton a nice surprise party, on the 20th of December. The following persons took part: Mr. and Mrs. F. Rolston and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hull and family, Mr. Vangorder's young folks, Pearl Smith, L. M. Ormsby, Pearl Hubert, Messrs. Bob and Jack Patton, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Brown. The P. M. of Argenti got there.

USE.

The Mongolian Pheasant.

This valuable addition to our native game birds was imported from China a few years ago. It has increased with surprising rapidity in western Oregon, Washington, and in the north western corner of California, under effective legislative protection.

It is unusually prolific, hatching two and frequently three clutches per season, the first nest containing eighteen to twenty-five, the last from twelve to sixteen eggs. This accounts for the fact that several different sizes of chicks are frequently seen in one covey. The first brood when hatched is turned over to the care of the male until the second and third broods appear, when all are combined and cared for by both parents.

They do well in confinement. Hatched by the domestic hen, they are as apparently contented in following her as on their native heath; but at the age of six weeks they "shook" their adopted mother and depart, never to return, much to her grief and disgust. The plumage of the male is extremely brilliant and attractive. As a table dish it equals the partridge and and prairie chicken of the East.—Scientific American.

According to recent information, cannibalism is very prevalent in some places in West Africa, near to the British settlement, and not actually in the protectorate itself, and so serious and frequent has become the kidnapping of individuals who have gone out alone that in some parts persons dare not venture beyond their own town for fear of capture.
