Oregon's Senatorship.

Of the next senatorial election in Oregon the Portland Welcome says: It is being somewhat hoarsely whispered that there promises to be a clash of interests next January in the legislature over the senatorial election. Possibly, but it will amount to little if there is.

Senator Mitchell will be his own successor, if he lives, and he is too strongly fortified for any successful raid to be made upon his entrenchments. All the talk about ex-Gov. Moody, Rocky Earhart, or any one else succeeding Senator Mitchell emanates from the small fry politicians, who are always like the Irishman that returned home in high dudgeon from the funeral of his brother because there had been no row to enliven the affair. The Dolph faction will be still as mice, offering no antagonism and in fact will support him, since the senior senator, though scarcely yet upon the threshold of his second term, is looking forward to a third.

That is anticipating exceedingly, to be sure, but Oregon politics are becoming more and more manipulated with a view to the future.

While these pills are small, easily taken, and mild and gentle in action, they will quickly cure a sick headache. 25 cents a box. Sold by Smith & Steiner.
