THE SILVER QUESTION.

Senator Pettigrew Favors a Steady Purchase.
PRINTING SILVER CERTIFICATES.

If the New Bill Passes the Printers Will Have to Work Day and Night.

New York, June 30.—Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, who is at the Fifth Avenue hotel is one of the republicans who voted for the free coinage of silver, in the senate. He believes that the probable outcome of the silver contest at Washington will be a bill to purchase 4,500,000 oz. of silver per month, issue legal tender certificates upon it, and coin so much as may be needed for redemption purposes. This is corroborative of general expressions of congressmen who have been here within the last few days. Senator Pettigrew continues:

"I am inclined to regard this settlement as better than free coinage, because there will be no fluctuations in silver under the steady purchase bill. Under free coinage there might be wide fluctuations. There will be no restrictions against foreign silver and none is needed. If we coin 54,000,000 ounces per year for ten years it will only increase currency by a ratio barely equal to the ratio of the increase in population. I am told by congressmen that the lower branch of congress would have passed such a measure even if we had not passed the free coinage bill."

PRINTING NEW CERTIFICATES.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—If the silver bill passes the bureau of engraving and printing will be hard pushed to print the new legal tender certificates fast enough to comply with the law. The issue of silver certificates will be nearly double what it is now and the bureau has hard work keeping up the supply. There is not only the new issue of every month, but outstanding certificates have to be replaced with new and cleaner ones. Secretary Windom says if the bill passes he will find a way to carry it out. He has not determined what the way will be. He has asked congress to authorize an addition to the present quarters and this will probably be authorized. It would be, however, a number of months before an addition could be completed, and the silver bill would probably go into effect thirty days after its passage. The new certificates would probably have to be printed by a duplicate force of workmen working at night. Some of the other work of the bureau, like the printing of bank notes or internal revenue stamps might be let out by contract, but it would take some time for private contractors to put themselves in readiness.

CARLISLE'S SUCCESSOR—IDAHO.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—In the house, Dickinson, of Kentucky, successor to John G. Carlisle, was sworn in. In the senate the house bill for the admission of Idaho as a state was taken up.

Later this afternoon in the senate the Agricultural Appropriation bill passed.

FIRE AT EAST PORTLAND.

A Night Watchman Supposed to Have Been Lost in the Flames.
 PORTLAND, Or., June 30.—After the fire in the East Portland livery stable early this morning had burned out, it was found that eighteen horses were burned to death. Andrew Buckholtz, the night watchman at the stable, is missing, and it is thought he has perished in the flames. The building was a two-story frame and burned out with great fierceness so that the fire department could do but little with it.

WAS BUCKHOLTZ CREMATED?

Andrew Buckholtz is the name of the night watchman in the employ of the bridge company, and as he was nowhere to be found the probability is that he was burned to death. He is an old and trusted employe of the company and Superintendent Campbell as soon as he learned that he was missing caused a systematic search to be instituted, but without success. Buckholtz was nowhere to be found and the horrible supposition is that his charred remains will be found in the ruins to-day.

CRUSHED HIS SKULL.

ALBANY, Or., June 30.—Herbert Starnard was run over and killed by his father's team Saturday in a runaway accident. Starnard was thrown from his wagon and the horses and wagon passed over his head, crushing his skull. Death was instantaneous.

THE BODIES FOUND.

ALBANY, Or., June 30.—The body of Robert Goss, aged about 30 years, who was drowned by going over the Calapooia falls Friday night, was found late Saturday night, a short distance from the base of the falls, and yesterday forenoon the bodies of the boys, Matthews and McFarland, were found about twenty feet from where Goss lay. The latter's remains will be taken to Oakland Cal. by his wife for burial. The funeral of the boys occurred yesterday afternoon and was attended by a large crowd of sorrowful mourners.

EASTERN NEWS.

Fatal Fire and Explosion at Louisville.
LATEST CONGRESSIONAL INFORMATION.

18 Deaths and 117 Prostrations From Heat at Chicago.

FIRE AND EXPLOSION.
 LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 30.—By an explosion at the Standard Oil refinery works a fire was started here this morning by which three persons were killed and thirty-five wounded. The immense plant of the Allan Bradley distillery company was destroyed by fire this morning; loss one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

DETAILS OF THE FIRE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 30.—The five-acre fire was the awful sight witnessed at the Standard Oil Ref., at 5th and C streets, this morning. It was an immense structure, blazing at every point, and the heat was so intense that even at two hundred yards away persons were overcome. At least three persons were roasted alive and many others badly burned. The fire broke out at 8:45 and was the result of hot weather. On Saturday a tank of crude oil came in to be refined. Some of the workmen thought the tank too hot to be emptied and it was postponed. This morning it became necessary to run the oil into another tank. Inspector Skene took John Pettigrew and another workman and mounted up to the main head of the tank on the car and unscrewed the cap. In an instant there was a dull puff of vapor escaped.

THE EXPLOSION COMES.

As the gas was heavier than the air, it sank to the ground spreading out all over the locality, moving with the wind and almost in a twinkling it reached one of the sheds under which there was a fire. There was a flash as the inflammable vapor ignited, immediately after which there was a tremendous explosion. The great tank was blown in pieces. Hundreds of gallons of burning oil were scattered all over the great works. A wall of fire three hundred feet high and nearly 900 feet long moved with lightning rapidity toward the buildings and at once ignited the canning house filled with thousands of gallons of kerosene oil; to the cooper shop, carpenter shop, pump and engine house, filling and lubricating house, storage houses, paint and glue houses, and the 900 feet platform was all ablaze. The employes on the grounds and all persons employed in the neighborhood ran for their lives. The destruction is terrible and the loss of lives it is feared will be large.

A THREE-STATE TORNADO.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 30.—A cyclone swept over some of the richest portions of Michigan, Tennessee and Kentucky destroying an immense amount property, wrecking houses, blowing down churches and killing people.

INTENSE HEAT.

The preceding twenty-four hours marked the culmination of an almost unprecedented period of warmth. According to the revised police reports there were eighteen deaths from sunstroke and 117 other cases of heat prostration yesterday, fully one dozen of which are pronounced critical.

Four more deaths are reported up to Sunday night. All four occurred early in the day in remote parts of the city. Dispatches from many points of Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin tell of a slight moderation in the temperature, though not enough to afford much relief. Prostrations are still numerous, and there were quite a number of deaths at various points to-day. All cities in the states named report an alarming increase in the mortality list, the weather being especially severe on children and invalids.

CATHEDRAL DEDICATION.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., June 30.—The Roman Catholic cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, the cornerstone of which was laid September 5, 1845 was consecrated to-day with the most imposing ceremonies. The sermon was preached by Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore.

That Collin Moth.

EDITOR CAPITAL JOURNAL:—I note in several recent issues of your paper articles to the effect that there is no collin moth in this section this season. I would be very glad to learn that such was the case. But as I have been able to find them in considerable quantities, I know that we still have them with us. The idea held out by some that the unusually cold winter and wet weather had killed them off is also erroneous, for they have flourished in the Eastern states for many years where it is much colder than here. So we can have nothing to hope for in that line. So the sooner the people rid themselves of delusive ideas and get in and work for their extermination, the better it will be for all concerned. Some time since Col. Varney, of The Dalles, the secretary of the state horticultural commission, was in this vicinity and stated that the collin moth were in the valley in dangerous quantities. I would consider them dangerous if we had any. Now, it seems, that Mr. Varney was perfectly correct in what he had to say about the matter and let every one that has any infested trees proceed to use energetic measures to free them from this as well as the other pests that trouble them. But above all things, do not let an apathy or an indifference as to the true situation deter anyone from making a thorough investigation and then acting upon it. The first brood of the moth is now about one-fourth of an inch in size. The authorities say it takes about fourteen days for them to develop into the full sized larva and that the trees should be sprayed at intervals of, say three weeks apart to accomplish the best results, and if possible let us have some fruit again that will be a credit to Oregon. Let us not be sleeping, but up and at them, for ceaseless vigilance and enterprising industry is the price of good fruit. And allow me to observe right here that we cannot afford to raise any other kind. Last season I noticed the collin moth working to some extent among the pines, and if we would stay the ravages of this, the first loss of the fruit industry in Oregon, let's guard at them before it's everlastingly too late. Last season on account of the moth, Oregon apples, the green fruit, were gone in December, while in ordinary seasons when free from the moth they keep till May and sometimes later. Let every one that has fruit go to work and it will well repay the effort. Yours,
 RUSTICUS.

A ST. LOUIS PHYSICIAN.

He Tests a California Production.—His Report.

A St. Louis gentleman whose attention was attracted by a general criticism called it to the attention of a relative, who happened to be Dr. F. A. Barrett, the well known St. Louis physician of 202 Broadway street. The doctor saw at once that it differed from the potato preparations in that it was purely vegetable, and becoming interested, began a series of investigations, and in a subsequent letter cordially admitted its curative properties, and says—

Wishing to test its virtues further, I used it in my own family, and procured it for patients who required a general cleanse from the bowels. As a result, I can say it is an almost absolute cure for constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, indigestion, and other ailments. These troubles usually come from a disturbed condition of the stomach and bowels, and Dr. F. A. Barrett's medicine is the best laxative and stomach regulator I have ever used, and is a general system-corrective in every respect.
