SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 21.—C. P. Huntington, president of the Southern Pacific Co., in an interview expressed himself in favor of a consolidation of the great railway systems of the United States into one company and thought that eventually such consolidation will be brought about. One result of the consolidation of large railway systems would be the reduction of expenses in many ways besides a saving in rebates now given. The rates could thus be lowered and at the same time larger dividends be secured.

The Yellow Stuff.

$38,79382. per ton: That is the astonishing figure of a bottle of quartz gold at Strong's bakery. The sample assayed is from the Red Bull mines in the Quartzville district. Another bottle contains very rare specimens of crystallized and wire gold, about $20 worth. A small rock this covered with spun and woven wires of gold is valued at $25 as a specimen. Mr. Martin Ballou brought in a $100 pan of specimens this morning from the Blue Lion and Strong mines. It is a rich find and no prospecting has yet yielded such displays of the precious metal. A Salt Lake firm has made some locations near this mine and will work it on a large scale next spring.

Sharpless was badly battered and his nose was broken. He was taken to the receiving hospital, where his injuries were dressed. Burke was arrested and charged with battery. Keeping Apples.

N. J. Shepherd gives the Kansas Farmer the following hints that may be of use to fruit growers: "It is well to know that losses resulting from carelessness or want of knowledge in sorting and packing fruit are very large. Whatever, therefore, tends to increase knowledge and warn against carelessness will be found useful.

"One very essential item in the keeping of apples through the winter is the hauling while picking and sorting away. A good two-bushel sack is one of the most convenient arrangements for picking off the trees. A light but strong ladder of sufficient length to reach well up into the tree will also be found very convenient.

"The best time to sort fruit is when it is picked, and care should be taken to take out any that may have rotten spots or that are bruised in any way, especially from those that are intended for long keeping. A good plan is to pile the apples on straw spread under the shed or open where there is a good circulation of air. This will allow them a good opportunity to go through the sweat and they will keep much better than if they are put directly in cellar or pits where they are to remain all winter. If they can be spread out thinly over the ground they will dry out much more rapidly than if put in heaps. Good boxes or bins that are set three or four inches from the wall and the same distance from the bottom of the cellar will be better than to put on the ground and against the sides.

Merit Wins

WHAT IS A TUBULAR WELL?

Be Sure to Read and Get no Other

A genuine Tubular well is constructed by putting down a three inch iron pipe, with no openings except top and bottom. No dirt can get in and only pure water can be got out. This is the only kind of well that worms and insects cannot get into, that is absolutely surface-water proof, and that is forced through the cement strata to the pure living water.
