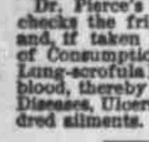
TALK IS CHEAP,

and the press teems with advertisements of sarsaparillas, and other liver, blood and lung remedies, but there is one medicine, and only one, the claims for which, as a cure for all lingering diseases arising from Torpid Liver or Biliousness, or from impure blood, are backed up by a positive guarantee! If it does not do just as represented in every case, the money paid for it is promptly refunded.

This peculiar medicine sells beyond all others throughout the civilized world. And why should it not? "Talk is cheap," but when it's backed up by a positive guarantee, by a house of long established reputation, for honesty, integrity and sound financial standing, then words mean business! And that's just what the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., mean in guaranteeing their Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery checks the frightful inroads of Scrofula and, if taken in time, arrests the march of Consumption of the Lungs (which is Lung-scrofula), purifies and enriches the blood, thereby curing all Skin and Scalp Diseases, Ulcers, Sores, Swellings, and kindred ailments.



$500 OFFERED

for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head, by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. By its mild, soothing and healing properties, it cures the worst cases, no matter of how long standing. Only 50 cents. Sold by druggists everywhere.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON.

Commencement Exercises, Etc., Beginning June 15 and Continuing Four Days.

EUGENE, June 13.—The year closing with June 19 will mark one of the most prosperous and successful years in the history of this institution. All the departments show a marked increase in the number of students. There are now connected with the various departments twenty-nine professors and 314 scholars. In the college course there are fifteen seniors, and in the medical department nineteen.

The commencement exercises, beginning June 15, will be one of the most interesting ever witnessed in this town.

The Failing-Beekman prizes to the best orator and essayist in the senior class will be awarded for the first time, and as the present senior class, consisting of ten men and five women, is an exceptionally good one, some fine work on the part of these members may be looked for. It is hoped that as many of the friends as possible, and especially the alumni, will be present during these exercises. The following is the program:

Sunday, June 15—11 a. m.—Baccalaureate sermon, by Rev. John Gordon, D. D., of Portland.

Monday, June 16—8 p. m.—Recital of pupils in the music course.

Tuesday, June 17—3 p. m.—Address before the literary societies by the Right Rev. Archbishop Gross, of Portland. 8 p. m.—A re-union of the literary societies.

Wednesday, June 18—10 a. m.—Graduating exercises of the law school. 2 p. m.—Planting of class tree. 3 p. m.—Alumni meeting. 8 p. m.—An address before the university by Hon. Geo. H. Williams, of Portland.

Thursday, June 19—9:30 a. m.—Exercises of the graduating class.

Those who pay full fare on the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon coming to these exercises can return on a one-fifth fare on presenting a certificate from the secretary of the faculty.

LUTHERANS IN SESSION.

They Resolve to Upold the Public School System.

DUBUQUE, June 12.—The Lutheran Synod in session in this city adopted unanimously a long series of resolutions touching their attitude on the public school question and compulsory education. They refer to legislation of recent date in several states and say in part: We consider the public schools a necessity on account of the conditions created by the constitution of the United States, especially in its relation to the church. As American citizens, we are obliged and willing to contribute to the maintenance of public schools, although we are thereby burdened more than any other citizens in also maintaining our own parochial schools. The establishing and maintenance of Christian schools is with us a matter of conscience, not considering the fact that we wish to preserve for our children the precious blessing of the German language. Instruction in this language could not be given up if we bear in mind the present state of our congregation, consisting mostly of recently emigrated members, if we wish to preserve our children for the Lutheran church. For the maintenance of our parochial schools we claim no support of the state and protest against the use of public school funds for parochial or private schools. We favor compulsory attendence at school if thereby is understood the general principle that parents shall send their children to school; it, however, being left to their discretion to select the school to which they wish to send their children. We are opposed to compulsory attendance if thereby is understood attendance upon a public school. It is not in accord with the spirit of the Constitution of the United States or the different states when the laws are made which limit perfect liberty of religious law. Further, we declare we will oppose such laws that restrain religious liberty, and especially threaten the continuance or independence of our parochial school, with all legal and moral means justifiable disregarding all party issues.

The Uncle Tom's Cabin of the Horse.

The Boston Herald says: "Mr. Geo. T. Angell, president of "The American Humane Education Society," and the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has his heart's d sire.

For more than twenty years the wish of his heart has been that somebody might write a book which should be as widely read as "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and which should have as widespread and powerful influence in abolishing cruelty to horses as "Uncle Tom's Cabin" had upon the abolition of human slavery. Many times by word and letter he has called the attention of American writers to this matter and asked them to undertake the work.

The book has at last been written by an Englishwoman, Anna Sewell by name. Its title is "Black Beauty, His Grooms and Companions," and it is the autobiography of an English horse.

The book contains two hundred and sixty pages, and over 100,000 copies have been already sold in England.

Through the gifts of friends of "The American Humane Education Society," Mr. Angell has been able to have the book electrotyped, and to print a first edition of 40,000 copies, which will be sold at the marvellously low price of twelve cents each, though to people sending by mail for them eight cents additional for postage must be charged.

Mr. Angell wishes to give away thousands of copies of this book. He would like to put it into every home, every workshop, and every school in this country, and he would like to make a free gift of it to every man and boy in the universe. Through the kindness and generosity of Mrs. William Appleton, he is authorized to present a copy to sixteen hundred Boston drivers.

We have received a copy of "The Uncle Tom's Cabin of the Horse," a cheap edition of Miss Anna Sewell's delightful book, familiar to some lovers of horses in this country as "Black Beauty." We cannot think of another work on the horse a wide diffusion of which would be so useful, since Miss Sewell's book, besides its good sense, right feeling, and sound doctrine as to the proper treatment of horses, possesses the one indispensable quality of readableness. It will delight refined persons, and the simple can understand it.

It is a book that should be read in all our public schools. It would teach boys and girls both humane and intelligent methods of treating man's best friend—the horse.

No rich man or woman who loves a horse can possibly do a greater kindness to these faithful dumb servants, companions and friends of ours than to follow the example of Mrs. Wm. Appleton, of Boston, by ordering a sufficient number, at a cost of twelve cents each, to give one to every driver and teamster in their respective cities and towns.

In addition to the price, the society must charge on copies sent by mail eight cents per copy for postage, etc., but when sent in considerable quantities by express or freight it costs much less.

We think it would pay dealers in all our towns and cities to order a few hundreds at 12 cents a copy—pay the freight, and sell at 25 cents a copy. In all cases unsold copies can be returned to us in good condition, and we will be glad to refund the money paid, as we expect to circulate more than a million copies and those returned will save our printing more.

For this book write Geo. T. Angell, 19 Milk St., Boston, Mass.

Census Enumerator—Where were you born?

Citizen—In Seattle.

"Where was your father born?"

"In Chicago."

"Where was your mother born?"

"In St. Louis."

"Can you speak the English language?"

"I can."

"Are you a convict?"

"I am not."

"How old are you?"

"Thirty-five years, I am married and have four children. My wife is alive, and so is my mother-in-law. I am six feet tall, weigh 178 pounds, wear false teeth and a wig. I lost one finger in the war and draw a pension. I chew tobacco and smoke a pipe. I drink beer, wine, ciderand am very fond of tea and coffee. I am a teamster by trade, own a horse and wagon. Three spokes are broken out of the left hind wheel of the wagon, but I am going to get it fixed next. I own a dog. He is in the pound at present, but I am going to get him out next week. I have got two suits of clothes, four shirts and a half dozen pairs of socks. I wear celluoid collars. I shave myself and own two razors. I can read and write and spell words of not more than eight letters. And now if you want to know anything more about me go round at the sewing-circle that meets at Mrs. M—s next Tuesday!" And the citizen disappeared inside of the house and slammed the door behind him.—Seattle Press.

How to Cure Nervousness.

A body with a nervous temperament will make known its wants through its natural medium—the nervous system. If it fails to receive proper nourishment the nerves will be the first to cry out. Dr. Hiller's Hydrastine Restorative ensures perfect neutrition to those who take it, and a perfectly nourished body cannot be nervous. For sale at D. J. Fry's.

School Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of the tax payers of school district No. 24, of Marion county, Oregon, held at the opera house in Salem on Thursday, the 19th day of June, 1890, at 8 o'clock p. m. to consider the bids for bonds to be issued and to authorize acceptance of same if deemed advisable, and to transact such other business as may come before the meeting.

Done by order of the board of directors of school district No. 24, this May 31st, 1890.

W. B. SIMPSON,
Clerk, District No. 24.

All But The Trousers.

Boston Herald: The latest masculinity affected by the most alert of the society girls consists of shirts, collars, scarfs and waistcoats precisely of the same sort as worn by the men. For theatre wear at night a black waistcoat with three buttons, displaying the largest possible expanse of snowy shirt bosom, is worn, and the high collar and white bow are an exact reflection of the gleaming and starchy articles that have so long formed the mainstay of full-dressed masculinity. An old broker, who seldom notices how his pretty daughters dress, chanced to be at the theatre on a recent night with an old club crony, and, looking about the house, he caught sight of his two girls in a box party. They both wore the masculine get-up and the broker strained his eyes to make out what it all meant. He fumbled in his pocket and secured a 25 cent piece, which he hastily jammed into the opera-glass machine in front of him. Securing the glass, he leveled it, with a great exhibition of agitation, upon the box wherein his daughters sat, and gazed long and hard. Then turning to his companion, he begged him to look and tell him what his girls had on. The other old fellow peered through the glasses and said: "It's that devilish odd dress reform business, Charlie. They are trying to get all the girls up like men now, you know, and yours have caught the fever."

The broker took a card from his pocket and scribbled something on the back. Summoning an usher, he directed him to hand it to his daughters in the box. It said: "Stand up and let me see if you have on trousers."

The girls received the card and read it. Then looking about the house they caught their father's anxious eye, smiled reassuringly at him and stood upright for him to satisfy himself that the lower half of her still retained the appearance of modest womanhood. The old man fell back relieved, and in all sincerity, told his friend that he thanked heaven his girls were only half-fools.

THE QUESTION.

President of literary society (in Co-educational college)—Are you ready for the question?

Mattie Bond (who spends her vacation at Bar Harbor)—Yes—pop it.—Epoch.

THE NEXT ONE.

Mr. Ross—And I suppose you have brought your wife with you?

Mr. Young—Yes, I never go to any ball without her. Do you see that lady dressed in white?

Mr. Ross—What! That beautiful woman with such magnificent eyes? You don't say so!

Mr. Young—Just so. Well my wife is the one next to her.—Munsey's Weekly.

Wherever Malaria Exists,

The bilious are its certain prey. In intermittent and remittent fever, dumb ague and ague cake, the liver is always seriously affected, and the blood contaminated with bile. One of the chief reasons why Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such a sure defense against chills and fevers and every form of malarial diseases, is, that it does away with the liability of the disease, by refusing irregularity of the biliary organs in advance of the arrival of the seamon when the disease is prevalent. There is no finer fortifying preventative for those about visiting or emigrating to a locality where the miasma-taint exists. There is no certain immunity from disease in an endemic or epidemic form, to be secured by the use of the average tonics and antispasmodics. But where quinine fails the Bitters succeeds both in preventing and curing. Moreover it removes every vestige of dyspepsia, and over omes constipation, rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, and tranquilizes and strengthens the nervous system. eod.
