THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Evening Capital Journal to Receive the Associated Press Dispatches.

The following telegram received Saturday at this office will be pleasant reading to the friends of THE EVENING CAPITAL JOURNAL:

OFFICE OF ASSOCIATED PRESS, PACIFIC COAST AGENCY,
To THE EVENING CAPITAL JOURNAL, Salem Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—We will begin sending you a regular day service of the Associated Press telegrams, beginning May 1st.

CHAS. S. DIEHL, Supt.

The above is an important piece of news to this paper, and all its friends will rejoice to learn that the managers of the JOURNAL have closed a contract for the Associated Press service for six years. THE JOURNAL will hereafter print all the news of the world furnished by this great news-gathering agency and regularly sent to afternoon papers all over the nation.

This will necessitate considerable increased expense to the publishers, and we look to an increased subscription list and advertising patronage to make up in part the investment incurred. THE JOURNAL will deal liberally and fairly with all its patrons and asks their generous support.

NARROW GAUGE ACCIDENT.—An accident occurred on the narrow gauge railroad near Mount Angel Saturday which resulted very luckily in the fact that there was no serious injury to any person and but little injury to property. The principal passenger car was thrown from the track and all the windows on one side broken, the passengers, to the number of ten or fifteen being scared out of their wits, but not hurt. Thos. Riches, the accommodating postmaster of Silverton, was among the number, but he felt the suspicious movement of the car in time to rush to the door and jump before the catastrophe occurred. A severe shaking up was the worst consequence and the passengers were bundled into the mail and baggage car and taken to Silverton.

STATE STREET.—Half of a store room on this street that has just been vacated, has a dozen applicants to rent it. This would indicate a great need of new buildings on that street. Some of the progressive property owners on the street should make a note of it and put up more good stores. State street has a fine business future before it, and this future could now be made a grand success and be rapidly materialized by prompt action. There is an immense sight of travel on State street.

CHANGE OF FIRM.—Messrs. Cannon and Miller have sold their interest in the Globe Real Estate Exchange to Messrs. Auterson and Frost. Mr. E. D. Woodard continues as heretofore, and with Mr. Frost takes charge of outside. Mr. Auterson is secretary. This makes a very strong team of active, energetic and experienced men, who will push any business entrusted to them with great expedition.

STILL ON TOP.—Mr. E. M. Waite has been in a condition the last few days leaving his numerous friends to wonder whether the bucket was going to be kicked or not. But Pap Waite is not a kicker—not even at a bucket—and he is just going to give some other fellow a chance to hurt his toes if he wants to. In other words, Mr. Waite has shaken loose from his severe chill, has fired his worst dose of fever out the window and will be sailing through the city on his bicycle in a day or two.

FOR A GLORIOUS FOURTH.—"Be sure and whoop up the special board of trade meeting to-night for a Fourth of July celebration," says President John G. Wright. Every man who has any business interest in Salem should be on hand.

TROUBLE AT JEFFERSON.

The Farmers Find Themselves Short of Grain at the Jefferson Warehouse

There has been some trouble between the patrons and managers of the Jefferson flour mills and warehouse, as to the wheat stored there, and this culminated in a public meeting of the parties interested Saturday afternoon for the purpose of investigating the actual condition of affairs. This was not found satisfactory and indignation ran high.

Finally, Henry Barendrick, who has had principal charge, requested those interested to appoint a set of trustees to whom a special assignment could be made of the contents of the mill and the improvements made thereon by the present company in control. In accordance with this, a meeting was held Sunday evening and the following trustees appointed: F. M. Miller, Eli Vaughn, D. H. Looney, F. Bagley and H. Hoyt, who will take charge and make what they can out of it. Mr. Barendrick turned over all accounts to the trustees and is making every effort to see that his patrons shall not lose anything.

Since going under the present management the mill has had a heavy expense for new machinery and improvements, and the disappearance of the grain can only be accounted for upon the hypothesis that the managers expected with an increased business to be able to replace it, while the drains for their improvements could be met no other way than by the sale of the grain and flour.

There is a strong effort to be made to organize a stock company to take charge of the mill, as it is recognized as a good property, and all will yet be well. It is calculated that the best which can be done with the present assets will leave a shortage of 14,000 or 15,000 bushels of grain.

Henry Barndrick is an old resident of Salem and there are countless numbers here who have absolute confidence in him; they are slow to believe a report of any wrong on his part, and will be rejoiced to see this muddle amicably adjusted.

I. O. O. F.—As announced in Saturday's JOURNAL, that evening saw a brilliant gathering in Odd Fellows' hall for the purpose of celebrating the seventy-first anniversary of the institution of the order. The following program was admirably carried out: Opening address, Jas. Walton; vocal solo, Miss Edith Farrar; address, Tilmon Ford; instrumental solo, Miss Pearl Scott; poem, John Minto, Sr.; annals of Chemeketa lodge, C. B. Moores; vocal trio, J. H. Ross, H. Kundret and J. Wenger; annals of Olive lodge, John Moir; music, Reed's orchestra; vocal solo, Miss Hally Parrish.

EIGHT HOURS.—The Alka-Hesperian members decided Saturday night that the government should enact an 8-hour law, the eloquence of S. B. Crandall, N. R. Gaylord and A. D. Murdock overcoming in the mind of the president that of C. F. Pence, S. Vandersol and Gideon Stolz. There was a good attendance and an excellent discussion. The question adopted for discussion next Saturday evening is, Resolved, that iconoclasm is necessary for progress, with A. D. Murdock to lead in sustaining the affirmative and N. R. Gaylord the negative.

SABBATH SCHOOL.—The people of Macleay yesterday organized a union Sabbath school, with the following officers: Superintendent, Mrs. Hurst; assistant superintendent, J. W. Forney; secretary, C. J. Simeral; chorister, Dan Early; assistant chorister, L. S. Brower; librarian, Miss Josie Taylor. The school starts off with a good membership and gives evidence of a successful existence.

200,000 BRICK.—We shall fire our first kiln of 200,000 brick in a few days and will have them ready for delivery within two weeks. A. A. and E. Burton, Salem Oregon. Yards near penitentiary. d3t

The Avenue Lawn Tennis club will meet at the residence of Mr. J. H. Albert, Tuesday evening, for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization.

POMONA GRANGE.

What Was Discussed and the Attitude of the Grangers.

From one who was in attendance at the Pomona Grange of this county which held a session at Woodburn last Saturday, we learn that the grangers are awake to what they consider the interest of the producing classes which may be affected by the action of our next legislature. It seemed to be the unanimous opinion of that body that our last legislature was controlled by monopolies and that its action was detrimental to the best interests of the state.

That it was extravagant in expenditures for clerks who had nothing to do.

That it appropriated by special and local laws about $126,000 for state roads in violation of the state constitution.

That it rendered the R. R. commission useless.

That it refused to pass any laws to properly equalize taxation and that farmers are now paying much more than their share of the state and county taxes.

In order to ascertain the sentiments of candidates nominated for the legislature, on questions which are discussed in the granges, it was resolved to propound to these candidates, irrespective of party, certain questions, some of which are in substance as follows:

Are you in favor of providing for the election of railroad commissioners by a direct vote of the people, and of granting such commissioners power to regulate freights and fares on the railroad?

Are you in favor of the Australian system of voting?

Are you in favor of the free coinage of silver?

Are you in favor of precinct assessors?

Are you opposed to creating non-taxable bonds?

Are you opposed to the repeal of the usury laws?

Are you opposed to the mortgage tax law?

Are you opposed to appropriating money from the state treasury for "laying out, opening or working on highways?"

Will you vote to instruct our senators and members in congress to support the resolution in congress to so amend the constitution of the United States as to provide for the election of U. S. senators by a direct vote of the people?

It seemed to be the sense of the meeting that the tendency of legislation both in congress and the states was to favor monopolies, and make the rich richer and to impoverish the producing classes. And that self respect as well as self defense required of farmers that they know the character and sentiments of the men whom they support for office, so that they may refrain from voting for candidates who are hostile to, or indifferent to, their interests.

The grange also considered the matter of making an exhibit at the next state agricultural fair for the Pomona grange of Marion county.

STATE STREET.—Half of a store-room on this street that has just been vacated, has a dozen applicants to rent it. This would indicate a great need of new buildings on that street. Some of the progressive property owners on the street should make note of it and put up some more good stores. State street has a fine business future before it, and this future could now be made a grand success and be rapidly materialized by prompt action. There is an immense sight of travel on State street.

GRAND ENTERTAINMENT.—It would be difficult to imagine a better or more enjoyable event than was partaken of by the members of the Good Templars' lodge in this city at their hall Saturday night. An amateur drama was presented in good shape, several pleasing selections were sung and a delectable feast of ice cream, cake, and other delicacies was served, all of which was enjoyed completely by the large audience of members and guests.

POSTPONED.—The case of the state of Oregon against Wm. Benson, for assault and battery committed on Thursday, April 24th, by striking J. H. Penland, was to come up before Justice J. M. Chase this forenoon, but was postponed until after dinner and again until to-morrow at 10 o'clock. A jury trial is demanded and the delay will give an opportunity of summoning the Jurors.

DIED.

ZIEBER.—At his mother's home, a short distance north of Salem, Saturday evening, April 26th, Albert Zieber, aged 62 years.

Few men better known or better liked throughout the valley than Al. Zieber and around Salem his name is a household word, as he was the first man initiated into the order of Odd Fellows west of the Rocky mountains. His name stands in a high place of honor in the records of Chemeketa lodge, this city, to which he has belonged since 1852.

In early days he was engaged in river steam-boating and afterwards carried on a mercantile business at Wheatland, where he was a severe sufferer by the flood of 1861, after which he went to to Portland and conducted a successful livery stable some years. Selling out in that, he embarked in the hotel business, of which he made a success, in the Clarendon and Cosmopolitan, and was extremely popular with the traveling public until he retired and became United States marshal, which position he filled to satisfaction.

His remains were brought to the city and his funeral took place this afternoon from the Protestant Episcopal church, under the auspices and with the beautiful ritual of Chemekete lodge, I. O. O. F.

Central Committee Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the republican central committee of Marion county, at the parlors of the Chemekete hotel in Salem, on Saturday, May 3d, 1890, at 1 o'clock p. m. All members and candidates are requested to be present.

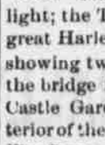
The attraction at the Opera house next Saturday night will be the bright and sparkling young soubrette Katie Emmet, in her successful play, "The Waifs of New York," in which she assumes the character of the brave and fearless newsboy, Willie Rufus. Miss Emmet is one of the brighest soubrettes upon the American stage. The part of Willie Rufus is exactly fitted to her abilities. Manager Harry Williams, who directs her tour, has secured for her an excellent company, and all of the special scenery for every act of the play is carried by the company. The play is one of the best before the public. It tells a simple and pathetic story of the trials and sufferings of two homeless and friendless waifs cast adrift upon the cold charity of the great American metropolis. Elaborate scenic effects showing well known localities in New York: Old Trinity church by moonlight; the Tombs police court; the great Harlem railroad bridge scene, showing two railroad trains crossing the bridge in the opposite direction; Castle Garden at sunset; the exterior of the Tombs and the grand Fire Scene at Five Points. In the company supporting Miss Emmett is Geo. W. Thompson, the favorite German comedian, T. J. Langdon, Chas. Patterson, Edward Knott, W. F. Walcott, Miss Maud E. Peters, Nellie Maskell, Lottie Williams and La Petite Lillian, a wonderfully clever child actress five years of age, who enacts the character of Little Girtie, the waif.

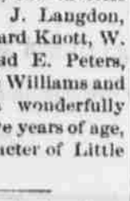
Mr. F. D. Crewe, who has been here in the cigar business the past year, will start in a few days, accompanied by Mrs. Crewe, for Empire City, Coos county, with a view to making their home. They like Salem very much, but Mrs. C. thinks her health would be better on the coast. They came here from Georgia and are highly respected by all acquaintances.

Mr. John Blevins, of Tangent, Linn county, is in the city to-day. He is one of the prosperous farmers of that region and looking around for a safe place to drop some money for speculation.

CLEAR YOUR FACE.



It is now known that a pimply skin is not the result of blood disease, but is caused by impaired digestion, for which they now give vegetable correctives instead of minerals. Two short testimonials are given to contrast the action of the potash sarsaparillas and Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Mrs. C. D. Stuart of 1221 Mission street, S. F., writes that she took one of the leading sarsaparillas for indigestion and dyspepsia. Its only effect was to cause pimples to appear on her face. Upon taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla the first effect was the disappearance of the pimples and she was subsequently relieved of the indigestion and dyspepsia.



Robert Stewart also writes from Petaluma, Cal., that being troubled with boils he found that one of the leading sarsaparillas actually increased the eruptions, which responded at once to Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and disappeared immediately.
