IT IS THE PEOPLE'S BATTLE

Some people censure the JOURNAL for its criticisms of the political course of the Portland Oregonian, and because this paper asserts that the great Portland paper is hostile to every interest of the people. We wish all to consider that this is not a personal matter. Political wrongdoing and treachery to the common interests in the name of party are certainly reprehensible and ought to be shown up. This paper is not alone in showing up the Oregonian. Other strong and able papers are doing it right along.

Of course it is impossible for a single paper to do much to counteract the influence of a great metropolitan paper. Unless the people take up the fight and make it a common cause not much can be accomplished. In popular elections the people of Oregon have more than once defeated the great monopoly organ at Portland. They should completely destroy its power for evil and its oppositions and misrepresentations of the people and terrorizing over legislators and public men. It is the people's battle.

We print a sample letter below on this subject from a gentleman who sends us two new subscribers, which shows something of the feeling of the rural people of the whole state toward the late great Oregonian. A paper that loses the confidence of the intelligent masses and takes indefensible positions on public questions is no longer great. A paper that the common people hate and despise and only read because they want the news it prints must have done something to incur that hatred, because people will tolerate a great deal of wrong doing on the part of a newspaper.

Mr. B. B. Branson, of Sheridan, Yamhill county, writes as follows under date of June 24: CAPITAL JOURNAL, P. O. Co., Salem, Oregon. Gentlemen: As I have been reading your paper for some time and finding it clean, sound republican and a defender of the people's rights I heartily endorse it and send you two subscribers and hope you will succeed in making it the best and most popular paper in the state in opposition to the greatest monopoly paper in the great city in the Northwest. I heard a gentleman say the other day that he hated that paper but in order to get all the news he had to take it. So we hope you will be able to give us the general news and continue to defend the people's rights. You certainly deserve the patronage of the people for bearing the lion in his den. The Oregonian has become dead to all that does not help to build up Portland and when anyone writing for it does not write to suit them they make such changes as do suit them.

A JUDICIAL PRECEDENT

A $500 fine has assessed the wrath, dignity and outraged feelings of the great state of Mississippi against prize fighting, and the Hon. John L. Sullivan may now resume his punnelling process. Renewed interest is added to his ignoble calling by this court decision and his reception on the Pacific coast will be attended with roaring eclat, now that no reprimand or imprisonment was ordered for his royal nubs of the ring. $500 is a geniel fine and was promptly put up by the prince of fisicuffs. The prize-fighting fraternity cannot fail to appreciate this very moderate tax set by the court on their calling. Mr. Sullivan no doubt feels that he can contribute $500 out of his share of the $25,000 purse beside gate money that he will receive out of the great Sullivan-Jackson fight at San Francisco in September. Great are our courts, to learn any business.

NEWSPAPER SERMONIZING

Said a speaker at the Congregational association: "The Boston Herald is a paper with a large circulation but thoroughly unorthodox and almost unevangelical." He might have remarked further that no great eastern paper is so intensely hostile to the temperance work, so dear to the church. But last Sunday's Boston Herald has pretty full reports of about thirty sermons of every denomination. A lady friend sends us one copy of that issue with a sermon against that prevailing Boston fad known on the Coast as "slogging." It is a most severe and ringing denunciation of John-Sullivanism.

The question is, what does this sermonizing in Monday morning papers that are set up by Sunday labor amount to? It certainly makes the Sunday labor product useful and respectable.

DUTY OF THE COMMUNITY TO THE HOTEL KEEPER.

A recent JOURNAL outlined some rather higher than common ideals on the subject of hotel keeping. There is also a duty that the community owes to its leading hotel. It is safe to say that there is at least a sum of about $50,000 invested in the leading hotel of this city. This property is to a large extent at the mercy of public sentiment. While its professional and business management must be kept up to the high standards that alone ensure success in any business, it is safe to say that unless the people of the city do their part no such hotel can be made to pay in this city. Unless there is a feeling of good will and friendliness toward such an expensive institution, it can by no way under the sun be made profitable. If every boy in town makes it his business to run down the hotel and to see people off to some private boarding house, or get them a room at their old-maid aunt's and feed them a few meals themselves, a porter palmer could not run a hotel a Salem except at a great loss of money. There is such a thing as an unwise and an unnecessary hospitality.

It is a duty we owe a properly conducted hotel to see that it gets all the patronage the town has, to feel proud of it and make its success an object of local pride. Until our people can feel this way and back up the feelings with actions all the year around they can never have their leading hotel the financial success that it ought to be. There are responsibilities and demands made on the modern landlord that can alone be successfully met if the community performs its duty correspondingly toward such a semi-public institution. A well patronized hotel is a big advertisement for a town, hence it is the duty of the people of a town to stand by its hotel.

CONGREGATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

An Unusual Interest Manifested in Educational and Literary Work.

THE PROCEEDINGS of Wednesday afternoon were opened by Rev. Whittlesey leading in prayer. The forenoon had been rich in experiences of christian fellowship, unity and sanctifying influence. He was followed by Rev. Hall of Astoria.

The moderator announced a business meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society at 2 p. m., Thursday, and that the evening would be given up to the Ladies' Home Missionary Union program. The laymen should take front seats and allow the ladies to return some of their preaching.

Rev. T. E. Clapp was announced for a paper on the church and education. He first read a list of subscribers to a fund to send two missionaries into the field in Oregon for one year. About $1300 was subscribed and Mr. Clapp introduced a subscriber of $200 to read a paper in his place.

Prof. O. E. Shorey read a paper then on the above subject. This nation was born of ideas, first held peculiarly and visionarily and not entertained by any nation. The idea that prevailed then was that the masses were born to be ruled. This nation sprung into existence to confute this idea. Government was everything, man nothing. This was to be reversed. The blessings of education, religion and liberty were to be the fuel to form the new nation. Centuries of patient labor had produced their effect, and in time this nation would not have within its borders not an uneducated child, not a drunken man, not a man unemployed, but a happy, contented christian people.

Geographical extent, diversity of races, made the problem more difficult. To build a snow white temple out of many colors of rock was difficult. The ignorance, superstition, vice, weakness and depravity of twenty races were here welded into one. The native virtues of the American had to meet the popular vices of Europe. The nation had passed beyond the nursery life of New England and had entered upon a career of independent self-willed life. A condensed synopsis cannot do justice to the merit and solidity of this paper. It was well conceived and well read, and roundly applauded.

All members of Congregational churches present were invited to take part in the discussion of the subject of education. The discussion was very earnest and protracted. The question of Pacific university at Forest Grove, its relation to the Congregational denomination and their relations to it was the real subject of the discussion. Strong and decisive resolutions were passed expressing the necessity and duty of the denomination having a college under its specific control, and the election of a committee of 12 to take such steps as will lead to the above end.

Pending a continuation of this discussion, the ladies insisted by various suggestive hints that a good dinner was spoiling for want of ecclesiastical attention, and an adjournment was had.

EVENING SESSION.

Mrs. Dr. Ellis presided over the missionary meeting in the evening. After a song service the presiding officer read 40th Isaiah. After prayer, Miss Charlotte Roberts, of The Dalles, submitted her annual report as Oregon home secretary of foreign missionary work. It was rich in personal experience and a strong plea for home missionary work. This lady pointed out that in all aggressive christian work love must be the impelling force and that believing in christian work and acting upon it are two things. The report set forth the amount of literature distributed, letters written and a statement of results to the parent society. The large and intelligent audience present took an unusual interest in the detailed reports from the auxiliary societies of the various churches. There is evidently a growing interest in foreign missions in Oregon.

MRS. ALMEDA BARRHETT, of Head River, read a delightful paper on mission work. It was practical and made many practical points. It revealed that home missionary work was very near to the heart of the writer. An anonymous letter from a liberal friend of missions at Portland, was read, emphasizing the teaching that what we keep we lose, but what we give away is our only gain and lasting profit. The reading was loudly applauded.

Miss Mary Vanderset read "The Great Famine Cry," a missionary poem, with much feeling and good effect, that was heartily appreciated.

THE CHOR.

"Nearer, My God, to Thee," and each of the parts were well taken. The president here read a report from the home secretary for Washington, Miss Carrie M. White, Mrs. Lucy B. Heaves of Seattle, Wa., read her report as home secretary of foreign missions, and showed some

Out of the Fire

Tormented with Salt Rheum—Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Only those who have suffered from salt rheum in its worst form know the agonies caused by this disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla has had great success in curing salt rheum, and all affections of the blood.

I owe the gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla that one would to his rescuer from a life of suffering. I was tormented with salt rheum, and had to leave off work altogether. My face, about the eyes, would be swollen and scabbed, my hands and feet with salt rheum would be raw across for weeks at a time, my flesh would seem so parted that I could roll pieces from between my fingers as large as a pea. One physician called it type Poison and gave me medicine accordingly but salt rheum cannot be cured in that way. Finally I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It helped me so much that I took two more bottles, and was Entirely Cured. I have not been troubled with salt rheum since. I also used Hood's Olive Ointment on the places affected. It stops the burning and itching sensation immediately. I will recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla not only for salt rheum, but for Humors, Loss of Appetite, "all-gone" feeling so often experienced, A. D. Romeros, Jamaica Plain, Mass.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any other brand. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by druggists, etc. in every town. C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar
