Important Notice. The JOURNAL during the week has taken pains to keep its readers posted upon the work going on at the fair grounds and has noticed every business house with an exhibit or enterprise in contemplation.

Twenty-Five and Costs.—A woman whose maiden name was Murray, whose married name is Guerin and whose court record name is Sarah Brown, was brought up from Woodburn last night by Marshal Ross and Captain of Police Minto on a charge of stealing a French plate looking glass from W. N. Chambers' car while riding therein a few days ago.

Pleasant Visit.—Mr. Freeman Folsom is enjoying a visit from a sister he had not seen since 35 years ago last April, until Monday afternoon, when he met her in Portland. She is Mrs. Heustis, whose home has been in Illinois and Iowa between 40 and 50 years, but had come out to Puget sound to visit her two sons, who are heavy railroad contractors on the lines now being constructed there.

What It Contains.—Into the central pier of the Willamette bridge just completed there were put one thousand and sixty barrels of cement. Counting 400 pounds to a barrel, this is 424,000 pounds or 212 tons of cement alone.

Delicious ice cream soda just made at Jones & Barnard's. A Fair Face.—You will need this all next week and the best and pleasant way to secure it is to get your shaving and hair cutting done at the first-class shop of Chas. DeLeon, State street.

One of the young firms in the city that is making a good strong pull for success is Petzel & Bernatki, the plumbers. They do honest work at honest prices. State street, under Steiner & Blosser's.

NEXT WEEK'S PLEASURES.

Nothing to Prevent Success—Best Show of Practical and Fascinating Ever Made Here.

This is the last trip the JOURNAL can give you through the fair grounds until the great event has commenced and had a first day's start. One thing was very noticeable to the scribe upon jumping from the street car. There were two carpenters of the S. P. railroad nailing up and tightly locking the old depot building, lest some one waiting for a ride might dare to pollute their sacred precincts to seek rest of shade.

Within the grounds all is hurry and bustle. Jas. H. McCormick has charge of the hay and stalls as usual and he is kept on the jump all the time. Oliver Arel, one of the assistant marshals, has been on the ground the past three days and is doing everything possible to get the exhibitors and their stock properly settled.

Last evening there were several fine head of stock already in their stalls. A. H. Johnson, of Portland, has sent from his ranch in Washington county five head of pure blood shorthorn and seven head of Herefords. Among the latter is one of the handsomest cows in the state, weighing over 1700 pounds and pretty as any picture. A Kirkheimer, of Gilliam county, has three extra fine shorthorn Durham bulls, one three-year-old and two two-year-olds. James Richards, of Oakland, this state, has 11 head of shorthorn—that are splendid animals, neither pampered nor "dressed" for the occasion. E. E. and J. W. McKinney are there with their choice herd of Herefords. They have also some very nice Cotswold sheep. R. W. Carey, of Macleay, has a fine lot of sheep and will occupy four pens with Berkshire pigs. David Craig, also of the hills, has the usual space engaged for his pigs and sheep and polled Angus cattle. D. H. Looney will be down from Jefferson to-day with his celebrated Jerseys and by to-morrow afternoon every available space will be filled with the pride of the farm and barnyard from all over the country.

Business Enterprises. When you go in the west gate the first booth on the left is a confectionery kept by a man named Dempsey; opposite him J. Miller will dispense home made candy; next on the left as you turn to the secretary's office is the Pacific Cider, Vinegar and Fruit Packing Co., where Mr. Stolz will show forth the products of his factory to good advantage; opposite him east is the Pacific Cigar Factory; on the right across from Stolz "Billy" Stanton will dispense fruit, candies, cigars, etc.; the "read-house" will be occupied with refreshments by the ladies of the Christian church; between them and the pavilion, Chas. Buise will have 36 bigger doll babies shot at for so much a throw; beyond the pavilion in the row of restaurant stalls, the first will be occupied by Mrs. Dan. Waggon, who has a nice place fixed up, a first class cook engaged and intends setting out the best of victuals, besides running a candy and lemonade stand in front. Fronting this on the left Wm. A. Benson has a nice stand fixed up, where candy, fruit, nuts, milk shakes and all cool drinks, cigars, etc., will regale those who may be so inclined. Of course there are many other such enterprises, but these were all the scribe could catch on a flying trip.

In the Secretary's Office. This morning the lively work commenced of making entries in the ladies' department and for this purpose Secretary Gregg has three accomplished and accommodating entry clerks, Miss Maria D'Arcy, Miss Maggie Cosper and Miss Lella Waters. On Monday the following ladies will occupy desks to complete the entry work: Mrs. Leech, Miss Ella Dearborn, Miss Grace Gilliam and Miss Nellie Newton. Basil Wagner will also assist Monday at the entry desks, in addition to Messrs. Geo. W. Watt, I. A. Manning and J. A. Sellwood.

In the Pavilion. This is always the center of interest and attraction, and several new features have been secured since you were last taken there. Brooks & Harritt are fixing up a neat arrangement along the west wall for an exhibit of guns, revolvers, fishing tackle and all the paraphernalia of field or lawn sport; a man named Soule from Clackamas county will have the Missouri washing machine to discourage Chinese cheap labor, and Mr. Yoder, another Clackamas man, will handle the Clough & Warren organ; the Cleveland Paint, for which Gilbert & Patterson are the local agents, will be there in all the colors of the rainbow and several additional; Richards & Phillips, of Albany, will show a large number of specimens of wood turning; Mr. Chas. Calvert will have an admirable assortment there from his millinery store; a Mrs. Logan, of Carlton has space engaged to illustrate the powerful effects of a catarrh cure.

The Art Department. The spaces taken for this most interesting display last evening were by Professor Clyde Cooke, two large oil paintings; Miss Maud Ercu-brack, seven paintings; Miss Craig, of the university, will occupy one wall with her collection; Mrs. Wm. England will also have several fine works; Mrs. Willis E. McElroy, six large paintings; Mrs. A. N. Gilbert, a collection of juvenile work, and

THE RACE TRACK.

The track has long had the credit when in decent condition of being the best in Oregon, and horsemen say it is in the best shape this year that it has ever been.

With favorable weather through the week some fast work may be expected. It is level and smooth, scientifically sloping at the curves, compact but springy, and is in every way what is commonly termed a fast track.

HONOR WHERE IT BELONGS.

Hon. John Q. Wilson, marshal of the grounds, is entitled to great credit for the neatness and convenience which now prevail, for the several substantial improvements made the past two years and for the excellent condition of the race track. Mr. Wilson is a shrewd, careful business man in his own affairs and these qualities characterized his work for the state board of agriculture also, so that everything done has been with a view of permanency and usefulness.

IMPORTANT SCHOOL MEETING.

At the East school building this evening at 7:30 will be held a meeting of the voters of this school district for the purpose of voting on the school bonds and it is important that as many as possible should be present. The meeting previously held for this purpose was not satisfactory to the parties furnishing the money on the bonds, so the board of directors concluded to publish another notice and call the present meeting. It is desirable that this should be final and satisfactory, as the money is needed for the progress of the work now in hand and interested tax payers should be on hand.

BADLY FRIGHTENED.

The driver of Annes Strong's bakery wagon had a narrow escape from a serious accident yesterday afternoon, while making his daily rounds out near the fair grounds. He was driving north, and failed to see the approach of the special north bound freight. The bells of his wagon prevented him from hearing the train. The engine dashed by him, almost touching the rear end of his wagon. The driver was nearly scared out of his wits, and now congratulates himself on his narrow escape.

Large 10 cent tablet for 5 cents at Crissman's 5 and 10 cent store.

New Cistern.—The new cistern on Commercial street is now completed and is one of the best cisterns in the city. The connection with the water main is large enough to supply the cistern even under a severe test. The cistern affords the business part of the city ample water capacity and with large connections between the other cisterns and the main would have an abundance of water for the use of any fire which might occur.

In the Fall.—In the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of—well, light subjects. At this season it is very apt to revert to light overcoats. There are several "new wrinkles" in these garments, and as usual in matters of dress there is nothing new under the sun that Johnson, Boothby & Co. do not carry the biggest, stylishest and cheapest stock of goods in the city.

That Smoke.—It is getting a little hazy around the edges but it never gets so dim but that you can see the fine lines of carpets, lace curtains and oil cloths at J. H. Lunn's.

New Church at Woodburn.—The new Presbyterian church of Woodburn will be dedicated on Sunday, September 28, by Rev. W. H. Laudon, D. D., of Calvary church, Portland, and Rev. W. S. Holt, of the Chinese mission, Portland.

See Moore & Osborn for bargains in everything, at the second hand store on State street.

The Dog Returned.—Some three months ago Recorder Conn's black setter, a valuable and highly prized dog, disappeared and every means has been tried to find him, but it remained for Wayne Williams, of Independence, to trace him out and that gentleman restored the animal to his master this morning. It was hard to tell whether master or brute took the greater pleasure from the meeting.

Catterlin's cabinet photos take the cake. d 1 t

Boy Injured.—Jordan Zan, a Portland boy attending Mt. Angel college, was swinging on suspended rings one day this week, and when ten feet in mid-air let go, falling on his head and shoulders, producing concussion of the brain. He was unconscious several hours, but is now doing nicely, says the Gervais Star.

Notice. To the public of Salem and vicinity: I hereby most respectfully announce that I have reopened my dyeing and cleaning work in the same place, 183 Commercial street, where I shall be glad to receive your calls.

Yours respectfully, ALFRED WALDEMAR NELSON.

Watch for the new style pictures made by Sperry the artist. They are new, neat and taking. On account of the rush of work we shall be unable to make an exhibit at the fair, but will have fine work on exhibition at the studio, Commercial street, corner Court. See the fine cabinet we make for $2. d 1 t

AT THE EAST SCHOOL.

How Five Hundred Scholars Got out of That Big Building in Two Minutes.

A reporter of the JOURNAL visited the East school yesterday afternoon and witnessed one of their fire drills. The superintendent, Mrs. Grubbe, was the only one except the reporter who knew that the alarm of fire was to be given. The recitations were in progress, yet in the short time of two minutes after the first stroke of the fire gong every one of those five hundred pupils were outside of the building, marching to the time of a lively quick-step.

When the alarm is sounded each pupil, whether at the board reciting or at the desk, immediately takes a position standing, and the march is at once begun through the aisles into the wardrobe, then into the main hallway and form there in columns of four abreast on the six stairways leading from the upper to the lower floor. They come to a halt at the foot of the stairs to allow the pupils on the lower floor to go out first. Should a fire be in either of the stairways the pupils, who are headed by their teacher, are instructed which stairway to take to make their escape. The smaller pupils occupy the rooms on the lower floor and are the first to get out of the building.

When the alarm is given one of the girls runs to the piano and plays a lively quick-step, to which the little fellows keep alacrity. In order to make their system the more complete a few of the larger boys make for the hose, of which each of the floors is supplied with two sets, and lead their efforts to put out the flames. This part is of course considerable of a sham, as there has never been a fire, but the marching out has everything of reality, as the pupils, nor even the teachers, know but there is a fire.

Under the system now employed it would be impossible for the school to be caught by a fire. Should half the stairways be blocked by a fire the school could yet get out in about three minutes. Many of the pupils are young and this is their first year in school, and many others are in this school for the first time and the work is a little awkward for them. The superintendent thinks they can shorten the time a little yet. She believes they can get 600 pupils out in the two minutes required for the five hundred to get out yesterday.

The pupils seemed as calm yesterday as though nothing was wrong, though it was noticeable that some of the teachers felt a degree of anxiety.

Incipient Fire.—As the Roseburg express was coming in this afternoon a fire that may prove serious was in progress on this side of the Daniel Clark place. It was originally a stubble fire, but had communicated to fences and consumed quite a strip. It also caught a railroad culvert, upon which it was making good progress when the train came along. The whistle was blown for the section men, who appeared on the scene and put it out. The fire seemed to be making rapid headway toward a grove of young firs in that vicinity, and unless checked before entering this there will be a pretty hot blaze.

New Sidewalk.—A fine improvement is in progress to-day, in the shape of a new plank sidewalk along the university campus on State street, commencing at the east end, probably with a view of continuing it all the way.

"Where did you get that hat?" was asked of one of Salem's best dressed young men as he walked down street, a few days ago. "Oh," he said, "you might know I got it at Courard's. He has the latest styles in Salem, and also the noblest styles in suits and overcoats." "That settles it; I am going right down there and get an outfit." And he went. d 1 t

Not Crazy.—Horace Trotter, accused of horse stealing at Astoria, played crazy while in jail there and was brought to the asylum about two months ago. To-day Sheriff Smith came after him, the physicians of the asylum declaring that he is as sane as anybody, and as the grand jury of Clatsop county will commence business Monday it is a very convenient time to take him back. d 1 t

Band Concert.—The Second Regiment band will give a grand concert at the east end of the electric street railway to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon, from two to five o'clock. All are invited to the treat. Remember that C. M. McNally, the architect, has removed his office to the Bush-Brey block, on Commercial street. Second hallway to the right of the main store. 9-12-20.

The Great Benefit. Which people in run down state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up in a perfectly natural way all the weakened parts, purifies the blood, and enables to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver. A Mere Cure for Piles. Itching Piles are known by moisture, pain, protrusion, causing intense itching, and burning. This form as well as Blind Hemorrhoids and protruding Piles, at once cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts directly on the parts affected. It cures all cases of chronic Piles, always itching and afflicts a permanent cure. See the circular of Hood's Sarsaparilla, Dr. Sarsaparilla, P. O. Box 2,600, by Smith & Steiner.
