

THE UNION PARTY.

Complete Report of Proceedings of State Convention.

Special report to the JOURNAL by J. P. Robertson.

OSWEGO CITY, April 9.—The convention was called to order at 25 minutes to 11 a. m., by Dr. J. F. Hendricks, of Linn county, chairman of the state central committee, appointed at our preliminary meeting at Salem last September.

He expressed gratification at seeing so many and so earnest representatives present. The first business was the selection of a temporary chairman.

B. C. Failing, of Portland, representative of Organized Labor of Oregon, was placed in nomination and unanimously elected.

Mr. Failing thereupon came forward and took the chair with a neat extemporaneous speech. He likened the convention to a skilled blacksmith who wished to forge an iron rod that would reach two points, and had good, solid iron sufficient but it was not in one piece.

He must cleanse his forge, heat the iron, and weld the different parts with a master's skilled hand. We have the elements and the principles, let us to-day skillfully weld them.

It was ordered that each county delegation appoint one member of the committee on platform. The following members were selected by their delegations:

Benton, C. C. Hague; Columbia, T. W. McKitter; Clackamas, W. W. Meyer; Clatsop, S. B. Smith; Douglas, Jas. Byron; Josephine, G. M. Miller; Jackson, C. H. Wallace; Linn, J. E. Knox; Lane, A. J. Yonait; Marion, J. P. Robertson; Multnomah, J. A. Power; Polk, A. W. Lucas; Umatilla, J. M. Riches; Wasco, Leslie Butler; Washington, M. E. Johnson; Yamhill, J. H. Bowman.

Anticipating a little friction in welding together the different elements, the committee were most agreeably surprised, when comparing notes, to find that we were already practically united in sentiment and purpose.

However, among the flood of propositions we found it necessary to prune a little here and add a little elsewhere. This was all done without irritation or ill feeling. After four hours arduous session we reported a platform embracing, as we think, all or nearly all the cardinal reforms now demanded.

The convention throughout was courteous and confident of polling a vote in June that will surprise those who seek to belittle this movement. Two things were conspicuous by their absence, namely tobacco and whisky.

On reporting the platform the committee were further surprised as well as gratified that it was so satisfactory, that it was moved to adopt unanimously as a whole, which was carried amid great applause without one dissenting vote.

The following incomplete list of nominations was adopted as the Oregon state ticket of the union party:

For congress, Major J. A. Bruce, of Benton county.

For governor, left in hands of executive committee.

For secretary of state, Nathan Pierce, of Umatilla county.

For state treasurer, E. F. Walker, of Jackson county.

Superintendent of public instruction, T. C. Jory, of Marion county.

State printer, J. A. Power, of Multnomah county.

Supreme judge, left in hands of executive committee.

[The platform adopted does not vary much from that already printed in the JOURNAL. Ed. J.]

For Governor. Dallas Observer: The coming state republican convention promises to be one of no small interest.

On the question of governor, matters are in an unsettled state, and he who can foretell the outcome is indeed a wise man. Portland has two candidates—D. P. Thompson and Van B. DeLashmutz; Z. F. Moody, of The Dalles, is put forward with a considerable following, while Hon. J. D. Lee and John Minto are looked upon with favor by not a few.

Hence it is difficult to tell who will be the coming man. And the office of state treasurer is not going begging by any means. Eastern and Southern Oregon will each come down with several candidates, and a lively fight will undoubtedly ensue. Upon these two offices hinges the interest in this convention.

Hermann, for congress, McBride, for secretary of state, McElroy, for superintendent of public instruction, and F. C. Baker, for state printer, will be nominated on the first ballot, with little opposition: There are also several aspirants for supreme judge, among whom is mentioned favorably the name of Hon. Warren Tritt, formerly of this county.

Corporations in Politics.

In a speech accepting the presidency of the Southern Pacific railway, C. P. Huntington said:

"While we are all working for ourselves, the public, who use the roads of the company, are more benefited than we; but gentlemen, the best results cannot be brought about unless every officer of the company gives his best attention to the care of the company's interests, which can be best done without interfering in political affairs. The people are everywhere jealous of great corporations. The corporation should not be used to advance the interests of any political party, or to raise up any one man or to pull down another, and this corporation shall not be so used henceforth for any such purpose, if its president can help it.

This may be accepted as a confession of past iniquities, rather than a pledge of future good conduct. This man Huntington has run the politics of California for many years and his road has dominated conventions, dictated nominations and elected governors and United States senators whenever he saw fit. If there is any credence to be given this profession of subordinating the selfish interests of this monopoly to the welfare of the people, it is not based on the experiences of the public in the past. The people are jealous of the encroachments of great corporations and do not propose to rest until all such powers are taken away from them, and the power of millionaire autocrats, who employ public franchises, obtained from the people, for their own private use must be broken completely.

This confession of Mr. Huntington only strengthens the determination of the masses to wrest the power of sole control of their enormous properties and the entire transportation service, which is by its very nature a public service, from the hands of men who have only abused the powers and privileges granted them.

Remarkable Rescue. Mrs. Michael Curran, Plainfield, Ill., caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a victim of consumption and no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and now does her own household work as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles at Fry's Drug Store, large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

R. C. Wariner, a prominent real estate agent and mining broker of Baker City, is in the city. Mr. Wariner has a fine line of property for sale on the installment plan on easy terms in the Denver of Oregon, and he can be seen and consulted at the Globe Real Estate office, 292 Commercial street, during the week, where he has a complete lithograph of Baker City.

The Capital City railway company is prepared to tell home-seekers something of its advantages. Mr. Davidson has taken charge of their real estate department at 115 State street. Call and see him.

Unless they want the governor's office monopolized by rich men, the people of Oregon should advance their governor's salary from $1500 to $3000 or $5000 a year. If the Pan-American delegates should visit Oregon's capital $1500 would not banquet them.

The Portland West Shore says: A young lady in Weston, Or., dreamed her lover gave her an engagement ring, and thrust her finger into a knothole as a substitute, from which when she awoke, she could not extricate it until she had aroused the whole family. The dream was doubtless meant as a warning to foolish maidens that marriage is not only a failure, but a delusion and a snare as well. It is awful easy to get in, but it sometimes requires the assistance of all your relations to get you out again.

Astoria Pioneer: "As goes Multnomah, so goes Oregon" has in the past been true, and for this reason it lauged that the Lotan victory in Portland last week points to a reelection of John H. Mitchell to succeed himself.
