FREE WOOD AND DEMOCRACY.

"Governor Penoyer and Mr. Goldsmith meet with repeated discouragements in their effort to nullify the declaration of the Oregon democracy in favor of free wool. If there is any settled democratic doctrine it is that raw materials, more especially agricultural raw materials, and most especially wool, should be imported without duty. This is, of course, involved in the declaration of the Oregon democratic platform in favor of a tariff for revenue only, which the governor and the chairman are trying so hard to explain away. It was the doctrine of the last national democratic platform which endorsed the Mills bill. It was the doctrine of Cleveland's famous free trade message. It was the doctrine of the last democratic house of representatives, as well as of the last democratic administration. Free wool is the most distinct and pronounced article of faith to be found in the democratic confession. If there were any doubt on this point—as there isn't—it would be settled by the record of proceedings in the senate shortly before the final vote on the bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to classify wools as woollen which the president approved yesterday. During its discussion, of Arkansas, moved an amendment placing wool on the free list. All the democratic senators present—seventeen in number, voted aye; all the republicans present—thirty-four, voted no. This completes, confirms and strengthens the record. The democratic party is for free wool always and everywhere, in congress, in national convention in Oregon, in theory and in practice, in purpose and in act. It is only important to insist upon this because certain responsible leaders of the Oregon democracy are taking it upon themselves to declare that the party platform does not mean free trade in anything. Democracy means free wool everywhere."—Oregonian.

Who writes?—Every one in a while some one asks, "Who wrote that editorial?" or "That was a good article yesterday by Mr. Blank." We have taken this all in good part and have discovered that there has been a kind of practice here of some leading citizen furnishing the leading editorial articles on politics. It is not personal pride that prompts us to say it, but a desire to shield innocent parties, but unless an article is signed as a communication or otherwise marked to indicate its authorship, people may as well conclude that the editor of the JOURNAL is the author. He is engaged to edit this paper and no one writes editorials for him and no matter what may be their merit, such as they are, he is alone responsible.

We would consider it a breach of good faith to let our editorial columns to whoever might offer to fill them. Communications are welcome but the cool assumption that such and such a lawyer, doctor, politician or who-not wrote this or that editorial in the JOURNAL is ridiculous, as it is unfounded.

REV. BROWN A NATIONALIST. Rev. H. H. Brown, the new Unitarian minister, who is at Salem on trial for himself and the community to see whether he likes and whether the people like him, seems to be a nationalist. To judge from his articles in "The New Ideal" he would labor to harmonize socialism and nationalism. He is also strongly opposed to what are termed competition and "individualism." "It means each for himself. Success is to be won, if necessary by pushing, elbowing, crowding, trading upon the neighbor. It develops the egoistic at the expense of the altruistic faculties." New Ideal, p. 143. Then he quotes p. 144: "We war not on individuals" is the declaration of every Nationalist; "we would substitute a just for the present unjust system." If the church at Salem gets Mr. Brown it will secure a very progressive thinker, a man on the top wave of "Bellanyism," and who is able to defend his doctrines with pen and voice.

THE TIDE IS UPWARD. Let it be kept on the upward turn! One of the first indications of the improved order of things under a republican administration is the increase in railroad building all over the United States. There have been 1100 miles built already this year and 714 new roads are begun or incorporated. The construction will far exceed the mileage of 1889. The improving tide of commercial prosperity that is already felt in the East will soon spread to the west and be felt on the Pacific coast. The iron interests felt the first inspiring wave of restored commercial prosperity. The railroads are the next to respond to increased construction. The farmer feels them all and the increased demand for produce and the increased volume of money put in circulation will soon reach him too.

Beware of Quacks for Catarrh that Contains Mercury. As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle.

HAS MAN A SPIRITUAL NATURE?

This is an important consideration, because if the question is answered in the negative then many other questions need not be asked, much less answered. It will not do to take the answer of the agnostic or infidel as final; for it may suit their argument too well not to answer otherwise. We rest the answer upon the general belief of mankind for ages. It is almost impossible to examine an age of the world so remote, of which we have any record, that the people thereof did not have an abiding and well-grounded belief in the existence of man's spiritual nature. Mankind seems never to have doubted this. So widely and so inherently is this belief grounded in humanity that it has rather led the race towards superstition than towards materialism. The literature of the past is peopled with disembodied spirits and evidences of a spiritual nature in man. It is the teaching of christianity and the one universal belief of all races on the earth. Though some deny immortality of the soul, none deny its existence. That man has something in his existence that is deeper and more subtle than his intellect or morality; finer, higher and nobler in its very essence than even his conscience; an existence within his being; that is awake when all else is silent in sleep; that only inhabits his mortal body as a temporary dwelling place—none can positively deny and few dare to dispute. This is his spiritual nature—his soul—the divine spark of existence which when it is gone leaves the body that bore it cold and repulsive clay. It may be true that this spiritual nature of man is not equally strong or manifest in each human being; or it may be suppressed or driven back; but that it is a supreme part of each individual's nature we cannot deny.

WHO WRITES?—

Every one in a while some one asks, "Who wrote that editorial?" or "That was a good article yesterday by Mr. Blank." We have taken this all in good part and have discovered that there has been a kind of practice here of some leading citizen furnishing the leading editorial articles on politics. UP AND DOWN IS THE RULE AT ASTORIA. The Columbian says: Two weeks ago our people were "all in the dumps." To-day all are jubilant and confident.

FOR SALE.—Two fresh milch cows at a bargain apply to Julius Reef, on the Garden Road. 5-13-90.

WHERE STRIKES YOUR EYE DON'T SHUT IT, KEEP IT OPEN TO J. G. WRIGHT'S where you will find nice fresh strawberries and all other fruits and vegetables in market.

THE JOURNAL'S WANT COLUMN is the proper place to advertise small matters.

The State Grange meets in Salem May 27th. The usual reduction of railroad fares has been made.

"Tired all the Time." Say many poor men and women, who have overworked, or are debilitated by change of season, climate or life. If you could read the hundreds of letters praising Hood's Sarsaparilla which come from people whom it has restored to health, you would be convinced of its merits. As this is impossible, why not try Hood's Sarsaparilla yourself and thus realize its benefits? It will tone and build up your system, give you a good appetite, overcome that tired feeling and make you feel, as one woman expresses it, "like a new creature."

When on the High Sea. On the rail, on a steam boat, aboard fishing smack, or yachting on the coast, Hoffer's stomach Bitters will be found a reliable means of averting and relieving ailments to which travelers, mariners and emigrants are peculiarly subject. Sea sickness, indigestion, migratory or seasonal ailments, and all about to encounter unfavorable and unaccustomed climates, should not neglect to avail themselves of this safeguard of well ascertained and long-extended merit. Constipation, biliousness, neuralgic fevers, indigestion, rheumatism and affections of the bladder and kidneys are among the ailments which it eradicates, and it may be resorted to not only with confidence in its freedom from every objectionable ingredient, since it is derived from the purest and most salutary sources, it counteracts the effects of unwholesome food and water.

CAPITAL JOURNAL JOTS.

It is going to be free silver with a big F.

Read the first gun in the campaign.

THE JOURNAL is making conquest of one home after another.

The vegetarian claims it costs him but a few cents a day to live well.

All that is needed to be counted wise is to have a gold brick in your hat.

It is not so difficult to get up a boom as to sustain it for any length of time.

You may be never so poor but you can have one good thing—you can read the JOURNAL.

The man who can promise the most and get the man who can do the most, succeeds in politics.

The croaker has one merit: he warns other men that they too are liable to get in the slough of despond.

The newspapers of Astoria are a queer lot. They actually expect the Oregonian to treat their town generously.

The democratic candidate for state printer is Captain John O'Brien, a Siuslaw precinct, Lane county boy.

Monmouth has a "Normal Dormitory association," which proposes to furnish accommodations for the Normal students.

Prosperity is assured. Generous rains secure for Oregon grand crops. Nature has done her part. Now let congress pass the tariff bill.

There is a great difference between a political organ and a newspaper. But is a difference not very often carried out in practical results.

The problem is not whether to have a Sunday paper or not, but how to get up a paper good enough for Sunday the other days of the week.

The democratic party cannot sign a check on the tariff bank that will be honored by the people of Oregon if they all read Mr. Minto's arguments.

The town of John Day has organized a D. P. Thompson club. The town of All Night should now honor Gov. Penoyer in the same manner.

The Monmouth Democrat claims to have the longest subscription list in that county, by several miles, but it doesn't say that it has the most subscribers.

Professor Tucker, of Astoria, limits the original thinkers to three—Jonathan Edwards, Benjamin Franklin and Nathaniel Hawthorne. It seems to us this statement alone ought to make Prof. Tucker one of the distinguished list.

MILTON, Oregon, has produced "The New Walla Walla Herald." It does not know what its politics is, nor how long it will run. It is such a delightful uncertainty many people will read it just to be certain that it exists at all. It runs the Democratic ticket but don't dare avow its principles. Perhaps, like Artemus Ward, it has none, but is in the show business.

Up and down is the rule at Astoria. The Columbian says: Two weeks ago our people were "all in the dumps." To-day all are jubilant and confident.

SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings on the neck, causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causes blindness or deafness; is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," and fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption, and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can CURED Be?

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, or impure blood, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, sores breaking out on them in various places. My little boy, three years old, has been a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to foot. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we have all taken it. The result is that all have been cured of the scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.
