CAPITOL ADVENTURE COMPANY,

Opera House Corner,

SALEM - - - OREGON.

OREGON CLIPS.

There is great fatality in stock about Arlington.

Baker county has been visited by a terrible windstorm.

The wife of Dr. H. R. Littlefield, of Lafayette is dead.

Andrew Day an old resident of Goldendale died Jan. 3.

Stock losses in Crook county will average 10 to 20 per cent.

The road will soon be open between Salem and Ashland.

The extent of the water-shed of the Willamette is 12,000 miles.

Another terrible wind and rain storm is reported from Nevada.

Isaac Constant, an Oregon pioneer, was buried at Jacksonville the 11th.

Four hundred families are said to be ready to leave Los Angeles for Oregon.

The big rains will make a profitable mining season in Southern Oregon.

The Marion county court met Thursday to consider bridge reconstruction.

A catamount weighing 50 pounds was shot by Chas. Gibson near Pendleton.

The assessors convention is in session at Portland. They met Wednesday.

A local correspondence from Champeog was received to-day about ten days old.

Eggs at Salem are 25 cts. Communication with Portland will send them up to 40 cts.

The railroad through the canyon between Dunsmyr and Scott is still closed with earth and water.

The Portland market is dull and nothing doing. We quote potatoes $1.60 to $1.75 per cental; onions $2.25 to $2.50; oats 38 to 40 cents per bushel.

Roseburg Review: The very worst feature of the late flood is just now becoming apparent. It gives the "oldest inhabitant" an excuse for calling up his oft repeated reminiscence of the great flood which occurred in the sixties.

The Jefferson Review says that to R. E. Keene is due the credit of saving the Stayton bridge. Mr. Keene allowed himself to be lowered from the bridge onto some drift that had accumulated against one of the piers, and while swinging by a rope sawed a large log in two which allowed the drift to swing clear, and float down the river.

Albany Herald: It seems that Oregon City has been the heaviest loser in the floods, of any of the Willamette valley cities. Many industries had started up there in the very path of destructive floods, and have suffered in consequence thereof. It is fortunate that the owners of these enterprises, as a rule, were wealthy men, and the plants will be replaced very soon.

The Assessor's convention at Portland adjourned; among other resolutions the following was adopted:

Resolved that we are in favor of the repeal of the mortgage tax law, on the ground that it drives money off and excludes money from the state, and because the consequent increased rate of interest invariably falls upon the lender. Also that a law be passed compelling assessors under penalty to assess all property at its true cash value and that the law allowing exemption indebtedness be also repealed.

Eugene Register: Since the floods have subsided, investigation reveals the fact that abutments and piers have not been properly constructed to withstand the pressure brought against them, and a number of valuable bridges have been lost in consequence. Good rock or concrete foundations, and solid masonry for piers and abutments, will cost more than cribs, but the superstructure will last longer and the county will be gainful in the end. Now is a good time to figure on the difference in the cost between iron and wooden bridges.

Yamhill Co. Reporter: The rainfall since January 1st, has been great for Oregon, last Thursday, Friday and Saturday witnessing the greatest precipitation. From signal service officer Wyatt Harris we learn that the rainfall during January was 14.21 inches, January 25 to January 31, 9.59 inches; to February 21, at 7 a. m., 4.67 inches; to February 3, at 7 a. m., 1.58, making the total rainfall from January 25 to February 3, at 7 a. m., 15.84 inches, the ten days' rain from January 25 to February 3, exceeding that of the whole month of January by 1.93 inches.

THE ASYLUM.

Dr. Lane Will be Invited to Appear Before the Grand Jury.

The investigation of charges against Dr. Lane is proceeding. It was learned on the street that before the jury adjourns Dr. Lane will be given a chance to appear and make a statement about the charges published in the JOURNAL. The grand jury will, whether it finds a true bill or not, probably make out a written report to the court. If obtainable this report will appear in the JOURNAL, and if fully exonerated we shall be glad to do Dr. Lane full justice.

LATER.—It is reported that Dr. Lane has declined to make any statement before the jury. This is only rumor. We cannot believe that Dr. Lane will place himself in such a position.

The Unitarian Society. At the annual meeting held Thursday evening, the resignation of Rev. M. V. Rork was accepted. His sermon of last Sunday evening on the church and state caused some comment, and some objection has been raised to the pastor's views on politics and religion. A resolution was adopted very complimentary to Mr. Rork, and a number of the society expressed themselves preferring to continue the old relation, "politics and probi. thrown in." All was said and done in the kindest manner.

A reporter called on Mr. Rork, who declined to make any statement. In the talk it was learned that other fields had been inviting the now ex-pastor for sometime. He had been in favor of building a church and widening the field of the society's work. The society was able to do this and he did not want to go on in the old way. He thought a people's church of no denomination, that would work for the spiritual elevation of the masses might be a success in Salem; did not know as it would be desired. He was elected as state organizer of the new national party last fall.

A prominent member of the society was seen and told the reporter that steps were taken to employ another preacher and the society would not long be without public services.

At the meeting of the Unitarian society last night T. L. Golden, Wm. England and Mrs. N. A. Golden were re-elected trustees of the society for three years. There will be no services next Sunday, Mr. Rork contemplating entering other fields of work.

FILINGS AND APPOINTMENTS.—Articles of incorporation were filed in the secretary of state's office to-day by the Hood River Town Site company, with E. L. Smith, M. V. Harrison, Joseph A. Wilson and L. E. Crowe incorporators; principal place of business, Hood River, Wasco county; capital stock, $10,000. J. DeLotts, Beaverton, Washington county, was appointed notary public.

A LITTLE BLAZE.—The house of Geo. Neal, on Liberty street, just north of the bridge was discovered to be on fire this morning about 7:30 o'clock. It evidently ignited from the stove pipe, and might have been a serious blaze had it not been for the prompt and efficient aid rendered by Geo. Wilkins and others. As it is the damage is very light.

WILL LEAVE US SOON.—Louis H. Tarpley, who was appointed commissioner for Alaska sometime ago, informs a reporter that he will probably start for his new headquarters about March 1st. He has all his papers in shape and is only waiting for the weather to settle.

BRIDGE REPAIRING.—Street Commissioner Graham has been busily engaged the past week getting in place, where it is possible, the city bridges torn out by the flood, and putting in necessary repairs to insure safe travel. The bridge at the foot of the John Hughes hill is refitted, also the large bridge on Winter street near Applegate and the bridge on the corner of Church and Mill streets will be in place and fully repaired in a day or two. The work is progressing as fast all around as the means on hand will allow.

FLAG OF DISTRESS.

The Man Who Had a Fat Porker and Wanted the Rescuers to Sell it for Him.

During the memorable Tuesday of the flood week, when the raging waters were sweeping down the Willamette with destructive force, threatening houses and other property on both sides for uncertain distances, the gallant young men of Salem had formed rescuing parties, and wherever distress was expected or feared, they launched their boats and tendered their assistance, thus doing much good work and being ever ready to do more.

There lives a short distance above the city on the Polk county side an old gentleman of the genus Yankee, with a big Y, and the rescuers, thinking perhaps his domicile might be in danger from the flood, laboriously pulled across the angry stream and inquired whether he was uneasy or desired to be moved out.

"Na-a-w, I guess not," said the imperturbable old gentleman; "I guess I'll stay a while longer and see how the thing looks." This was in the forenoon and the waters were elevating at a rapid rate, so the boys told him if he should find himself in any danger through the day to hoist a flag of distress and they would come to his relief. Keeping their eyes watchfully open along the western horizon, the rescuers, some time during the afternoon, descried the unmistakable flag of distress flying from the premises of the old gentleman aforesaid. Into their boat jumped two of the most stalwart youths, and the river being now a boiling torrent, the most heroic pulling was necessary to cross its almost resistless tide. They finally reached the yellow house at the foot of the hill and asked the old man if he was in danger and desired to be moved.

"Na-a-w; I reckon I'm in no particular danger, but I have a nice fat pig here and I thought as now maybe you'd take it over to Salem and sell it for me," coolly remarked the color-bearer of distress.

The feelings of the rescuing party can better be imagined than written out.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

Miss Eliza Maasey will re-enter school Monday, after having been absent for several weeks.

Miss Cora Rigby, of Tahoma, Wash., received a telegram yesterday announcing the serious illness of her father.

Dr. Jessup presented the Woman's college with a neat stove for the study hall. His generosity was duly appreciated.

Mrs. Prof. Jory spent Tuesday visiting the school. She spent most of the day in the mathematical department and seemed to be well pleased with the work being done.

Miss Jennie N. Long, the eloquent teacher of the University, will give one of her popular readings at Silverton to-night. The Silverton people will surely have a literary treat.

Prof. Van Scoy went down to Mt. Angel this afternoon to spend Sunday with Mrs. Van Scoy and his little son Paul, who has not been in very good health of late, and Mrs. Van Scoy took him out to her father's thinking the mountain air would be beneficial to him.

The University band played the march in chapel Thursday. The band now numbers fifteen instruments. The boys seem to take considerable interest in the work and are making rapid progress. The band was presented with a new waltz at their last meeting, composed by Prof. Parvin which he entitled "Fair Mount Park Waltz."

Prof. Van Scoy took the trouble to obtain a few statistics of the school, Tuesday, which exhibit some interesting facts and go to prove that people can better see the advantage of their privileges only when they are deprived of them. His observations show that of the 200 students now attending the literary department only about 30 are of Salem, while 45 come from other states and 35 of that number are from the new state of Wash. and ten from the other states and territories mostly from Idaho and Montana. Scarcely a county of this state but has a representative in the school at present. While Salem can boast of her splendid school facilities yet she does not patronize them as she should. There are young people in this city who could not make a better investment than putting in a few years in some of our schools.

IT WAS McCLEVLAND.—An article in Monday's JOURNAL relating to the young girl at Tacoma committing suicide over a colored lover caused considerable discussion among those who were acquainted with the parties. It has since been learned that it was undoubtedly the colored waiter McClelland, who was the dusky spouse. McClelland drew his revolver on Isaac Grant Ford in this city instead of Robt. Ford Jr. as was stated. McClelland was always considered a tough character and is now where he properly belongs.

WILL HAVE A FERRY.—A JOURNAL reporter accosted Mr. Thomas Holman this morning and learned from him that he had been successful in obtaining a good ferry boat at Portland, but said he: "It may be six weeks yet before I can get the boat up here, owing to the condition of the locks at Oregon City. And to accommodate the present need I am having a small hand boat made which will answer all purposes until the locks are repaired."

Mr. Workman came very near having quite a runaway last evening, he had left his horse standing without hitching it while he went in a house; as soon as left alone the horse started down the street at a lively gait and if it had not been for C. M. Buster who was coming up the street at the time and who ran in front of the horse with a good sized club causing it to stop, otherwise it might have done some damage.

I. O. O. F. MEETING.—Olive Lodge No. 18, I. O. O. F., meets to-morrow night in regular session. All members requested to be present. Degree work to be done. Visiting brethren invited.

BEING REPAIRED.—Workmen are busy at work on the Commercial street bridge across North Mill creek, and the street car company think they will be able to run through cars to the fair grounds not later than Monday. This turn of affairs will be hailed with delight by those living in that part of the city.

A GREAT SCHEME.—That is, buy those three lots of the Willamette Investment Company, situated near the fruit evaporator, the woolen mill, the fruit cannery (to be built), the railroad and the depot. Just the place for a factory, lumber yard or a residence. Handy to power. See The Willamette Investment Co. at once and get figures on this. It's "cheap as mud."

Make No Mistake. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing by its peculiar combination, proportion and preparation, curative power superior to any other article of the kind before the people. For all affections arising from impure blood or low state of the system it is unequalled. Be sure to get Hood's.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Pipsissewa, Juniper Berries, and other well-known and valuable vegetable remedies, by a peculiar combination, proportion, and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla curative power not possessed by other medicines. It effects remarkable cures where others fail.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best blood purifier. It cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Bolls, Pimples, all Humors, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Indigestion, General Debility, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver complaints; overcomes that Tired Feeling, creates an appetite, builds up the system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has met unparalleled success at home. Such is its popularity in Lowell, Mass., where it is made, that Lowell druggists sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than all other sarsaparillas or blood purifiers. The same success is extending all over the country.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is peculiar in its strength and economy. It is the only preparation of which can truly be said "100 Doses One Dollar." A bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla taken according to directions, will last a month.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is peculiar in the confidence it gains among all classes of people. Where it is once used it becomes a favorite family remedy. Do not be induced to buy other preparations. Be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine.
