TALK IS CHEAP,

and the press teems with advertisements of sarsaparillas, and other liver, blood and lung remedies, but there is one medicine, and only one, the claims for which, as a cure for all lingering diseases arising from Torpid Liver or Biliousness, or from impure blood, are backed up by a positive guarantee! If it does not do just as represented in every case, the money paid for it is promptly refunded.

This peculiar medicine sells beyond all others throughout the civilized world. And why should it not? "Talk is cheap," but when it's backed up by a positive guarantee, by a house of long established reputation, for honesty, integrity and sound financial standing, then words mean business! And that's just what the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., mean in guaranteeing their Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery checks the frightful inroads of Scrofula and, if taken in time, arrests the march of Consumption of the Lungs (which is Lung-scrofula), purifies and enriches the blood, thereby curing all Skin and Scalp Diseases, Ulcers, Sores, Swellings, and kindred ailments.

OREGON CLIPS.

Yamhill Ledger: The re-election of Governor Pennoyer shows that the people of Oregon endorse his actions in vetoing the Bull Run water bill.

Prof. Rork: The people have recognized in Governor Pennoyer a a man who really stands and acts for most of the Union principles, a fact that easily accounts for his victory and must not be looked upon by our democratic friends as any index of their party strength.

Dalles Times-Mountaineer: Hon. D. P. Thompson was not our first choice; but as the campaign progressed and we became better acquainted with him we were very favorably impressed, and conscientiously supported him as a competent candidate for the chief executive of the state.

A Bear Valley Grant Co., item: The buckaroos say their horses get a bunchgrass move on them, and at times are very difficult to ride. It appeared last winter as if they might have lived some time on the thoughts of spring, if they'd had a photograph of a haystack to look at.

Ashland Tidings: The real enemy of the workingman is the fellow who eats up other people's production and produces nothing himself the monopolist, the speculator, the idler, the professional, politician are only the main few who are to be classed as the real enemy of the workingman—the producer—the creator of useful things.

Roseburg Plaindealer: As we understand it the free coinage advocates seem to have the best of it. We want more money to meet the demands of an increase in population and the consequent increase in business. Gold is not plentiful enough to meet the demand. Gives us more money to move our products of the forest, field, mines and of labor, and we will chance all deleterious consequences to business.

Catholic Sentinel: Governor Pennoyer is re-elected by four thousand majority over his opponent, D. P. Thompson. This is the more remarkable as the balance of the republican state ticket is elected by increased majorities. It is a splendid testimonial to Governor Pennoyer's honesty and faithful public service, and it is besides a stinging rebuke to those who would through ring methods and corruption foist an obnoxious candidate on the people.

Grant County News: Last Sunday a sad calamity befel Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Worsham, resulting in the drowning of their little child. They had strated to Fox valley in a buckboard, and when crossing the John Day one of the horses balked in mid stream and overturned the buckboard throwing them out, when the infant floated away on the swift current and was seen no more. Searching parties were at once organized, but nothing has been found so far but the shawl which was pinned about the little one when it its mother's arms.

Wasco County Sun, Dem: Governor Pennoyer's administration has been a popular one—his every act has been for the interests of the state, and so well has he performed the duties of the office that he is familiarly spoken of as "the people's friend." The willful falsehoods of paid stump-speakers and a mercenary press were of no avail; the friend of not only the poor, but of every citizen of the state triumphed, despite the babbling of these hirelings. Thousands of republicans warmly supported him, being satisfied with the manner in which he conducted affairs.

Oregon Vindicator: Mr. Thompson can thank the Oregonian for materially assisting in his defeat. That paper suddenly became very much concerned in the welfare of Mr. Thompson and advocated his election to a degree resulting almost in blackmail to Governor Pennoyer, The Oregonian did not "support" the republican legislative ticket, nor did it have much to say in favor of the republican state or county ticket. It "fought" for Mr. Thompson and he was defeated; it did not "support" other republican candidates and they were all elected. Had Mr. Thompson paid the Oregonian to keep still his chances of election would have been very much increased. Straws show which way the wind blows.

A Perfect Gentleman.

A perfect gentleman doesn't look all over a woman as if he thought her a bit of horseflesh, or was calculating the material her frock was made of and how much it cost.

A perfect gentleman doesn't come in a 1 o'clock at night and wonder why the woman who is fond of him was such a fool as to sit up and wait for him.

A perfect gentleman doesn't tell one woman what he knows about another, or give her his love experiences.

He dosn't dress to advertise the tailor shop, drink to boom champagne, or toot for a hotel that he may get his board for nothing. He dresses well because it's expected that he should; he drinks because he's thirsty, and whatever he lives he pays for it.

He dosn't complain of crying children, or express audible opinions about women in street cars or on the sidewalk, nor does he trample all over them getting in and out of the cars.

A perfect gentleman is the only man on whose heart you ought to be willing to lay your head and feel that you are at rest.

Debt of Western States.

The first results of the census of 1890 showing the indebtedness of cities, counties and states have been received at the census superintendent's office. Blanks were sent out to the proper officials in each state early in the year for authentic reports regarding indebtedness, and these have now been received and tabulated. The returns are all official and complete. They show the total bonded and floating debt of all the states combined, in 1890, to be $228,679,817.69 against $283,130,302.60 in 1880, a decrease of $54,459,488.91 in the past decade. The reduction in the national debt has been nearly $1,000,000,000 during this time.

That part of the returns particularly interesting to us, is the condition of the debt of the Western states. The following table is given, showing comparatively how the finances have been handled in the Western states, and which political party is responsible for their condition:

States	1880.	1890.
Ohio, Rep	$ 6,476,875	$ 2,790,865
Indiana, Dem	4,988,178	8,540,915
Illinois, Rep	281,055	24,100
Michigan, Rep	91,149	239,992
Iwonsin, Rep	2,000	None
Iowa, Rep	329,004	None
Minnesota, Rep	4,234,000	4,365,000
Missouri, Dem	15,539,000	8,884,000
Kansas, Rep	1,182,975	814,000
Nebraska, Rep	460,267	None
Nevada, Dem	436 004	502,000
Oregon, Rep	511,576	42,972
California, Rep	614,000	339,500
Total	$35,825,211	$26,000,845

Figures never lie, but they are nearly always fatal to democracy. Out of the thirteen states given, the three democratic ones have over two-thirds of the entire indebtedness. Indiana and Missouri have a greater indebtedness than all the republican states combined.

This is a record of which the republicans are justly proud, and whether the democrats regard it as do the republicans or not, the figures are there to always stand against them.

The complete figures in other republican states show a similar result, while in the strong democratic states, especially in the South, a very poor showing is made.

What McKinley Says.

In an article in the North American Review for June Mr. McKinley puts in condensed form a statement of the results he expects from his tariff bill. He says that the bill will make free, on the basis of last year's importations, $366,806,710 in value of foreign products; will place upon the free list imports to the value of $109,232,080 upon which the government last year collected in duties $60,936,536, and will diminish the dutiable importations from $484,431,398 to $375,624,687. The additions to the free list consists largely of commodities not produced in our own country, whose importation, therefore will not compete with production here. The exception is sugar, and this is met by a bounty on the home product.

Mr. McKinley says: "The bill is framed in the interest of the people of the United States, for the better defense of their homes and their industries; and while securing the needed revenue, its provisions look alike to the occupations of our people, their comfort and their welfare. It has been framed in response to the will of the people, as expressed at the polls in November, 1888."

Of course Mr. McKinley insists that the protective system is of great value to the United States; and in proof of this he cites the remarkable industrial progress that has been made under it. He quotes Mulhall, the great London statistician, who states that in 1860 our total wealth was estimated at $16,000,000,000; it is now estimated at more than $60,000,000,000. By the same authority the total wealth of Great Britain in 1882 was estimated at $40,640,000,000. Mr. Mulhall is quoted as saying:

It would be impossible to find in history a parallel to the progress of the United States in the last ten years. Every day that the sun rises upon the American people it sees an addition of two and one-half million dollars to the accumulation of wealth in the republic, which is equal to one-third of the daily accumulation of all mankind outside the United States.

While it need not be asserted that the increase of wealth in the United States is due wholly or even chiefly to the protective system, it may be argued, negatively, from the rapid growth of wealth that protection is not "impoverishing the country," as so many assert.—Oregonian.

FUN FOR ALL.

TOO GENEROUS.

"Is your husband a very generous man?"

"Indeed he is. You remember those nice cigars I gave him for a birthday present? Well, he smoked only one, and gave all the others away to his friends."

WORSE STILL.

"Practically I refused him, yes. I told him he must choose between me and smoking, and he said he would give up me." "It was your own doing, then, and you have no right to feel offended. No woman knows how dear a cigar is to a man." "Ah, had he had a reason like that it would have been different. But you must remember he smoked nothing but cigarettes."

DIDN'T WANT TO BE MEAN.

"Let's see," he said, as he met a friend at the postoffice yesterday, "didn't you have a lawsuit the other day?"

"I did."

"Who beat?"

"The other man."

"And are you going to carry it to a higher court?"

"Oh, no. I settled it."

"How?"

"After court adjourned I gave him the biggest licking a man ever got, and I don't want to be mean and appeal besides."

What it Costs

Must be considered by people, in buying the necessities of life. Hood's Sarsaparilla commends itself to the great middle classes, because it combines positive economy with great medicinal power. At this season of the year the most vigorous and hearty people often have a feeling of weariness, tired and worn out, without ambition to do anything, and many break out in pimples and boils. They give an activity to the liver, purify the blood and by their mild tonic action, new vitality and strength to the entire system. Sold at 25 cents a box by Smith & Steiner.
