SLAUGHTER OF A WILD HOG.

A correspondent of the JOURNAL writes: A man by the name of Thomas Lalond, living five miles from Salem, last Wednesday night shot and killed the famous wild hog that has caused so much trouble and damage.

TO THE ASYLUM.

Officers Minto and Diley last night arrested an old gentleman who might have been seen around the streets during the day, barely able to proceed with the aid of a cane.

A GRAND SCHEME.

The Oregon Pacific Railroad company could increase its revenues and at the same time provide a convenient means of pleasure and recreation to many people of the valley.

STATE LECTURER.

Among the changes made by the grand lodge of United Workmen was the creation of the office of state lecturer, whose duty it shall be to travel throughout the jurisdiction, hold meetings, deliver lectures, elucidate the aims and benefits of the order, organize new lodges, and attend to all such work.

THE FIRE BELL RINGS AGAIN.

And Again the Cause is an Unprotected Piety Hill, Where Two More Baras Burn.

At exactly nine o'clock last night the fire alarm sounded and a bright light could be seen in the northeastern part of the city, proclaiming that accident or the fire bug had again visited Piety hill, where the flames could make good headway, being a long distance from the fire department headquarters and in a region where facilities for checking their progress are very meager.

The fire companies made short work of getting there, finding the fire in two barns, one owned by John McFadden and the other by Dr. J. W. McAfee on the alley in the block surrounded by Summer, Capital, Marion and Union streets.

The hose was attached to a fire plug on Union and Cottage, but the engines were compelled to go to the creek a few blocks north. The fire brigade did everything possible, but it was plain that they were badly handicapped for want of convenient water supply.

Luckily there was little of value in either barn, so the loss is confined to the buildings and a few pear and peach trees in the gardens. Dr. McAfee's horses happened to be away in the country and his buggy at the shop receiving some repairs.

SALEM'S EDUCATORS.

Where They Were Educated—A Strong Corps of Teachers For the Coming Year.

At the last meeting of the board of directors of school district No. 24, the decisions were made for the teachers for the four public schools of the city with the following results: Mrs. S. G. Grubb was elected city superintendent and principal of the East Salem school.

Prof. J. A. Sellwood was chosen principal of the North Salem school. He graduated from the Willamette university in 1866 and has been engaged in teaching for more than twenty years.

Jas. T. Matthews was chosen principal of the South Salem school. He also is a graduate of the Willamette university, a member of the class of 1886 and has put in about five years teaching in Oregon and Washington, principally in Polk county.

Mrs. Alice H. Dodd was educated at the Sisters' school in Portland, and has taught in the public schools for four years.

Mrs. M. V. Rork was educated in Michigan and has been engaged in public school work for a good many years.

Mrs. Mary M. Tyler was educated in Iowa and comes with seven years experience in the school room.

Miss Grace Peables completed the teachers' course in the Willamette university and has taught four years in the public schools in Marion county.

Miss Lottie Allyn is an undergraduate of Willamette university, and has taught in the public schools of Washington about three years and one year in the East Salem school.

Miss Theo VanWagner obtained the latter part of her education at the Willamette university and has taught four or five years in Salem public schools.

The principal of the Central school has not been decided upon, but will be chosen from among the twenty elected teachers.

The assistant teachers have not yet been assigned their places. The following are the assistants, including the one who may be chosen principal of the Central school, with the educational advantages and experience as teachers: Miss Mary Reynolds graduated at Willamette University in 1880, and has taught in Oregon, principally in Marion county for eight years.

Miss Kate Dearborn graduated in Willamette University in 1888, and enters on this year's work with about four years' experience in teaching.

Miss Elvira Victor is also a graduate of Willamette University, in CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

The Editor of the C. S. Journal of Boston Outlines the New Teaching.

The parlors at the capitol were crowded by an attentive audience last evening to listen to an address on Christian Science, from Mr. Bailey, of Boston. Mr. Ger. W. Johnson presented the lecturer, who opened by saying that Christian Scientists were more than any other Christians kept the injunction to "pray without ceasing," and called attention to the fact that in all denominations the eyes were closed in prayer—an admission that God was not to be reached through the senses. The audience was then asked to join in silent prayer and in the audible repetition of the Lord's prayer.

Mr. Bailey then commenced by explaining the difference between "faith cure," "mind cure," and Christian science. Faith cure was illustrated by the supposition that nobody in the audience knew arithmetic and should be told that the answer to a question was so much, and should believe the result because they believed the lecturer understood arithmetic. But they could not maintain that the answer was correct against anybody who denied it. Mr. Bailey then proceeded to explain the difference between "faith cure," "mind cure," and Christian science. Faith cure was illustrated by the supposition that nobody in the audience knew arithmetic and should be told that the answer to a question was so much, and should believe the result because they believed the lecturer understood arithmetic. But they could not maintain that the answer was correct against anybody who denied it.

Thus the Christian Scientist grows to have only the thoughts that manifest God. He thus loses sight of, is healed from sickness and sin by the power of God. Thus man becomes Godlike, "the image and likeness of God." He is that image now, but supposes he is very different. Christian Science simply destroys this error and gives him the understanding of man as the likeness of God.

In reply to a question from a lady in the audience Mr. Bailey closed by declaring that Christian Science had nothing to do with Spiritualism; beliefs in electric or nerve forces, or any other kind of forces.

God is the only force or power known to the Christian Scientist. He may be known also by this—he believes every word of Jesus, of the apostles, the prophets and the Psalmist to be the word of God. He accepts the situation of Paul when he cried out "O wretched man that I am!" as the condition, in belief, of every man and looks to God as a means of escape and relief from it. He knows and acknowledges God in every thought as well as act, and this does actually "pray without ceasing."

It was next explained that the Christian Scientists began by forming a clear idea of God, as Spirit, Love, Life, and then declaring that since God "made all that was made," that everything in His creation must resemble Him. A thing not like Him does not resemble Him or manifest Him. Sickness, sin and death are opposites of, and totally unlike love and life, thereupon they cannot be the creation of God and are not.

Then it was explained how the Christian Scientist destroys in his own mind the beliefs of sin and sickness, testing all such ideas by the above conception of God and putting out of mind by the power of the Divine Idea above explained, and through the understanding that they must be unreal—all ideas that are not like God, or do not manifest Him.

A CARE FOR SICK HEADACHE.

This distressing complaint is due to an inactive or sluggish liver or constipation of the bowels which deranges the stomach and disturbs the nervous system causing dizziness and an oppressive dull pain in the head, often so severe as to prevent any rest or sleep. One of Dr. Cass's Improved Liver Pills will relieve you of all the pain, misery and a few more doses will correct the liver and stomach and regulate the bowels. While these pills are small, easily taken, and mild and gentle in their action there is no medicine in the world which so effectively cures sick headache. 25 cents a box. Sold by Smith & Steiner.
