BETTER PLANS.—In recognition of the growth of Salem, quite an effort is making to give our city a better class of play.

HAPPY ENDING.—There is general congratulation among the numerous friends of the several members of the family over the fact that the damage done to O. G. Savage against his brother John for slander, has been settled without going into court.

GOOD PROSPECTS.—A resident of South Salem hailed a JOURNAL reporter yesterday afternoon with the remark: "We are going to have a street car line."

WHEAT FALLING.—There has been a good deal of pain caused to farmers of this valley the present season by the decided fall in wheat.

EVANGELICAL.—The 7th annual ministerial convention of the Bowman wing of the Evangelical church is in session at Portland this week.

FOR RENT.—In postoffice block, opposite the "Willamette," two good office rooms, newly partitioned.

PROGRESS OF PUBLIC WORK.

The Parallel Street Railway Building Commenced and Rapid Completion Anticipated—Other Work.

This morning the Salem Street Railway company set a force of men at work at the south end of their Commercial street track digging up the street to allow the moving of the track to the west and the intention is to push the work of changing as rapidly as men can be obtained for that purpose.

The Capital City Railway company (electric) will also put on a force immediately to extend their line from the corner of Liberty and State streets south to State to Commercial.

It is quite generally talked that the present grade of the car track on Commercial is too high and it is very likely the grade for the parallel tracks will be made four to six inches lower.

All this public improvement will add to the life and bustle of Salem's already busy streets, and will forever wipe out any village air that the city may have worn.

THE BRIDGE.—The bridge crew were laid off this forenoon, there being no cement on the ground in the morning, but this was delivered and work resumed this afternoon.

On motion of J. C. Cleveland Richard W. Montague was admitted upon certificate of the supreme court of Iowa to practice in all the courts of this state.

One of the amendments of rule No. 4, making the same read as heretofore.

AUTUMN DAYS.—These days remind all of the necessity of fall styles, and as a result the fashionable hat house at Salem is having an awful run on hats.

FILING AND APPOINTMENTS.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state today as follows: The Elgin Water Works company, of Elgin, Union county, with J. W. Snyder, J. T. Galloway and H. F. Burleigh, incorporators; stock $8000.

THE PRESS TO MEET.—President Samuels has called a conference of the Oregon Press Association at Portland, Oct. 27, to discuss and settle the holding of a World's Fair convention.

COUNTY TAX ROLLS.—The county of Curry is the third in the state to return its assessment roll to the secretary of state, with a gross valuation of $690,556.

CHURCH ORGANIZATION.—Among the Articles of Incorporation just filed with the secretary of state is that of the First Unitarian Society of Salem, with property estimated at $1000, and the following incorporators: L. W. Willis, Wm. England, J. R. Stump, H. B. Holland, W. J. Polly, T. L. Golden, Mrs. M. A. Stump, Mrs. Olive S. England, Mrs. N. A. Good.

FUND EXHAUSTED.—The appropriation for running the asylum for insane for two years made by the last legislature was $154,000. This appropriation is exhausted and during the next three months until the legislature meets, all work done or supplies furnished will be paid for in certificates which will be cashed when funds are provided by the legislature.

NEVER DISAPPOINTED.—That is a happy condition of life to be in, and the enterprise and honesty of the men you deal with goes far to establish it. It is the small details of life and expenditure that worries us with disappointments a good deal more than the money it costs.

DISSOLUTION.—The partnership between Golalet and Willich is this day dissolved. Willich retiring. Alfred Golalet, 112 State street, Salem, Or., Oct. 9, 1908. d14-11x.

H. G. Guild, who recently sold out the Silverton Appeal after a decade of faithful work, is in the city. He proposes to play the blotted bondholder and take it easy for a few months.

The regular meeting of the Pacific Coast Woman's Press Association will be held on the last Monday of every month, at 3 o'clock p. m. at 1419 Taylor street San Francisco.

Harry Doe, who with his family left this city about two months ago, is now located at Salem, Or. He sends us a copy of the Salem JOURNAL, a bright, new evening paper, in which we find his business card—"Capital Market, Doe & Wheeler, proprietors."

A SCARCER ARTICLE.

Salem People Must Depend on the Outside Market for their Dairy Products.

There seems to be a great scarcity of dairy products in the Salem market just now. It is difficult to find a good article of butter, and those dealers who will not handle any other kind cannot supply their customers.

There are a few persons near Salem who make a fine quality of dairy butter but that number is in the minority. The number is much larger who do not know how to make a first class article of butter, and therefore, never make it.

Any expert, or even one who is only fairly well acquainted with butter making, will testify the great bulk of the butter being of an inferior grade. The dealers are in part to blame for this. They should unite in keeping up the price of the best quality, and discourage the poorer grades of butter.

The Willamette valley has every advantage naturally for a dairy region. The climate is as favorable as could be asked for, the feed and water are excellent, and all that is needed is the right kind of men at the helm to take hold of the business and make this valley famous for its dairy productions.

A good substitute for butter for cooking purposes, and one that is not much of the butter found in the market, is fresh leaf tallow kept in cold water over night and "fried out."

A Shrewd Ad.—Ed JOURNAL: Under the heading of "Its Effect on Local Trade," the Oregonian has on its local page of Tuesday's very neat interview between one of its reporters and a French importer of French dress goods.
