AN INDIGNANT POPULACE.

Complaint is made from Butteville, in the north end of this county, that a distillery exists close to the town which totally ignores the law of Oregon in relation to Sunday closing and furnishes material of its manufacture to a large number of thirsty individuals, who wallow around in the front yard surrounding the premises to the great disgust and annoyance of law-abiding neighbors.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Commander D. C. Sherman, of Sedgwick post, No. 10, G. A. R., has been detailed as passing officer for the purpose of organizing a camp of sons of veterans and Thursday evening at Grand Army hall, this city, is the time for organization.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

At a meeting of the members of the First Presbyterian church last night the resignation of Rev. Newell was accepted. There was a large attendance and Mr. Crawford presided.

TO SEE HIS COUSIN.

Mr. J. I. Thompson, a prominent democrat of this city, took this morning's north-bound train. He said he was going to Portland to interview his "cousin," David P., who, he claimed, was the only member of the Thompson family he ever knew of standing a show to get anything from the public.

NOT CAUGHT YET.

Dolph Gouche, the Butteville criminal spoken of in yesterday's JOURNAL, is still at large. He succeeded in crossing the river and concealing in the brush and timber, but his escape from the clutches of the law is considered beyond reasonable probability.

AN IMPORTANT SUIT.

Brought By E. F. McConnaghy, of California Against the State Land Commissioners.

The papers in an important legal action were served last evening by a deputy U. S. marshal upon Governor Pennoyer, Secretary of State McBride and State Treasurer Webb, constituting the state board of land commissioners, the complainant being R. F. McConnaghy, of California, and the relief demanded being an injunction restraining the board from the sale of state swamp lands.

The cause of the suit is a dispute between the complainant and the state board relating to the interpretation of the law governing the sale of swamp lands. Mr. McConnaghy was the purchaser from C. N. Felton for $50,000, Felton being a grantee from H. C. Owen, of 42,207.50 acres of swamp land in Lake county, to which Owen had secured certificates in 1878, and to which McConnaghy expected to obtain title through the ordinary process which was supposed to be allowed by the acts of the legislature in 1870 and 1878.

The cause of the trouble seems to be that a different interpretation of these laws was made by the land board of recent years to that formerly accepted. They have held it as the intention of the law that state lands should be sold only to actual settlers and in tracts not exceeding 320 acres.

The legislature of 1887 seemed to take this same view and passed an act instructing the cancellation of all certificates previously issued in contravention of this theory, and under this law the present land board has ignored the claims of Mr. McConnaghy and has been selling some of the land to settlers that are embraced in his certificates. The board was in session to-day and had applications for more of these lands, and it was to prevent their disposal that the injunction suit was brought. The officer was hurried hither by last evening's train that the papers might be served before to-day's meeting.

Mr. McConnaghy is a large cattle dealer and uses the extensive body of land for grazing and hay purposes and the defeat of his claims will be a serious loss to him, as he has spent some $50,000 in the purchase and fencing of the tract.

A JOURNAL reporter interviewed Governor Pennoyer this morning and was informed by that gentleman that the point in the case will be whether the Federal courts will declare void the state laws, but he is of the opinion that such action would be contrary to the general policy of the nation, which insures the control of internal affairs to each state. The case will be watched with a good deal of interest throughout Southeastern Oregon.

Superintendent McElroy returned from Portland last night, and goes to Benton and Linn this evening. There are twenty-one reports in from counties and the biennial report is being prepared. It will show about 125,000 children. Returns are coming in that Arbor day was generally kept all over the state and thousands of valuable timber and shade trees were set out.

"A small boy in South Salem was recently overheard praying God to make him like the Golden State Baking Powder. His mother thought that perhaps he was bound to rise, but on being questioned Willie explained that what he wished was to become 'strictly pure.'" P. S. This celebrated powder is sold by J. G. Wright. Every can draws a beautiful piece of glassware and you get a chance on an elegant gold watch.

FRESH VOICES.—The admiration of all passers to-day is a lot of fresh halibut, codfish, sturgeon and other deep sea fish just received at Steiner's fish market.

HOME INDUSTRIES.

The recognized policy of this nation is to foster and patronize home industries, and the principle is particularly applicable to growing towns and cities, with manufacturing in a position requiring the courtesy of home endorsement when their work is satisfactory. Salem has been but a comparatively short time in a healthy and prosperous manufacturing stage, and there ought to be sufficient local patriotism to encourage the position and increase its strength. The secret of a city's success is united effort, and even if an occasional sacrifice has to be made the ultimate result will be sufficient reward. Any product of home manufacture that will meet the requirements should be the first choice of consumers, and this is the only principle that will bring to fruition the hope of Salem citizens to see their city the leading manufacturing center of the Willamette valley.

PLEASANT PICNIC.—Company I, Second regiment, O. N. G., of Macley intend giving one of their annual picnics some time next month, the exact date of which will be announced hereafter. These gentlemen always give a pleasant entertainment and the event above spoken of will be no exception. If the weather is as pleasant as Oregon May usually is the picnic will be held in the grove, but if the elements interfere it will be held in the new hall. The doings will end up with a dance at night.

PROBATE COURT.—In the matter of the estate of D. C. Byland, deceased, Mrs. Mary A. Byland, administratrix, presents to the court and files herein a duly verified inventory of said estate. NEW BOOKS.—Mr. Patton received about two hundred and forty volumes to-day as additions to the I. O. E. and Masonic libraries.

More new shapes just in at Calvert's millinery emporium.

The Salem Excursion.

About 180 excursionists from Salem came up on the boat Sunday, arriving at 12:30. The Second Regiment band furnished some fine music and the people enjoyed themselves in viewing the sights about the city. They remained until 4 o'clock, when the boat left on her return to Salem.—Albany Herald.

BRIDGE NEEDED.

The people of Butteville and the farmers tributary to that town are very anxious for the rebuilding of a bridge across a gulch that exists in the north end of the town, which was washed out by the February freshet. The absence of the bridge causes a bad break in the Butteville business, and forces farmers to travel several miles to reach a traveling point. The expense of building it is estimated at $250, and the county court will be asked to move in the matter as soon as possible.

A Question.

To the Editor of the Capital Journal: Aumsville, Or., April 21.—Please allow me to ask a question of the Union Labor party. I ask it for information regarding the holding of that party, and not for controversy. I hope Mr. J. P. Robertson, or another well-informed leader will answer candidly.

It is this: If you had a pretty safe prospect of winning every article of the fourteen in your platform except the 5th, and that one was pretty sure to sink you; would you be willing to lay aside for the occasion your fifth article, for the sake of carrying the rest; taking chances on carrying the issue of your fifth article on its merits afterwards? Very many men will endorse every plank in your platform but the fifth one; and it is on behalf of such that I ask the question. F. S. MATTERSON.

She leaves a husband and seven children, who mourn the loss of an affectionate, loving wife and mother. Since the year 1873 she and her family have been residents of Benton county, Oregon. She was an obliging neighbor, respected by all who knew her. She made a profession of religion in her sixteenth year, lived a consistent Christian life for 54 years and then died in the triumphs of the Christian faith. The funeral services were conducted by Bishop J. W. Hott of the U. B. church.
