A HARD BLOW.—A few minutes after the JOURNAL went to press last evening a reporter saw a crowd collecting where the men were at work putting in the switch at the intersection of State and Commercial streets. He hastened to the spot and saw a man in all appearances dead. He was carried into Smith & Steiner's drug store where medical aid was administered and he soon recovered his senses. Two men were cutting some of the rails in two and the other men were putting in ties when a sledge slipped from the hands of a man named Ducan and glancing struck F. Beggs with full force on the side of the head. He fell to the ground and was thought to be dead when first picked up. Beggs was taken to his home in South Salem after the wound was properly dressed. The accident was unavoidable and no blame is attached to anyone.

A PARTIAL NUISANCE.—The two evening trains from Portland are proving a good deal of annoyance. Persons expecting friends do not know upon which train they are coming and of course are at the depot to meet the first one, in most cases to be disappointed and to go through the unpleasant process of waiting for the next. Then the inky darkness which envelopes the depot platform adds to the annoyance, as the waiting friends rush frantically among the passengers peering into every face with a dim uncertainty. Altogether, two trains so near together and yet so far apart are not a source of convenience or satisfaction to travelers.

BIG CRANBERRIES.—The JOURNAL is just in receipt of as fine a sample of cranberries as anyone would wish to see. In size and color they resemble Royal Ann cherries. The berries are from the cranberry field of J. O. Stearns, Esq. of Waldport, and were sent by Dr. S. A. Diven. The lands where these berries were raised, and in fact all the land along Alsea bay, near Walport and Yaquina are especially adapted to the growing of these berries. These lands will eventually be set out to cranberries if they ever be made to their greatest profits.

NEW PATENT.—A. T. Gilbert, the banker of this city, has just received his patent to a new hose coupling. The contrivance is simple and at the same time one that seems to be efficient for the object intended. A model is being made in this city now. Such a coupling as that invented by Mr. Gilbert can be fastened much easier and quicker than the old screw couplings. It is made fast by one turn of a lever, and when it is turned, the harder the strain on the hose the tighter it makes the coupling.

DELAYED BY THE FOG.—Mrs. W. S. Boggs, who left Salem for San Francisco the first of the week, telegraphed last evening from Newport that she was yet delayed on the steamer, which had been unable to put to sea on account of the heavy fogs on the Yaquina bar. The steamer has been lying at anchor in the harbor for four days with all the passengers on board. The report was last night that the vessel would endeavor to go to sea this morning fog or no fog. Mrs. Boggs goes to California to spend the winter, on account of poor health.

A school for athletes has now been added to Salem's resources for developing latent talent. There is to be a professorship in contortion, and young men who cannot adapt themselves to the lawyer's business of twisting facts, can take a course of instructions with a skillful contortionist. If you cannot graduate to practice at the not always perpendicular legal bar, you can take your degree of accomplishments at the bar horizontal.

MAKING TIME.—W. H. Bailey, the horse belonging to L. M. P. Quimby of Portland, which made the fast time of 2:22 at the state fair here and became a great favorite with those in attendance, last Wednesday at Spokane Falls lowered this record to 2:20½. Mr. Quimby's elation can well be imagined.

Clothes pins—two dozen for 5 cents—at Crissman's 5 and 10 cent store.

SOCIAL WORLD.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

A good house greeted the performances at the Christian Church last night. A good program was carried out with every part well sustained and was highly appreciated by those present. At the close of the program a fine supper was served in the lecture room of the church where two hours was spent in a manner to be fully understood should have been experienced. The whole evening was passed very pleasantly.

A. O. U. W. SOCIABLE.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen will give an entertainment and supper in their hall in the insurance building Wednesday eve. A fine program has been arranged for the occasion. The ladies will not depart from usual their custom and will come with baskets well laden with the best articles the kitchen can produce. The following is the program:

TEMPLE COMMANDERY.

The Temple commandery No. 3, Knights Templar, stationed at Albany Oregon, will give a select concert and ball, at the opera house, in that city Tuesday evening, Oct. 28 The music for this grand occasion will be furnished by Liberati's famous band, of New York, which consists of 51 artists. A number Salem's society people will of go to Albany on this occasion. Albany intends to make a big to-do as the affair Well deserves Liberati's band is well worth the seeing aside from the ball and feast which will be served. Albany has a high reputation for making such an undertaking a grand success.

UNITARIAN SOCIABLE.

About fifty of the Unitarian society met at the residence of Dr. Golden on Liberty and Chemeketa streets last evening where social converse and games for both young and old were indulged in until a late hour. The important fact of the success of the evening was not overlooked, and at ten o'clock the guests were invited to surround the tables groaning under the good things from the cuisine. An hour was spent here in discussing the merits of the various fruits set before them. The guests took their departure at a reasonable hour with the highest gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Golden for furnishing the opportunity for such a pleasant occasion.

AMENDMENT TO-NIGHT.

The voting on the amendment to the by-laws of the Alka-Hesperian society will take place to-night. Every member is urged to be present, as the proposed change recommends some important changes in the work of the society. After the voting is completed a live question will be discussed. The society starts out this year with unusual interest and enthusiasm by the members who attend, though the members are far, too few who take interest in the work. The Alka is one of the oldest societies in the state and one with as much ability as can be found anywhere in the northwest. more young men could find room for culture by spending a couple of hours a week in hearing and helping discuss questions handled by this society.

DRAMATIC GLEE CLUB.

A few good singers of the city met at A. T. Yeaton's, on Marion and Cottage streets, on Tuesday evening and rendered some of their choicest selections of vocal music. It is the object of the glee club to have regular weekly rehearsals at the residences of different members of the club and keep up with the musical world in point of singing. The evenings of their meeting will be spent in drilling on difficult music and literary topics that may suggest themselves. Before the winter is past the public probably will have an opportunity to learn their progress. The pleasure of the evening was augmented by a nice luncheon being spread before the guests before they took their departure.

APPROACHING MARRIAGE.

Next Monday morning at the Catholic church in this city, by Rev. J. S. White, will be married Mr. A. Benoit and Miss Nellie McCarty. Mr. Benoit is a brother of Contractor J. B. Benoit, and is himself a carpenter, in the employ of the Southern Pacific company. He is a most worthy and industrious young man. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. P. D. Prunty and is a young lady of excellent qualities. They will proceed to Portland immediately after the ceremony and upon their return will take up housekeeping in the pleasant home Mr. B. has already built in Yew Park.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A number of invited friends passed one of the most pleasant evenings of the season at the handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Keller, Thursday evening. The occasion was the birthday of Mr. Keller. The evening was spent in conversation, game and other amusements, during which an excellent supper was the subject of a pleasant discussion.

Mr. and Mrs. T. McF. Patton, Jos. A. Baker, E. M. Waite, A. T. Gilbert, S. Adams, C. L. Keller, Mrs. E. M. Waite, Miss Buss, Mr. Harry Keller. On departing the guests wished Mr. Keller many happy returns of the fortunate occasion.

THE CELEBRATED NEW COMEDY.

In "U. S. Mail", George Jenks, the Pittsburg Journalist, has given to the stage a roaring farce-comedy perhaps not as good as the more experienced writers in that line have turned out during the past five years, but it is in evidence what may be expected from that source in the future. When it is remembered that this piece was given its initial production but a few weeks since, it is quite a success of the modern style of farce-comedy, and improvements will gradually suggest themselves to the people in the East. The subject, a satire on John Wanamaker's administration of the Post Office and the whims and oddities of the Civil Service, affords an unending source of amusement. The fun begins at the very opening of the play on the appearance of Hi Hand, the tramp printer. Sam Reed, who personates John Moneymaker, the publisher of the Clarion, and who runs the Post Office, is in farcical expression a good counterfeit presentment of the Postmaster General. Georgie Parker is John Moneymaker's daughter, and a dashing, fascinating one she proves to be. Next to her comes Marie Bockell as Christine, an Alpine maiden, who sings a medley of Tyrolean airs with telling effect. This attractive play will be presented at the Opera House, Saturday, Oct. 15.

MISS SCRIBER'S READING.

This great coming social event of the week is billed for Tuesday evening at the opera house. Expectation is on tiptoe regarding the first appearance of this talented young artist. The JOURNAL is permitted to give the program of this musical and elocutionary effort in advance, as follows:

PROSPERITY APPARENT.

If the number of marriages has anything to do with the prosperity of a county, or is an index to thrift, Marion county has been favorably blessed this month. Up to yesterday sixteen marriage licenses had been issued by County Clerk Babcock, and seventeen weddings have taken place in the county, one license having been granted in Multnomah county and the ceremony performed in this county. And in addition to these, one young man went over to Polk county for his bride. The work of the ministers is not completed in that line yet Rumor has it that Piety hill is soon to resound to the wedding bells. Those who have been treated so kindly by the county clerk during October are: Anna Hahn and Walter B. Warner, and Emma Wheeler and A. R. Campbell, Oct. 1st. Mary L. Holt and Erastus Caldwell, Oct 3rd. Hattie Bishop and R. T. Jones, Oct. 4th. Mary A. Kirby and August Arnold, Oct. 6th. Mary Buckner and John Kirk, and Nancy J. Minster and J. H. Marchbanks, Oct. 7th. Teresa Fox and Frank A. Bell, Oct 8th. Salafise Sequin and Joseph Roudeau, Oct. 9th. Charlotte Engle and S. D. Roberts, Oct. 11th. Lulu Huffman and J. B. Kays, and Lillian A. Rossiter and Chas. W. Evans, Oct. 14th. The 16th was the big day when four licenses were granted between three and four o'clock in the afternoon as follows: Sarah A. Mackrall and Wm. Tagg, Ellen C. McCarthy and Adolold Benoit, Emma Smith and Elmer M. Starr, and Flora A. Goodhue and Arthur H. Reid.

CONTRACT LET.—Bids were opened for the new brick building of A. Bush yesterday afternoon. This building will be just south of The Willamette hotel and will be a two story structure with a forty-five foot front and sixty feet deep. It will be occupied by Henry Schomaker for agricultural implements. The contract was let this morning to Jackson & Hutchins for $2793 and is to be completed in sixty days. The work will be begun at once on the foundation. Brick are being hauled to the ground to day.

SALEM LIVES.—With its big mills tied up in the courts, its bridge facilities to Polk county cut off, with river freight cut off by two sandbars, with railroad discrimination against it, Salem is flourishing, and has more improvements in sight than any city of its size on the coast. Carry the news to Mary!

NO BRIDGE THIS YEAR.—But Salem will be well supplied with coal. Lay in your winter supply now while it is cheap. Goodhue & Wild will supply you. Two car loads received to-day.

NO DON'T.—Don't kick about the fine fall weather, but make the best of it by bringing your fruit to Squire Farrar & Co.'s. They pay cash and then sell you groceries at bed-rock rates.

JUST OPENED.—A first-class new barber shop at 210 Commercial street. Shaving, 15 cents. H. Nute & A. R. Clark, dtf

Miss Mary E. Steiner, teacher of piano and organ. Address 244 Twelfth street. 9-1-6t.

BETTER DO IT.—If you are not receiving the Daily JOURNAL give it a trial. Fifty cents a month by carrier.

Large 10 cent tablet for 5 cents at Crissman's 5 and 10 cent store.

SALEM A CITY.

Besides being a place noted for its rare church and educational facilities, Salem is fast coming to be a city in the wider metropolitan sense of affording an opportunity for the development of every variety of faculty, and gratifying a wide range of tastes and inclinations. This tendency to the universal is the true mark of city life.

The true city as the world grows broad and tolerant of opinions. It opens its gates to the world and the whole world may enter in and it generally does, good, bad and indifferent. There is no use disputing about tastes. If there is anything in a city not entirely to your taste you can hold a meeting and denounce it or send a communication to the press. But if it does not go, you have no option but to endure or go yourself.

So Salem has a debating club, where without money and without price you may gesticulate and debate, to your mind's content, the greatest questions of the day. This free training school of argument and oratory is certainly a privilege no young man shall despise. For singers there is a free oratorio society which should enlist the heart, soul and voice of those gifted by tepiscore in developing those powers, the exercise of which may give the world pleasure or pain.

This oratorio society will bring out the "Messiah" a production that taxes the powers of the greatest musical organizations, and in which there is room for display by the most brilliant soloist of either sex. In a city where eloquence and music have such free and open shrines the American youth need not dispair of culture.

So Salem gradually takes on the habitations of metropolitan life. There is room here for all that is good, and it is not possible to prevent some bad crowding in. That which evil feeds upon is the product of the past. The good looks to the future for its reward. Evil is self-destroying. Good is its own excuse for being and ensures its own future.

About Those Pictures.

Pacific Farmer: The Oregonian of Monday in an editorial goes after all those people who raise their voices against that which they deem indecent, and insists that the only way to put such things down is to let them alone. Its quotes approvingly from the Pittsburg Dispatch wherein that paper strongly approves Judge Thayer's opinion in the case of the charge of the indecency of Tolstol's eccentric book. The Oregonian says: "Sensational curiosity has been excited, and the circulation of the book greatly increased through the 'over-zealous virtue' of the postmaster general of the United States in forbidding it transit through the mails. As people have flocked to the art department of the Industrial Exposition in this city 'just to see if the specimens of erotic art there exhibited are as shocking as the critics say they are,' so hundreds of people, anxious to judge of themselves the character of the book deemed obscene and unfit for conveyance in the United States mail bags by Mr. Wanamaker, have read the 'Kreutzer Sonata,' while other hundreds finding in this advertisement of the book the possibility of gratifying a low taste by its perusal, have bought or borrowed and read it, their disgust upon its perusal arising from the fact that its teachings are not, after all, to their taste."

We think there is a wide difference between the exclusion of that book from the mails by Postmaster General Wanamaker and the exposing of the picture alluded to, to the public in the exposition building. We suppose that the Oregonian would have every newspaper in Oregon watch it for a cue, and shout when it shouts and keep silent, when it keeps silent. But that great paper should learn that it is neither law nor gospel for the ordinary Oregon newspaper; most of them have opinions of their own and dare to express them, whether the Oregonian approves or disapproves; and further, the Oregonian should also know that the public as a mass does not adopt every fantastical idea they see in that paper. It is generally understood with the people that almost anything can get an endorsement in its columns if they pay enough money—even such frauds as Anacortes.

The $18,000 picture at the exposition is certainly immodest, if not indecent, and should never have been hung upon the walls of a place that was to be visited by thousands whose ideas of indecency are not so gross and crude as the Oregonian's. These people may be too modest by far for the times and the company in which they move, but yet we have them with us, and it was a duty the directors of the great exposition owed to them, though they are largely in the minority, and though the Oregonian's ideas of propriety is not so refined and acute as theirs, to have excluded such offensive pictures from the exhibition. We have no right, though we may be in the majority, to force our own vulgar ideas upon the attention of those more refined than we.

DOING WELL.—From the quantities of goods arriving at Smith's great installment store, the upper end of Commercial street seems to be getting more than its share of the trade.

The Great Spring Medicine.

It will be gratifying to all who realize the vital necessity of purifying the blood to know that Hubbard's Rheuma tic syrup can be relied upon as a blood medicine. Mr. B. C. Robinson, of Marshall, Mich., says.

Gentlemen:—I have suffered intensely from biliousness and rheumatism for over three years, and had tried so many remedies that I had lost all faith. Hearing of Hubbard's Rheumatic syrup I bought a bottle and found it helped me. I have now used four bottles, and it has restored my liver and kidneys to healthy action and done more to purify my blood than anything I have ever taken. I am pleased to recommend it as a wonderful blood medicine. Very truly yours, B. C. Robinson, Marshall, Mich. Sold by Smith & Steiner.
