LOTAN says: "Thumbs up." Simon says "Wiggle-waggle."

It looks as tho' Utah will be admitted as a state. Large colonies of Mormons are preparing to colonize Canada.

As cleanliness is next to godliness, the Salem steam laundry moving into the former Methodist church is a very appropriate move.

THE republican county convention will be composed of a pretty solid lot of working republicans that are a terror to the democratic politicians.

THAT fearless and honest democrat, Senator Beck, of Kentucky, is said to be in failing health, and ex-Speaker Carlisle is to be elected in his place, in case of a vacancy.

PARIS editors are not pleased at holding the world's fair in Chicago. No foreigner would be, unless he generally wished to visit a distinctively American city.

AS numerous in their business, why will not the clergy take up the subject of filthy alleys and disease-breeding washhouses for vigorous discussion in the pulpit.

"THE JOURNAL is the paper that the people read" said a clergyman this morning. "Attendance at my church is nearly doubled by proper announcement in your columns."

A RENOWNED English statesman, the Marquis of Normandy is dead, aged 72. At different times he held governorships of Nova Scotia, Queensland, New Zealand and Victoria.

HAS the Roseburg Review noticed that the courts have upheld Congressman Herriman of Oregon in his position that the government must restore his salary stolen by the democratic sergeant-at-arms Silcott?

THE Canadian contingent of escaped democratic state and city treasurers, (including Silcott), and defaulting bank cashiers and other thieves is to be reinforced by a hegira of Mormon politicians. That will make a very pretty colony to join!

THE editor of the Chicago Tribune, Mr. Medill, is on record as predicting that Grover Cleveland will be the democratic nominee in 1892, even if Mr. Hill should go into the convention with the New York delegation at his back.

THE Oregonian may yet turn around so as to favor prohibition altogether. It has got so far as to favor a commission to investigate the evils of the liquor traffic, and to believe that it is a good thing to teach the evil effects of intemperance in the schools.

THE republican congress proposes to put a tax on hides, which are now sold at ridiculously low prices on the Pacific coast. The duty of 1 1/2 cts. a lb. will go into the farmer's pocket and will never be felt by the person buying a pair of shoes. Last year we imported about $20,000,000 worth of hides.

THE JOURNAL is enthusiastic for a clean city and it has interviewed some of our aldermen on the prospects of a general clean-up of the city. The main business streets are being cleaned and the city attorney is drawing up an ordinance to enable the police to assist in keeping the city clean. It is time heroic measures were taken for the health and welfare of the city.

ABOUT THE NEW PARTY.

Democrats are saying that the Union party is only a foil to help the republicans, and some republicans think that it is only a scheme to assist the democrats. Neither of these assumptions is to the point. The real question which men inclined to act with the third party should ask themselves seriously is, whether there is anything in the political situation of the day to justify their running the risk of wasting their vote on any third party.

The usual fate of third parties has been annihilation before they were strong enough to accomplish much. They are disintegrated by changed conditions and new issues that arise overshadow them in importance. The Grange party once got over a million votes and had control of several state legislatures. The Greenback party had over a million votes once, with representatives in nearly every legislature and in both branches of congress. The Prohibition party vote has risen to nearly half a million in the different states and yet in the second national contest it marked a decline, and its fusion with the Union Labor party will undoubtedly mark its disappearance as a separate political organization. Third parties may exercise a purifying influence in politics and elevate the standards of public sentiment. The republican party itself started into existence as a coalition of third and fourth parties.

The situation at present is very simple. The republican party has been placed in power in all three branches of the government. The congress now in session is fairly organized and at work earnestly and expeditiously to redeem the pledges upon which the people entrusted it with power. It has already framed a bill to reduce the tariff about $50,000,000. The free coinage of silver will be established by law. There are bills pending covering every proposition advanced by the Union party. No doubt such will be enacted into law as are required by the general necessities of the country and the welfare of the people.

It is entitled to be sustained by the people in its efforts to restore the prosperity of the nation. If the people are sincere in their desire for reform, and we believe they are, they will sustain the republican party.

Voters who are animated more by an honest desire to accomplish reforms, than by a passion to down or destroy something, will not stickle at the label under which the article is to be furnished so that the same be the genuine thing. If every reform voter waits until he can get the union party into power before he will accept a reformed currency, or a reformed tariff or a reform of the telegraph monopoly, he may never live to see any of those desiderata accomplished. The thing for every sensible reform voter to do is to take hold by the nearest available handle and get all that is possible to be had in the way of successful results. It is the duty of every man who believes in reform measures to let no opportunity go by without advancing the reform that is nearest his heart, and hence we say the union party at its state convention should sustain the postal telegraph bill that is before congress. If they do not they lay themselves open to the charges for insincerity. We do not expect to influence the leaders of the Union party very much; but we believe some of the voters who will be asked to sustain that party will hesitate before throwing away their votes, or at least before they will refrain from holding up the hands of the only party that is in a position to accomplish anything. If every reform voter will support the republican party it will be made so strong that it can carry out every reform that is promised the people by the third party. Let us make the republican party the people's party. This can be done. The people can make any party do their bidding, if they knock at the door and knock loud enough. The leaders are quick to hear and no officer hears more quickly than a representative in congress. Let the wants of the people be made known; and let the party that is in power be made to serve the people, as it is already disposed to do, and the result will be far more satisfactory to the independent voter than if he throws his vote away on any new office or power-seeking combine.

Have the DAILY JOURNAL left at your door and get all the news, at 10 cents a week.

SUSTAIN THE PEOPLE'S MEASURES.

What is a political party for, but to serve the interests of the people? It is not a success if it is only a machine to protect preferred interests and advance personal ambitions. If it would be strong with the people it must earnestly and persistently champion popular measures. We are of those who believe that the republican party is destined to remain what it always was and what it proved to be in 1888, a popular party of the masses, a champion of reforms for the people. We believe there is not a reform asked for in the domain of finance, tariff, or franchise, but can be better obtained from the Republican party than from any other.

We believe the Marion county republican convention will do much to popularize the party and make it strong with the people if it takes strong grounds in favor of a revision of tariff as proposed by the republican bill now before congress. Let it show its colors on the silver question and adopt a strong resolution in favor of a free coinage bill. It could also well afford to uphold our able and fearless postmaster-general in his intelligent effort to secure for the people the benefits of cheap postal telegraphy. The JOURNAL has no desire to dictate in these matters, but it believes that the republican party owes it to the masses of the people to aid popular measures at every opportunity. If a political party is not here to serve the people, what is it here for?

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

Some of the friends of Judge Shaw are urging him to again become a candidate for county judge. Mr. Shaw has now held the office two terms, and while some would apply the universal two-term rule against him, many more are willing this rule should not be adopted in filling the county court. No objections that we can hear of are made to Judge Shaw's administration of the office, and if there are any existing objections they had better be brought to the attention of the public at once, that the matter may be canvassed and a more proper friendly to Judge Shaw as a rule, the there may be a few remote localities, where his prompt and liberal action toward securing a bridge over the Willamette at Salem has not met with universal approval.

THE COUNTY DELEGATES.

THE JOURNAL contains a list of the delegates returned from the several precincts in Marion county. They are a fairly representative set of men, who can be trusted to do the work entrusted to them. As a body they are men who represent no faction and wear no collars. They will put up a successful ticket and select a strong delegation to the state convention.

P. T. BARNUM has the courage to defend the 500 ballet-girls he has brought from Europe against the assaults of a Bridgeport clergyman. He says: "This sensational preacher never saw them except while, unbeknown to him, they were worshipping in his church and writhing under his unjust and unchristian denunciations. As a friend I advise him to discontinue his circus pranks in the pulpit, of which a dime museum manager would feel ashamed."

Out of the Fire

Tormented with Salt Rheum—Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Only those who have suffered from salt rheum in its worst form know the agonies caused by this disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla has had great success in curing salt rheum, and all affections of the blood.

"I owe the gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla that one would to his rescuer from a Burning Building. I was tormented with salt rheum, and had to leave off work altogether. My face, about the eyes, would be swollen and scabbed, my hands and a part of my body would be raw sores for weeks at a time, my flesh would seem so rotten that I could roll pieces from between my fingers as large as a pea. One physician called it type Poison and gave me medicine accordingly; but salt rheum cannot be cured in that way. Finally I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It helped me so much that I took two more bottles, and was cured. I have not been troubled with salt rheum since. I also used Hood's Olive Ointment on the places affected. It stops the burning and itching sensation immediately. I will recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla not only for salt rheum, but for humors, and that 'all-gone' feeling so often experienced."

A. D. BROWN, J. makes Plain, Mass.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any other.
