NEW BAND ORGANIZED. A meeting was held last evening for the purpose of taking preliminary steps for the organization of a new band in this city and there is every prospect for a crowning success.

FIFTEEN DOLLARS AND COST. Charles Fyburn, who has been more or less notorious as a fighter in this neighborhood the past few years, was again before the courts last night, upon a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon on the person of a young man named Johnson down in the Hazel Green neighborhood, a few miles north of here.

GOOD MAN GOING. Rev. H. A. Newell, pastor during the last four years of the Presbyterian church here, went to Portland this morning to meet with the presbytery of the state and receive his farewell papers, preparatory to assuming the duties of pastor at San Pedro, Southern California, where he has accepted a call, and to which he and his family will proceed by steamer at the close of the presbytery. He preached his farewell sermon here last Sunday. There are many people who sincerely regret to see Mr. Newell leave, as he is an excellent gentleman in every respect, conscientious, manly and intellectual. It is hoped he will find his new field pleasant and agreeable.

AN ATTRACTIVE POINT. Astoria has the largest and best harbor on the Pacific coast; it has thirty large salmon canneries, two great iron foundries, and a third foundry building, and iron mines close at hand to supply them with ore.

SATISFIED. Ladies, we are selling them lower than ever at the Capital Adventure company.

STATE REFORM SCHOOL.

The New Rector Meadow and Fruit Farm Additions About to go on Market.

A reporter of the JOURNAL drove out about three miles to the southeast of the city Monday to the site selected by the state board for the new Reform school, to be built this summer.

THE VIEW. A magnificent one from this elevation. The spires of the city punctuate the perspective. To the east are the asylum and penitentiary buildings, while in the center the state house is visible.

AN IMMENSE PRIVATE PURCHASE. Has just been completed, which includes this valuable estate, the transaction embodying the transfer of an almost even thousand acres for $35,000.

THE SITE. Of this purchase is a beautiful one in every respect. The land is of the best quality for fruit growing, being of the same general character as that which produces the immense crops of small fruits which are shipped from Turner station.

SMALL FRUIT FARMS. The Sunnyside tract of farm lands, four miles south of Salem, was put on the market in February last, and nearly all of the 650 acres, which comprise it, are sold.

PROBATE COURT. In the matter of the estate of A. D. Risdon, deceased, Seth R. Hammer, administrator files his first semi-annual report, which is examined and allowed by the court.

NEW MACHINERY. This morning the big pea sheller at the Salem fruit cannery started up for the first time. The way it rattles peas out of the pods is discouraging to those who have to shell them by hand.

TO WED. County Clerk Babcock today issued a license to wed to A. D. Davidson and Ada L. Crump, both of this city.

Light coats and vests, dress suits, business suits, working-men's suits at great bargains at the Capitol Adventure company.

THE OLD MANSION. Of the Rector estate stands off to the right at the foot of the hills. When built it was the finest mansion in the country but one.

IN A PITIFUL PLIGHT. L. H. Keyes, who lives in the Pudding river timber about a mile from Swartz mills, came to the city yesterday and tied his horse, hitched to a one-horse wagon, to an iron post near the west gate of the court house yard, and left him there the greater part of the day.

BRIDGE BUILDERS HERE. W. J. Sieman and O. D. Clear, two of the bridge foremen for Hoffman & Bates, who have the contract for the big bridge, arrived from Portland last evening to make preliminary arrangements for active work.

WOOD CONTRACTS. The board of school directors opened bids this afternoon for furnishing wood at the several schools and awarded contracts as follows: East Salem—Chas. L. Coleman, 100 cords fir at $2.85; G. H. Croisan, 10 cords oak at $4.00; Geo. D. Goodhue, 20 cords oak at $4.50.

FINED AND LET GO. Johnson, formerly the State street barber, became very wild yesterday from the effects of liquor and endeavored to pummel Mr. Huffman, of the lively stable back of the Chemekete, but succeeded in getting landed, after a vigorous chase, in the calaboose, where he kicked and yelled for a long time like a Comanche.

PAINT MINE IN OPERATION.

A valuable mine of mineral paint, the product of which is known as the Princess Metallic paint, was discovered some years ago a few miles from Lebanon, near the South Santiam, but those who owned it have not possessed the necessary means to develop it.

Now, however, a move has been made which will result in bringing it into market and making it a richly paying find. An incorporation formed in this city yesterday, with D. D. Dayton, a practical paint manufacturer from Ohio; W. J. Levi, Adam Misler, M. Herren and Ed. C. Herren, incorporators.

The company elected D. D. Dayton, president and superintendent; Ed. C. Herren, secretary and treasurer; W. J. Herren, A. Misler and D. D. Dayton, board of directors. The necessary machinery for grinding the semi-rock has already been purchased and shipped, and will be set up at the mine as soon as possible.

The company will also manufacture on the ground their own barrels and kegs for the shipment of the paint when ground. Mr. Dayton considers the paint a most superior article and there is no doubt it will find a ready sale. One special feature of it is that it will take a smooth and glossy polish by slight rubbing after it is put on and nearly dry.
