THE FIRST VESSEL - "Sixteen years ago," said S. D. Adair, yesterday, "the first vessel that ever loaded its entire cargo at Astoria, was chartered by Dr. Ang. C. Kinney, and loaded at the Farmers' dock," says the Astorian. "It was a great event for the town, as you may suppose, and we Astorians felt very much pleased. My father, Gen. John Adair, said: 'Sam, make out a deed for a town lot and make a vessel,s name was the Vermont, and the captain's name was Eichardson. I made out a deed for a lot in upper Astoria, and gave it to the captain, said he would keep the deed safely. this year are double what they have time. been any former year, he wants to know what I think his lot is worth. I wrote in reply, that I thought it would be cheap at eight hundred dollars."

FOR SWAFFORD AND THE BRIDGE. View of the Situation By the Friends of the Ex-Treasurer.

There is a good deal of excitement over the springing of an opposition candidate for city treasurer, and the friends of Mr. Swafford and a good bridge are up in arms and desire through the JOURNAL to Fine Furniture, elegant in finish, make a full statement to the people in order that they may vote advisedly next Monday.

The facts are, the main object the people of Salem are after is the decorations, lace curtains over 200 bridge and a good bridge, and they patterns, curtain poles, dadoes, want it as soon as possible. It may be asked what connection has the election for treasurer of the city with the bridge? It is just this: Mr. Swafford resigned in order that Picture Framing and Furniture re- the people of Salem should be able pairing Warerooms 318--320 Eldridge to get a vote on the bridge, and by as nearly an unanimous a vote as possible to declare themselves in favor of the bridge to be built before the summer is over. Sole feets every business man in Salem and every farmer in reach of Salem. Business men should consider themselves under some obligation to Mr. Swafford for resigning his office temporarily for the benefit of the city, and the whole community should see to it that there be no division or expression of a tack of confidence by any division of votes. At the same time it can be said that Mr. Swafford has proven himself a safe, reliable and efficient officer, and has never sacrificed the confiof his while in office or out. Let us present of it to the captain.' The make no mistake next Monday on this matter Given large and full vote for Bridge Bonds and E. J. Swafford for city treasurer.
