WEDNESDAY MARCH 4

SOME COMING EVENTS

ANNOUNCEMENT

EXTRA EDITION

Five Thousand Extra Copies of the Weekly Journal to be issued March 6th.

THE FIRST REPUBLICAN YEAR.

March 4, 1890, closed President Harrison's first year of republican administration.

President Harrison has on the whole, so far as his messages and appointments go, applied republican principles and fairly met these great issues.

SENATOR ALLISON RE-ELECTED.

When this eminent Iowa republican shall have served the term in the United States Senate to which he has just been elected he will have been in public life for thirty consecutive years.

Senator Allison has been threatened with defeat in Iowa. He may modify his course in the future somewhat, to meet the demands of the thousands of organized farmers and laborers of Iowa.

CRAUNCY M. DEWEY.

Some of the corporation organs are urging the great president of the Erie system of railroads for president of the United States. It can never be.

A bright young lawyer, he was sent to the New York legislature. He was there discovered by the Vanderbilts and taken into their service.

With other brilliant intellects of the highest type he will never be, if fated never to be, president. Since Lincoln and Grant adorned the presidency, mediocrity has adorned that station for her own.
