TOO BIG TO BE TRUE.

$25,000 a Day Said to be Taken out of Myrtle Creek Mines.

Dr. J. M. Taylor, business manager of the Myrtle Creek Consolidated Gold and Mining Co., is in the city. A limited number of shares will be put in the market here, the stock books having been left at the office of Writsman & Hulbert for this purpose. Dr. Taylor has some wonderfully rich specimens taken from the mines, which are considered promising. The capital stock is $625,000 divided into 25,000 shares, which is made paid up capital stock on the payment of five dollars per share. The mines are hydraulic, and some rich free gold deposits have recently been taken out. The company numbers among its board of officers some of the wealthy and influential men of Linn county, the officers being in Eugene. Dr. Taylor in a statement concerning the mines says, Long Slim Jim Weaver and John Weaver in one pan of dirt and gravel washed out $148, which was taken from one of the claims. In another of them Joshua Fawcett, with a few inches of water, washed a place about 50 feet long, 6 wide and 7 deep, taking out $200, and in another place in the same claim he drifted and made 5 oz. a day to the man. In one of John Nickel's claims with a very few inches of water he washed out $400 from a place not more than 12 feet square. When there is any water they all take out gold. As to the ground I believe there is enough, with the amount of ground now controlled by the company, which is 2,080 acres, to last 50 years, with a sluice head of 1,000 inches and dump sufficient to carry it away. The ground is loose without any large boulders, the largest not being more than 75 or 80 pounds, and I only saw one that large. Should the dirt average but 25 cents to the ton (a very small estimate), with 1,000 inches of water at a pressure of 200, it would wash away 100,000 per day, which would yield $25,000 a day. I think some of the ground will go as high as $100 to the ton. The mine can be in working order with a full head of water in four months from the commencement of work on the ditch, which the company now propose to construct.—Albany Herald.

Spring Fever.

At this season of the year the most vigorous and hearty people often have a feeling of weariness, tired and worn out, without ambition to do anything, and many break out in pimples and boils. What you require is a mild tonic medicine that will act gently on the liver and blood, and for this, nothing equals Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. They give an activity to the liver, purify the blood and by their mild tonic action, new vitality and strength to the entire system. Sold at 25 cents a box by Smith & Steiner.

A WORTHY INSTITUTION.

The Children of the Deaf Mute School Show Remarkable Progress and Talent.

There is perhaps no public institution of an eleemosynary character in Salem whose good work is more apparent or more appreciable than that of the institution for deaf mutes, under the practical direction of Superintendent P. S. Knight.

The school year closes to-day and a number of ladies and gentlemen availed themselves of Prof. Knight's invitation and were preseut to witness the closing exercises, which were public, and to look over the improvements made on the build ing and grounds.

The exercises were held in the large hall built the past year in the southeast corner of the grounds, which serves for a chapel and drill room, and though, like all the other buildings, which have been erected by Mr. Knight and the members of the school, it is plain and unostentatious, it is commodious and pleasant, well ventilated and comfortably seated.

A trip through the several apartments found everything in the best of order, and arranged with a view to the health, convenience and pleasure of those in attendance. The sleeping apartment of the males is nicely divided off into good sized rooms by partitions, so that each boy has a separate room and bed, where he keeps his clothing and other effects. This building is lighted by electricity and heated by steam, as are all the others. It has a high ceiling and is finely ventilated. It is the intention of Superintendent Knight to have like arrangements in the girls' building as soon as possible.

The printing office was visited, where a neat little monthly paper, The Sign, is printed, and it is one of the neatest, cleanest offices ever entered by this scribe—but in fact neatness and cleanliness characterize ever nook and corner of the whole premises. The Sign is printed on a half medium jobber of beautiful pattern. The work of issuing the paper is all done by members of the institution and is very creditable.

The work in the school room is under charge of Prof. Benj. Irving, and those present this morning joined in unanimous verdict that it is well done. There was undisguised admiration and much wonder at the intelligence and aptitude displayed by the afflicted little ones in mastering the intricate signs necessary for their intelligible intercourse with the world and with one another.

Little fellows who entered the school only last fall can now recognize and repeat all the signs, can read and write rapidly and correctly, can add and subtract small numbers and show their work and that of their tutors has been zealous and intelligent. The larger pupils show corresponding advancement and made such a showing in all the common branches as would astonish those of their age who have all their senses. Prof. Irving shows himself a master of his profession.

Among the contrivances worthy of note is the blackboard in use, which is arranged in a frame, curtain fashion, is worked by a cord and pulley and being of an endless strip is kept constantly going around, a boy standing back of it erasing the chalk marks while those in front are working, thus making no interruption to the class drill.

Nearly all articles needed in the institution are manufactured there, the boys all learning trades and the girls fancy sewing, cooking and other useful habits. The order and discipline are perfect and the happy faces of all formed unmistakable evidence that happiness and contentment attended their school life.

One of the most interesting features of the exercises is the vocal class of some ten pupils, who are receiving drill in articulation, and whose performance in producing sounds shows the wonderful effect of practice. Some of them speak quite distinctly.

The pupils will retire to their several homes this week and school will be again resumed for the next year about the middle of September.

If Your Liver Reminds You

Of its existence by dull pain or sharp twinges in the right side, or beneath the dexter shoulder-blade, accept the reminder as a warning, and regulate the organ without loss of time, by the use of Hostetters stomach Bitters. The above symptoms are usually accompanied by yellowness of the skin, constipation, furred tongue, disorder of the stomach, sick headach and morning nausea. But a reform is promptly instituted by the Bitters, the best possible substitute for calomel, blue pill, and other super-potent and hurtful drugs erroneously designated as remedies for billiousness. Appetite and digestion are restored, and the bowels resume activity, when an impetus is given to the functions of the health by this sterling anti-bilious medicine, which also has the effect of enriching and purifying the circulation, and fortifying the system against malarial infection in air and water. It is also highly beneficial for rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles. s o d-1w

STORM IN BALTIMORE.

Falling Hailstones That Weighed Over Four Ounces.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 27.—The signal office report says: The heaviest hail storm on record passed over from the northwest between 3:45 and 4 p. m. Many thousand of windows in the city were broken, the damage being confined mainly to a western exposure. Many runaways are reported. Some horses and carriages were abandoned in the streets, their owners leaving them to seek shelter. It is probable that a number of people were injured as the stones were very large, some measuring more than two inches in diameter and weighing more than four ounces each.

Very heavy rain fell with hail, about one-hundredth of an inch falling between 3:40 p. m. and 4:50 p. m. Many of the car tracks at the foot of the hills are covered to a depth of six inches with the soil washed down upon them. The wind at 3:55 attained a velocity of thirty miles an hour, rapidly decreasing after the passage of the storm. The hail went through thick panes of glass as though they were tissue paper, and the amount of damage will run up into the thousands. Some of the hailstones were ragged and as sharp as steel blades. Hens' eggs were nothing to them in size. Many of them were as large as a man's fist. The storm came from the west, was local in its character, and swept to the east with a rattle like the roll of heavy musketry, frightening people out of their wits and hitting those who were on the streets many hard knocks and driving them into places of shelter. There was a perfect Niagara of water, with hail stones (or rather chunks of ice) weighing, some of them a quarter of a pound. Almost in an instant the streets were rivers, pavements were flooded from two to three inches deep and the man who remained on the streets was almost in danger of losing his life. The hail drove the horses wild. Those that pull the street cars became uncontrollable and the drivers were compelled to let them have their own way. People in the cars became panic stricken, and many of them crowded trembling on the floor of the cars, praying for rescue from the elements, while the drivers dodged the aerial missiles as best they could. All over the city the damage was heavy. On Charles street the windows looked as if they had been on a battlefield. In the annex the rain, wind and hail did more severe damage than in the city. Walls were swept down, houses unroofed, glass smashed and other damage done.

MORE SETTLERS WANTED.—A meeting of the real estate agents of Salem was held last evening for the purpose of deciding upon some plan for the increase of immigration to Salem and this part of the Willamette valley. It was agreed that every real estate firm would pay his just share into a fund for the purpose of paying suitable men to work in Portland, Seattle and other points and turn the tide of travel as far as possible in this direction. A committee was appointed consisting of T. H. Barnes, of the Salem Land Co., W. F. Peck, of the State land and Trust company; C. B. Moores, of the Oregon Land company; W. A. Shaw, of Shaw & Downing; P. S. Knight, of the Electric Street Railway company, and W. W. Bartlett, of Bartlett & Catterlin, and this committee is in session as the JOURNAL goes to press, settling upon some definite plan. The probability is that after raising the necessary funds a proposition will be made to the board of trade to work in harmony with the advertising committee of that body. There can be an immense amount of good done by the action contemplated.

TEMPORARY QUARTERS.—While the work of putting in the new iron and plate glass front is in progress, Sherm W. Thompson & Co. will conduct their jewelry business in the back end of their storeroom, and as soon as the repairs are completed they will open out with a large increased stock, new fixtures and everything in first class order.

SPECIAL MEETING.—There will be a special meeting of the city council this evening to take action on the contract for the big bridge, that the two counties may act thereon at their adjourned meeting to-morrow.

ASTORIA A CHIEF SEAPORT.—President Reid, of the Astoria & South Coast Railway Co., in his recent report to the directors, says: There are only four large safe ocean ports on the Pacific coast of the United States; viz: San Diego, San Francisco, Puget Sound and Astoria; the last named the terminus of your road, which with the suburbs, has seven miles of deep water frontage adjoining the jetty improvements, made by the government at an expense of $2,000,000. With steamers, a connection in twenty-six hours is had between Astoria and all ports on Puget Sound, without constructing any railway thereto. When the steamboat railway at the Upper Cascades is finished, the interior river grain traffic of eastern Oregon and Washington for 800 miles will terminate at Astoria, and there be placed on foreign bottoms to Europe, just as the Willamette valley and Western Oregon grain trade will do at Astoria, when this road is connected with the valley system of roads. The growth of Astoria is thus assured.

We may add to the above that the confidence of the Astorians in the growth and prosperity of their city is no less assured, and the generous expenditures they are making to advance the interests of their city give evidence of their determation to bring about the desired end.

They will report progress at next Monday night's meeting of the board of trade and receive such suggestions as that body may be willing to give.

TRIAL IN PROGRESS.—The trial of Wm. Beuson on a charge of assault and battery is now in progress in Justice Chase's court. The jury was not even impaneled in time for this issue, but W. D. Pugh, Wm. Ordinance No. 191.

An ordinance bill to amend section 7, title 2, chapter IV, of the City laws relating to nuisances

Be it ordained by the common council of the city of Salem

That section 7, title 2, chapter IV, of the city laws be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 7. Any privy or cesspool within the city limits which shall be maintained on any block in which there is a public sewer accessible thereto, without being connected with said sewer as provided by ordinance No. 169 as amended by ordinance No. 174, and any privy, cesspool, vault or drain within the city not so accessible to a public sewer, which shall be in such condition as to emit a noisome and offensive smell or endanger the general health, shall be deemed a nuisance, and upon being so declared by vote of the common council, the marshal shall immediately notify the owner of the premises where such nuisance may be found, to abate the same within ten days from the date of the service of such notice and in case the order is not obeyed within the time limited the marshal shall abate the same at the expense of the city, and such expense when ascertained shall be charged to the owner of the premises where such nuisance existed, and the recorder shall enter the same against him on the docket of city liens, and such expense shall be a lien on said premises as provided in subdivision 5, of section 6 of the city charter. Provided however that the time for connecting with such sewer may be extended by the marshal for good cause shown to him, and then only for a reasonable time.

Attest: L. F. CONN, Recorder.

Passed the common council, April 22d 1890 and approved by the mayor April 23d, 1890. GEO. WILLIAMS, Mayor.
