THE CAPITAL JOURNAL WILLAMETTE

MATTIE MITCHELL.

of the Most Beautiful Girls in Washington.

Miss Mattie Mitchell is a former Washington favorite, and her return, after an absence abroad of three years, is hailed with delight by a large circle of friends. Miss Mitchell is the youngest daughter of Senator John H. Mitchell, of Oregon, and she has the advantage of her father's popularity in addition to her own charming personality. She is one of the most exquisite bits of femininity in the country, and one of the most beautiful girls that Washington society has seen. She has a perfectly moulded figure, slightly below the medium height Her face is pretty with a prettiness that dazzles. Her eyes are purplish and dark-lashed. Her hair is a rich bronze, that masses itself confusingly, and her skin is something marvelous in its satin texture and wild-rose tints. Her daintiness and the perfection of her beauty makes her more like an exquisite piece of bisque than anything else.

Miss Mitchell is as cultivated as she is beautiful, and is accomplished in every way to the last degree. She is a fine musician as well as a remarkable linguist, speaking several languages with a native fluence, and is constantly adding a new foreign tongue to her accomplshments. This winter Italian is taking up her attention and she devotes several hours a day to mastering that language by herself, young to have been a belle for a season or two, three or four years ago, but a numerous train can testify to her prowess at that time, and are delighted that the speculation concerning her permanent stay abroad is at least temporarily settled by her determination to stay in Washington this winter.

In spite of her three years of residence abroad and many stories to the contrary, Miss Mitchell is as thoroughly American as ever, except perhaps for some delightful little mannerism—an indefinable little shrug, a delicate turn of the hand, the merest suggestion of an accent, and the confidential little "don't you know" that punctuates her sentences. Her delight at the prospect of another season here is unnafected, and she loves Washington as the only home she has much recollection of.

Mrs. Mitchell being an invalid, the housekeeping cares of the lovely home at 1714 Connecticut avenue, rest upon the shoulders of the daughter, whose housewifely airs daughter, whose housewifely airs and graces are as lovely as herself.

The big rooms are assuming a delightful coziness under her supervision, and the thousand and one state street.

clever result of her taste. Senator Mitchell's handsome dinners will be doubly attractive this winter owing to the presence of his daughter. Their entertainments will undoubtedly be more quiet in character than agressively gay, owing to the indisposition of Mrs. Mitchell.

Next to her new housekeeping to her little nephew, who is almost omnipresent in his charming auntie's boudoir, and whose constant companion he is in all her morning outings.

Altogether Washington society is to be congratulated upon the return of Miss Mitchell and the opening of another hospitable home.-Washington Post.

Edward Bellamy, the author of "Looking Backward," has just writthe Eyes Shut, ' in which he describes an approaching phonographic age. The use of the series of the ic age. The uses which are found for the phonograph are novel and amusing. Passengers on the railway trains are supplied with phonographic literature, so that their eyes are not injured by reading in a jotting-coach. The names of the stations are announced by phonograph in clear tones, which form a striking contrast to the incomprehensible gibberish of the ordinary brakeman. Mr. Bellamy describes a night's experience in a hotel. He was startled from his dreams by the sound of a voice. He continues:
"What had startled me was the voice of a young woman who could not have been standing more than ten feet from my bed. If the tones of her voice were any guide, she was not only a young woman, but a very charming one. 'My dearsir,' she had said, 'you may possibly be interested in knowing that it now wants just a quarter of three.'" His terror vanished when he discovered that the voice issued from a clock which was equipped with a phonographic announcing apparatus.

For the Public Good.

It is an indisputable fact that the handsomest vestibule trains that are now run on the American coatinent are those on the Burlington route, leaving from Union depot in Denver, also St. Paul, immediately on arrival of all through trains from the west. The first and second class coaches are magnificent, the rec'ining chair cars suburb, the Pullman sleepers extremely luxuriant, and as for the meals that are served in those palace Burlington dining crrs-yum yum. The next time you go east to Kansas City, Chicago or St. Louis, if you mention to the ticket agent that you want your ticket to read from Denver or St. Paul over the Burlington route, you will get it, and you will always be glad of it.

win get it, and you win always be giad of it.

If you go via the Northern or Canadian Pacific, the elegant vestibule trains of The Burlington Route, between St. Paul and Chicago, or St. Louis, will carry you along the eastern shore of the Mississippiriver for a distance of 350 miles, amidst scenery that cannot be surpassed; or, if you go via the Oregon Short Line or Southern Pacific, and your ticket reads via The Burlington Route from Cheyenne or Denver, you will pass through all the thriving cities and towns located in what is popularly known as the Heart of the Continent.
