July 4. Grandest celebration in Oregon at Salem.

NO PAPER TO-MORROW.

That the office force may have an opportunity to enjoy the festivities of the Fourth, the JOURNAL will not be issued to-morrow. This will also enable the editorial and reportorial staff to give better attention to the exercises during the day and make a complete and accurate report for Saturday's issue.

RELICS OF FORMER VISITORS.—While Hiram White and other miners were recently prospecting near the head of Nye creek, near the South Santiam about eight miles southeast from Quartzville, they discovered two old log cabins, one 18 by 30 feet and the other smaller. In the first was found two kegs of powder and three sacks of flour, both commodities in a perfect state of preservation, except a small depth of the flour next to the sacks—the interior being sweet and good. The latest evidence of the date of occupancy found was an almanac of 1880 and appearances would indicate that at least that length of time had passed since the cabins had any tenants, the iron cooking utensils being rusted away and many other evidences of disuse being visible. They also found names cut on trees in the vicinity dated 1880. Two of these could be deciphered as Hutchins and Mitchell, but the others were illegible. There are several old tunnels around there It was in this neighborhood that Mr. White and his companions discovered some rich leads of silver, copper and lead, samples of which are now in the hands of assayists. Investigation is fast bringing to light the immense deposits of wealth bearing mineral those mountains without doubt contain, only needing capital to draw out.

TENDER TEAMS.—There is a good deal of interest centered in the race between the tender teams to-morrow and the boys comprising the teams are working like beavers to fit themselves to win those gold badges. Both teams were out for practice last evening and made a grand trial of speed, there not being a half second difference in time of running the hundred yards. They are composed as follows: Capitals, No. 1—Louis Cannon, foreman; Johnnie Patton, John Moir, Jr., George Belt, Tad Hoover, Howard Davis, Dan Clark, Tommy Golden, Charley Wilkins, Harry Olinger, Ansell Booth, Gib McFadden. Tigers, No. 2—Arthur Applegate, R. J. Sharp, Jr.; James McCormick, Jack Evans, Whit Holman, Bert Humphrey, Will Tarpley, Claude Starr, McMahan, Hanson, Rice and Elmer Musser.

SATISFIED TO COME HOME.—Miss Mary Cooper, book-keeper at Gilbert Bros., bank, went to Rockford, Ill., some time ago for an extended visit, but those gentlemen are in receipt of a letter from her which says she is fully satisfied to cut her visit short and return home, starting from there yesterday. The day before she wrote, June 28, the thermometer stood at 110° in the shade and four persons died from sunstroke. There wasn't a breath of air stirring and. Oh! how she longed for the refreshing breezes of the Willamette valley! She has got enough of the East for a lifetime.

CORRECTION.—A delegation of very indignant divines from Mt. Angel came into the JOURNAL office this morning with the following disclaimer: "The Mt. Angel orchestra left for home to-day, and expressed themselves as highly gratified with the cordial reception given them by the State Teachers' association. The report that they would furnish the music for the ball to be given at Armory hall, on the evening of the Fourth, is incorrect."

PROBATE COURT.—In the matter of the estate of Geo. W. Tiffany, deceased, his will is filed for probate and Seth R. Hammer is appointed executor of the estate. Will is approved and admitted to probate.

CALATHUMPIANS.—Those who intend joining the "Flag-ragites" tomorrow are requested to meet at Minto & Low's livery barn at 2 o'clock in the afternoon sharp. Don't forget it, but be on hand.

SOMETHING NEW.—Baby carriages with rocking cradle attachment. A few more left at Keller & Sons. 3t.

STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

They Meet in Annual Session in Salem. The Great Educational Center of the Northwest.

AFTERNOON SESSION—JULY 2.

The program was opened with an instrumental duet by Misses Settlemier and Southwick, of Salem. J. M. Williams, of Eugene, read a paper on "The Concrete in Teaching," which was full of practical suggestions, especially to the young teacher who desires to get the most out of his work. Many teachers depend too much on the text-book and do not apply the knowledge by experiments as it is being acquired. Mrs R. S. Wallace, of Salem, read a paper on The Kindergarten System as a help to the Primary Teachers," which was handled in an able manner. Rev. J. R. N. Bell addressed the assembly on "The Value of Educational Journals. Misses Stein and Stratton, of this city, played a duet.

W. C. Hawley, of Drain Academy, read a paper on "Why U. S. History Should be Taught in Schools."

Ignorance of the past conduces to the ignorance of the present. Our progress is the boast of the world for that reason our history should be made an important part of our public school work. Prof. Hawley dwelt at some length on the method of teaching history.

The committee on public school library reported, recommending that one member be appointed to secure a list of books suitable for such schools, also that a circular letter be sent among teachers urging them to take up the matter and request our boards of directors to make use of the law on the matter.

This session closed the work of the Association. Many teachers from all over the state have been in attendance and much interest has been manifested in the educational work. Some of the best educators in the state have addressed the assembly. All the important questions relative to our grand public educational system have been discussed in an able manner. The session has been a very successful one and the younger teachers have received some valuable instructions which will be transferred to the students all over the state. The many teachers who have come from abroad have been given a warm reception by the hospitable people of the capital city.

EVENING SESSION.

The program on this, the last evening of the session, was principally devoted to a musical concert by the band of this city and the Mt. Angel orchestra, both of which rendered some of their sweetest music. Once, at least, the capitol building of Oregon was filled with a class of music which only comes from the skillful artists.

Miss Jennie M. Long, of this city, read a very fine selection, for which she was heartily applauded. Miss Hally Parrish, of Salem, next sang a solo in her most charming style, and to a shower of applause she responded with a selection only the more captivating. Miss Pearl Scott of Salem, and Prof Furst, of Mt. Angel, were roundly applauded for a piano duet to which they responded with a second selection. Prof. J. F. Ellis, of the Pacific university, of Forest Grove, addressed the assembly on the topic "White Lies." This is a cold world and only heart heat can warm it; if we neglect that we will freeze. White lies fill the air fuller than snow flakes during a political campaign. It is a strange fact that no bad people are in the grave yard, for the epitaphs tell the good only. Prof. Ellis handled the subject in a bold manner, nevertheless it being a delicate one.

Prof. Leo, of Mt. Angel college, sang a tenor solo in a foreign language, and sang the second in response to a roaring encore.

Mrs. Faber, of Ashland, Southern Oregon's favorite soprano, next favored the audience with two of her choicest selections, for which she was roundly encored.

A vote of thanks was extended to the O. P., S. P. and U. P. railroads, and to the several hotels of the city for reduction in their regular rates to the teachers, also to the 2nd Regiment band and to the Mt. Angel orchestra, to the lecturers from abroad and to the singers who had aided in making the session a grand success.

Bunting! Bunting! Bunting!

Please have patience until this evening. A new supply of bunting will arrive on this evening's express and can be had at the White Corner.

A STRONG COMBINATION.—Shaw, Downing & Co. is the new style of the old real estate firm of Shaw & Downing. The "Co.," is composed of Wild brothers, who have recently come here from Texas, and have shown their faith in Salem by investing nearly $50,000. This makes a strong firm indeed.

GOOD RIDDANCE.—The contractors on the big bridge gave work for a few days to a pair of hobos, who came up missing this morning, together with a boat which the contractors had rented from Ed. Herren. It is a first rate thing to lose the hobos, but the city, in view of the riddance, should pay Ed. for his boat.

MARRIED.—The Oregonian this morning chronicles the marriage at Portland of Mr. A. L. Noltner and Miss Cora E. Smith. Mr. N. is one of the postal clerks on the route from Portland to San Francisco, and is the oldest son of Anthony Noltner, a veteran newspaper man and politician, now weigher and gauger in the custom house. "Tony," may you and your happy bride enjoy a life of happiness.

NEXT WEEK.—James A. Devlin, Salem's favorite comedian, is one of the managers of the Chicago Comedy company, that opens a week's engagement at Reed's opera house next Monday evening, and will take the principal parts in each play presented. He is now backed by a strong company and there will probably be the best week's entertainment ever given here at popular prices.

THE GUN FIRING.—The residents about Willson avenue are requested to raise and lower their windows so as to leave them open at top and bottom. The national salute will be fired at sunrise and the concussion may break windows unless the above instructions are complied with.

BONDS SOLD.—At a meeting of of the school board this morning the $15,000 bonds were sold to the Capital National bank at par, bearing 6 per cent interest. It was also concluded to build the North Salem school building, and only to repair the Central school this year.

When the weary day is done,
And the cares of life you'd shun,
And you long for rest and fun,
Go see the "Planter's Wife."

HOSE TEAMS COMING.—M. C. Starr returned this morning from Benton county, where he has been at the old homestead several weeks. He reports crops very fair throughout Benton county, but not so good as in this part of the valley. He also says that Corvallis and Albany are preparing to send well drilled and well practised hose teams here to-morrow to contest for the prizes in the races. At Corvallis, they were practising as for a regular tournament and will bring their tournament outfit with them. The Salem "laddies" will have to oil up their joints.
