THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Evening Capital Journal to Receive the Associated Press Dispatches.

The following telegram received Saturday at this office will be pleasant reading to the friends of THE EVENING CAPITAL JOURNAL:

OFFICE OF ASSOCIATED PRESS, }
PACIFIC COAST AGENCY. }
To THE EVENING CAPITAL JOURNAL, Salem Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—We will begin sending you a regular day service of the Associated Press telegrams, beginning May 1st.
CHAS. S. DIEHL, Supt.

The above is an important piece of news to this paper, and all its friends will rejoice to learn that the managers of the JOURNAL have closed a contract for the Associated Press service for six years. THE JOURNAL will hereafter print all the news of the world furnished by this great news-gathering agency and regularly sent to afternoon papers all over the nation.

This will necessitate considerable increased expense to the publishers, and we look to an increased subscription list and advertising patronage to make up in part the investment incurred. THE JOURNAL will deal liberally and fairly with all its patrons and asks their generous support.

EVANGELICAL CONFERENCE.—The Oregon conference of the Evangelical church will convene at Albany on Friday May 2. Rev. J. Bowersox, P. E. of the Washington district and E. S. Bollinger, pastor of this city, will leave to-day for the seat of conference. The preliminary meeting will take place Thursday, May 1st. Bishop Thomas Bowman will be on hand to preside. An earnest effort will be made to prevent a division of the conference. If concessions will avail anything this body in the much distracted church will work together harmoniously. The majority favor unity without entering the domain of dispute. That side which refuses to conciliate will no doubt be looked upon as the aggressor in anything that may bring distress upon the local societies of this conference. Rev. Bollinger will undoubtedly be returned to this charge. He is a man of ability and in considerable demand, but his services here are apt to be worth more just now than anywhere else in the state.

FOUND GUILTY.—The trial of Wm. Benson for assault and battery committed on Jas. H. Penland, closed about six o'clock last evening and the case was submitted to the jury whose names were given in that afternoon's JOURNAL. They were out only a few minutes when they returned with a verdict of guilty. Justice Chase, in accordance with the verdict, assessed a fine of $25 and costs against him, amounting in all to $81.25. The evidence in the case was very conflicting and there was a determined contest on the part of the attorneys, so that opinions among spectators were strongly divided as to probable results, but the jury, who had listened carefully and with sworn impartiality, seemed to have no trouble in reaching a conclusion. The fine and costs have been paid and the case ended.

VOCAL MUSIC.—We hear great things of the Choral Union and its grand music. It is strange that Lafayette has always been ahead of all the towns of Old Yamhill in the line of fine vocal music, and not of this county alone, but of the entire state of Oregon. Hurrah for old Lafayette!—Ledger. Why not get the Lafayette Choral Union to come to Salem on the Fourth and render some patriotic songs.

PROBATE COURT.—In the matter of the guardianship of Harvey E. Massey, minor, Harvey Massey, guardian, files petition, which is granted for an order to mortgage real estate belonging to said estate. In the matter of the estate of Dr. F. H. Young, an inventory and appraisement filed; also a petition for an order for the sale of personal property. In the matter of the estate of Miss Sanders, a petition is filed for the appointment of Geo. W. Dimick as administrator.

WAS IT HE?

A Supposed Clue to the Unknown Man Found in Mill Creek Recently

B. J. Sharp, proprietor of the Oregon house, informed a JOURNAL reporter this morning that since the finding of the dead body in Mill creek, between here and Turner, he had been thinking over a former guest at his hotel, and is somewhat of the belief that this guest is the unfortunate victim.

His name was Leonard, formerly in the transfer business at Minneapolis, who had come to Portland with a view to remaining, but finally concluded to return and resume business at his former home. It would be guessed, though Leonard said nothing positive on this point, that he and his wife had not always lived amicably, and at the time to which reference is now made she was stopping with friends in the vicinity of Stayton.

On the 7th of last February, just after the flood and before railroad travel was resumed, Mr. Leonard came to the hotel, having walked here from Portland and being the first man through from there. He told Mr. Sharp he was going up to get his wife to go back with him to Minneapolis and that they would be down in a few days to stop over a day or two to view Salem and surroundings.

He took his departure for Stayton afoot, on the 8th, Mr. Sharp advising him to keep the railroad track to Turner, and that is the last Mr. S has seen or heard of him. He was a well built, forceful man of about 40 years old and wore a gray overcoat. The meager description which the condition of the body when found afforded to the reporters causes Mr. Sharp to think it more than probable it was the body of this man Leonard, though it is only a conjecture. There may be some JOURNAL readers in the Stayton neighborhood who know more of the Leonards and will send in further explanations.

GRAND STORE ROOM.—There are few if any finer rooms on the coast and none better stocked, than that just entered by the hardware firm of J. C. Brown & Co. It has a floor service in the front room of 110 by 40 feet, with warehouse and storage service clear back to the alley. It has shelving on one side 85 feet long, 16 feet high and close together, 20 inches deep, while under this are large drawers and nail bins four feet deep. Their large plate glass windows inclose a show space of 10½ by 6 feet, giving a fine opportunity for an exhibit. And all these spaces fail to accommodate their stock, a large amount of which has to be piled away. Railway ladders will be put in along their high shelving and every department will be in the best of style. But the office is one of its neatest features. George G. Brown, the book keeper, is ensconced in the cosiest kind of a "glass house," with a view of the street and the whole store. The safe and desk are built right into the north wall, thus utilizing space and making a very trim appearance. These gentlemen are proud of their new quarters and with good reason.

CITY HALL.—There is a fine opportunity for the establishment of a most appropriate room for general meeting and dancing purposes, operatic or theatrical. It is the Minto & Chapman brick, up stairs. There is a floor surface of 125x40 feet, which brought to a proper height and the requisite fixtures added, would make a splendid room for any of the purposes suggested. It is understood that Mr. Minto has the necessary improvements under advisement and only needs assurance of reasonably profitable use for it, to cause him to proceed. An opera house or hall company might be organized here that would lease the room. There is a wide and easily climbed stairway from Commercial street, also from the alley; the building is very solid and perfectly safe for a crowd, thus making a combination of facts in every way appropriate. Mr. Minto, just go ahead and fix it up, and Salem enterprise will soon make it profitable for you.

CAMPAIGN TO OPEN.—Col. Robt A. Miller, the democratic nominee for Congress in this state, passed south by last evening's overland train, accompanied by Chas. Nickell, of the Jacksonville Times. Col. Miller says he will commence his canvass at home in Ashland and Jacksonville next Friday and Saturday and work north, making a complete circut as far as possible.

FROM QUARTZVILLE.—Mr. Cannon, of the Dry Gulch Gold Mining Co., is in receipt of a letter from Mr. H. W. White, stating there is still two feet of snow at the cabins. It goes off very slowly, there is so much trash on it from the trees. The snow at the head of Gold creek is six feet deep and twelve to fourteen feet at Stampede Gap.

"THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE PACKED TO THE DOORS."—It is seldom that the Grand Opera House has contained as large an audience as that which was literally packed within its walks, last night, to listen to Mrs. Scott-Siddons' reading. It was long ago discolered by managers that readings were "slow," and that they did not "draw," and as a rule this is doubtless true; but fortunately for reading as a profession, there is at least one exception to the long list of readers whose performances do not prove pecuniarily successful, and it is quete unnecessary to tell the people of Toronto who the exception is. Of course unsuccessful readers are very apt to say that it is public opinion that it is a fault, and no doubt it is so verp often; but after all the public may not be very much astray in the estimate of the value of an entertainment. When a reader attemps to rival a good theatrical performance he must remember that that he is not only putting himself against fearful odds in point of members, but in point of surrounding as well. The public pay a certain sum or a certain amount of enjoyment, which is made up in various ways. It may be by moving them to mirth or solemity, or the stirring of emotions in which pleasure and sorrow are so commingled that the one is dependent upon the other for existence. Beauty, two is a recognized attraction on the stage, as the eye demands its share of enjoyment. Now in spite of all that may be said to the contrary, acting and reading are intimately associated in the minds of amusement-seekers, and what wonder is it then that clever individuals fail when they enter the lists against all companies of other people, who have the community of the play and all the stage accessories to help them along. Of course all this is not necessary to show why most of the reapers on the stage fail to draw houses, but it may help to show the nature and magnitude of Mrs. Siddons' success at a reader.—The Globe, Toronto. Mrs. Siddons at Salem for the benefit of the M. E. Church next Wednesday, May 7. See ad.

COURT STREET PRIDE.—THE JOURNAL a short time ago suggested the desirability and the grand effect of a cement sidewalk on State street as far east as the capitol, and now come several residents on Court street and say that such a walk is also desirable on that thoroughfare, and that they are ready to do their share of constructing it. Court is one of the grand driving or walking streets of the city; it is lined with fine residences, occupied by excellent progressive citizens, who it is believed recognize that the outlay for such a sidewalk, while appearing large to begin with, would be such an addition in its beauty and influence of increasing values, as to be one of the best investments that could be made. The best way to bring about this result is for some property owner to start in, and the work once begun will be continued until a cement walk on Court street will extend clear to J. M. Martin's corner, on Twelfth street.

PROBABLE SETTLEMENT.—There has been filed in the county clerk's office an assignment and bill of sale by H. Barendrick, warehouseman of Jefferson, to F. M. Miller, G. B. Hoyt, F. Bagley, D. H. Looney and Eli Vaughn, of all the accounts due the mill, amounting to $6,863.27; all the flour on hand, some 300 barrels and some three tons of feed, the assignees being trustees for farmers an the document being intended to cover a shortage of 23,000 bushels of grain. The history of the case was given in Monday's JOURNAL, and it is now believed that an anicable settlement will be reached and the farmers lose nothing by the transaction. Mr. Barendrick will do everything in his power to see that they are reimbursed, the shortage being the result of an error in judgment with no desire to swindle.

SONS OF VETERANS—Col. S. H. Griffith of East Portland, Commander of the Oregon division of the Sons of Veterans, has written Commander D. C. Sherman, of Segwick Post, G. A. R., this city, requesting him to act as mustering officer of a camp of that order at Albany, from which an application for a charter has been sent in. Mr. Sherman has accepted and will muster in the Albany camp some time early in May. Col. Griffith also says that Gen. Chas T. Griffin, of Indianapolis, commander-in-chief of the S. of V., will be in East Portland next Sunday, and would be glad to see as many of the Oregon "boys" as possible. Gen. Griffin will pass through here probably Sunday morning.

The many friends of Mr. Claire Baker, son of J. A. Baker, will be pleased to know that he is improveing after his severe attack of typhoid fever.

THE JOURNAL is noted for turning things up. Not long ago they moved the Coast range over east of Mount Hood, and only Saturday they gave Gov. Thompson 1000 votes from Salem. It is hard to keep up with them and consequently we don't try, but plod along content with knowing that our judgement is proving A. No. 1 in the selection of our property. People who buy of us, get their money's worth and are sure to make a profit very soon. Come and let us show you that bargain in Capital Park: House and 4 of the choicest lots for $800. Also some of those small tracts near town in the vicinity of the Garden road.

TEMPORARY QUARTERS.—While the work of putting in the new iron and plate glass front is in progress, Sherm W. Thompson & Co. will conduct their jewelry business in the back end of their storeroom, and as soon as the repairs are completed they will open out with a large increased stock, new fixtures and everything in first class order.

Another sale on the Garden Road Keep your eye on the transfers from that quarter. Governor Pennoyer will have to take hold pretty soon or pay higher prices for his country residence in Salem. By the way Englewood has had several good sales lately. Let us show you that 20 acres, finest on Salem prairie for $2500, Salem Land Co., Postoffice block.

THE JOURNAL local was in error in announcing that Mr. Creswell was an employe in the new clothing house of Johnson, Boothby & Co. Mr. Creswell is a partner, and this popular young firm are getting out a stock of spring clothing about the size and style of which they will soon have something to say.

MARRIED.

BAKER–LITCHFIELD.—At the residence of G. C. Litchfield, at 11 o'clock this morning, Rev. Rob Whitaker officiating, Mr. Harley O. Baker and Miss Lydia May Litchfield, both of Salem.

Only the immediate friends were present at the nuptials of these popular young Salemites. They received most hearty congratulations and many beautiful presents. The wedding party, after partaking of an elegant luncheon, accompanied them to the 1 o'clock train for Portland, whence they will return Friday evening and take possession of a comfortable home in one of the suburbs about two miles east of the city. THE JOURNAL joins their many friends in best wishes.

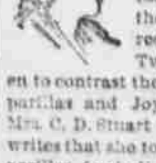
CLEAR YOUR FACE.



It is now known that a pimply skin is not the result of blood disease, but is caused by impaired digestion, for which they now give vegetable correctives instead of minerals. Two short testimonials are given to contrast the action of the potash sarsaparillas and Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Mrs. C. D. Stuart of 1?? Mission street, S. F., writes that she took one of the leading sarsaparillas for indigestion and dyspepsia. Its only effect was to raise pimples to appear on her face. Upon taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla the first effect was the disappearance of the pimples and she was subsequently relieved of the indigestion and dyspepsia.

Robert Stewart also writes from Petaluma, Cal., that being troubled with boils he found that one of the leading sarsaparillas actually increased the eruptions, which responded at once to Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and disappeared immediately.
