GETTING NUMEROUS.—More than the ordinary number of drunks and hoboes have claimed the attention of the police the past few days, and have occupied lodgings at the city jail overnight, but that is about the extent of their punishment. City Recorder Conn is out of the city on a leave of absence and there is no judicial authority to prescribe for them. It would seem that jurisdiction in such cases should be extended to justices of the peace residing within the limits of the cities, so that in case of absence or inability of the city recorder to give violators of city ordinance attention, the law might still be properly enforced. This is about the worst season of the year for Salem in that line. It is but a short time until state fair begins and that always brings a crowd of fellows who want to make a living by their wits at the expense of other people, and they are not particular by what means. Many of these are here now and will likely fly in the time in petty stealing, lying around the saloons waiting for the careless drunks whose money is easily obtained at cards and other devices, raising rows, wandering the streets nights and making themselves generally obnoxious. If they were to carry a ball and chain and improve the streets a few days, the effect would be to lessen their number in short order.

BASEBALL INTELLIGENCE.—The baseball amusement promises to continue without a break here, except possibly the coming Saturday and Sunday, and even then if no club from abroad comes an interesting game will be made up by dividing the Salems, putting McCarthy and Leveque as batteries on the one hand and Morgan and Crosby on the other, then filling in with the best local players. But it is possible yet that the Vancouver may come. Manager Jay C. Smith returned from Portland last night and has made arrangements whereby the McMinnvilles are expected to be here the 30th and 31st; the Nob Hills, of Portland, on September 9th and 7th; the Famous on the 13th and 14th, and the Vancouver during fair week. The great objection of the Famous nine and also the McMinnville club is to McCarthy and Cooney. They say they will come willingly and play if these two are left out, but the Salems want it distinctly understood that they will allow no outside club to dictate who shall or shall not play in their line. The greatest kick comes from Brey, the catcher for both the teams named. It is no wonder, however, that they object to McCarthy, as almost any club witnessing his fault less catching in the last games would be afraid to tackle him unless they could put up extra good work.

RESIGNED AT CHEMAWA.—Dr. E. S. Miller, who has been physician at the Indian school, handed in his resignation yesterday and will in a day or two take his departure for New Rockford, N. Dakota, the scene of former labors, where he has some business to attend to, and will then return to his old home in New York for a visit. The doctor is a pleasant gentleman, has made a wide circle of friends during his stay and has succeeded in keeping aloof from the many squabbles which have made official life at the Chemawa school disagreeable and uncertain the past few years. His resignation was original with himself, having been neither suggested nor desired by the department.

THE WEATHER.—The wind blew this forenoon from the southeast with unusual velocity, whirling the dust in disagreeable quantities into the eyes of travelers and all the weather prophets confidently predicted a rain to follow pretty soon. Well, a small dash could be seen falling on the Polk county hills early after dinner, but the clouds are clearing away and appearances are against a wetting in the very near future. The mill ditch from the Santiam was a muddy white a day or two ago, a sure sign that there has been a big storm high up in the mountains, sweeping down the chaly or glacial formations at the source of some of the upper creeks.

KINDLY REMEMBERED.—Wm. Chambers, the cabinman, has received a nice present from James Cunningham, Son & Co., in the shape of a small clock to be set in the shape of his new cab, also a French plate mirror for the benefit of those who desire to see themselves while riding.

NOW IN GOOD SHAPE.

The Silverton Motor Line Assuming Definite Shape to Ask and Expect Co-operation.

Any feeling of uncertainty that may have existed among Salem business men in relation to the financial backing of the Marion County Improvement company for the building of the Salem and Silverton Motor line and the Salem belt line, will be dispelled by the action of the meeting held yesterday afternoon at the office of the company, where a large number of the representative capitalists and property owners met with Gen Odell to consider the matter of investing $30,000 in the bonds of the proposed roads.

Gen. Odell's assurance, familiar to all readers of the Salem daily papers, was again reported at this meeting, to the effect that if $30,000 worth of bonds should be taken here, the remaining $120,000, secured by the same mortgage, would be taken by Eastern capitalists, and proposed to give the meeting satisfactory evidence of his assurance if a committee would go with him to Portland, where negotiations are pending. In accordance with this, the meeting appointed John Hughes, ex-Gov. Z. F. Moody and W. F. Boothby, who will accompany the General to Portland at once, and upon their return will report to another meeting called for that purpose.

When the facts are ascertained beyond cavil that the amount of capital represented by Gen. Odell is forthcoming, it is thought there will be no trouble whatever in enlisting the $30,000 of local capital in the enterprise, as there is not a doubt in any far-seeing mind of the ultimate success of the system when completed, or of the safety of the investment.

CHEMAWA INDIAN SCHOOL.—Dr. Dorchester, superintendent of Indian schools, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Dorchester, a special agent in the same department, who have been visiting near this city, examining into its affairs and the manner in which it is conducted, started for the East this afternoon. The result of their investigation is not known or within reach of the news gatherer, but it is said there are some changes probable in the management, the whys and wherefores of which can only be surmised.

ENJOYABLE TRIP.—Deputy Sheriff A. T. Wain, who went out with the Judge J. B. Waldo party six weeks ago, has returned to the city, after a trip of much pleasure through the rocks, ravines, woods and valleys of the great Cascade range as far south as Crescent lake, some 200 miles, where he left the remainder of the party and came home. Mr. Wain killed four bucks during the trip, besides numerous other game and lots of fish. Such a trip has to be experienced to be enjoyed.

FAIR AT McMINNVILLE.—The posters are out for the third annual exhibit of the Yamhill County Fair association to be held on the grounds at McMinnville September 2-5. The products of Yamhill county in grain, vegetables and live stock are expected to be well represented, and grand trials of speed by local celebrities will be a pleasing part of the program. There will be $2000 distributed in premiums.

THE ASSESSMENT.—The county board of equalization for the adjustment of assessments for taxation purposes, will meet next Monday at the office of County Assessor Blackberry in the court house, and will remain in session from day to day until their work is completed. All persons having real, imaginary or supposed grievances should be on hand to have them properly attended to.

PROBATE COURT.—In the matter of the estate of Amanda Kimball, deceased, Leona Heinenbrand, administratrix, presents to the court her report of the sale of personal property, which is approved and confirmed. In the matter of the estate of Elisha Strong, deceased, Amos Strong, executor, presents his annual account, and the same is allowed.

A DESIRABLE CHANGE.—The Albany Herald says it is understood that mail will be carried on the Oregon Pacific train eastward soon. This certainly ought to be done, as trains now run daily and the public along the road have to wait for the primitive semi-occasional trips of the mail carriers.

FILED.—M. Finlason, Alex. Thompson and S. S. Bateman filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state to-day, allowing them to operate a lumbering business at Bateman, Washington county, under the incorporate laws of Oregon; the name of the corporation is the Gale's Creek Lumbering Co; capital stock $10,000.

OFF THE TRACK.—This morning one of the cars of the electric line was thrown off the track near the penitentiary. The cause is not known, unless it was a stone on the track, but no damage was done. This is the first instance of the kind on the electric.

WENT—Edwin D. Morris having procured bail yesterday, took the train this afternoon on his way back to Tacoma, accompanied by Lena Guise, his partner in the troubles for which he will have to answer before the grand jury.

SCHOOL DISTRICT BOUNDARIES.

Among the rights guaranteed to the sovereign American citizen there is none more sacred than the right to kick, nor is there any more regularly enjoyed. The newspaper is the great avenue through which it is exercised and when there is a model kicker should have a show. The grievance causing the present item is from the parents of school children living in the northeastern part of the city, who think the rules adopted and published by the board of directors of this school district will work them a hardship and justice in the place prescribed for their attendance at school. Those residing north of North Mill creek are by this order forced to attend the North Salem school, which will necessitate a travel of a mile or so for such of them as live east of Capital street, while they can reach the East school in a comparatively few blocks, and several of those interested in that quarter have asked the JOURNAL to bring this matter to the attention of the board for rectification. It is urged with a show of justice that the line for attendance at the East school should be drawn north from the creek on Capital street to the Garden road, thence east on a square angle. Those north of that road will have about an equal distance to either school, while those south of it have a much more convenient and a shorter route to the East school. They are earnest in their plea and request the board to examine into the matter closely, believing that the gentlemen composing the board are desirous of fair play and will do what appears most equitable in the premises.

THE NORMAL INSTITUTE.
 A large attendance was on hand at the opening of the teachers' institute this morning, first on the program being written arithmetic. The subjects of true and bank discount and compound proportion were taken up and the problems solved and explained by the different methods of the teachers, great interest being manifested throughout the recitation.

The grammar class had for the subject of their lesson the verb. Several outlines were written on the board, then the mode of verbs was discussed from the various authors. A sentence was presented by Superintendent Yoder for analysis, which was a little difficult for the class to analyze correctly at first, but after a little explanation it was soon satisfactorily disposed of.

The geography lesson was on the general resources, boundaries, etc., of Europe. Then Prof. Peebles presented to the class a number of general questions which are liable to be given at teachers' examinations. He closed the recitation by advising teachers to always keep posted on the general events of the day.

The mental arithmetic exercise was a continuation of age and step problems and also a few examples in partnership. The problems were all satisfactorily disposed of.

The history class, under the guidance of Miss Morris, reviewed James K. Polk's, Taylor and Fillmore's, Pierce's and Buchanan's administrations. Some very interesting facts were related during the recitation and supplemented by the teacher.

The physiology class discussed the effect of alcohol and narcotics upon the human system. This was a very interesting recitation under the guidance of Prof. Peebles.

Those enrolled to-day were Miss Ivy Eastham, Miss Nina Binder, Miss Floda Catterlin, Miss Alder was enrolled yesterday.

PERSONAL MENTION.
 Senator Jeff Myers, of Selo, is doing business in the city to-day.
 W. S. Hurst, of the Aurora flour mills, is doing business in the city to-day.

Mrs. Emma Rainey, of Albany, is in the city visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. McCoy.
 Cass McPherson and family are visiting at Turner with his wife's parents and friends.
 Mr. and Mrs. Willis E. McElroy came home this afternoon from a sojourn at the sea coast.

J. K. Wright, of Newburg, is in the city on his way home from a summer's vacation at Lebanon.
 State Treasurer and Mrs. Webb are enjoying a pleasant visit from their daughter, Mrs. Frazier, of Penitentiary.
 Miss Fannie Vivian who accompanied Mrs. Judge Lord and family for a two weeks' stay at Newport, returned to-day.
 Miss Jennie Sweetley, of North Salem, took the afternoon train on her way to Freeport, Illinois, where she will finish her education.
 Deputy Sheriff Wrightman is enjoying a vacation around his home in Sublimity. Frank is a faithful officer and earns a short lay-off.
 Elder P. R. Burnett, twice pastor of the Christian church in this city, has rented his residence property in Monmouth and is about to move to Waitsburg, Wash.
 Mrs. R. D. Cannon, wife of the editor of the National Telegram, who has been in Salem the past week visiting Mr. C's. parents, returned home this afternoon.
 Rev. G. M. Irwin, superintendent of the Indian training school near this city, is visiting at Union, the scene of his former labors. Clerk Melbrice has charge of the school during his absence.

Breaking Its Former Idol.

The Oregonian to-day unmercifully tears down the idol which was built largely through its own puffing, but it shows that the right is now more sacred than the right to kick, nor is there any more regularly enjoyed. The newspaper is the great avenue through which it is exercised and when there is a model kicker should have a show. The grievance causing the present item is from the parents of school children living in the northeastern part of the city, who think the rules adopted and published by the board of directors of this school district will work them a hardship and justice in the place prescribed for their attendance at school. Those residing north of North Mill creek are by this order forced to attend the North Salem school, which will necessitate a travel of a mile or so for such of them as live east of Capital street, while they can reach the East school in a comparatively few blocks, and several of those interested in that quarter have asked the JOURNAL to bring this matter to the attention of the board for rectification. It is urged with a show of justice that the line for attendance at the East school should be drawn north from the creek on Capital street to the Garden road, thence east on a square angle. Those north of that road will have about an equal distance to either school, while those south of it have a much more convenient and a shorter route to the East school. They are earnest in their plea and request the board to examine into the matter closely, believing that the gentlemen composing the board are desirous of fair play and will do what appears most equitable in the premises.

DIED.
SAATS.—On Wednesday evening, Aug. 20, 1920, at his home five miles south of Salem, A. P. Staats, aged 40 years.
 Mr. Staats did not long survive to enjoy the new home which he purchased last spring on the Turner road, having then come from New York state. He was troubled with dropsy, which was the cause of his death, and leaves a wife and one child to mourn his demise. He was buried to-day in the Odd Fellows' Rural cemetery. He belonged to the I. O. O. F. while living and some 30 or 40 of the brethren of this city attended the funeral obsequies.

Encouragement for the Feeble.
 So long as the falling embers of vitality are capable of being re-kindled into a warm glow, there is hope for the feeble and enervated. Let him not, therefore, despair, but derive encouragement from this and from the future fact that there is a restorative most potent in restoring the depleted powers of the broken-down system. Yes, thanks to its unexcelled virtues, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is daily reviving strength in the bodies and tone in the minds of the feeble and nervous. Appetite, refreshing sleep, the acquisition of flesh and color, are blessings attendant upon the reparative processes which this priceless invigorator speedily initiates and carries to a successful conclusion. Digestion is restored, each life-sustaining organ by the Bitters, which is ineffective even to the faintest tincture, vegetable in composition, and thoroughly safe. Use it, and regain vigor!
