SAVED FROM A COLD.—At one of the many wedding receptions George had escorted his lady home in the pleasantest manner possible. They had chatted merrily. He bade her a polite good night, wished her pleasant dreams, stepped into his hack and started on his quite long ride home. He had not noticed how cool the clear frosty night was, until then, and proceeded at once to button close about him a warm, stylish-looking well-lined overcoat he had just bought of Johnson, Boothby & Co., Salem.

ON EXHIBITION.—The elegant prizes to be given for the best sustained representations at the Business carnival at Reed's opera house Thanksgiving evening are now on exhibition. One in the show window of Keller & Marsh, the other at Geo. F. Smith's. Three judges are to be selected unknown to each other, who have no personal interest in the representations, to decide what representation shall receive the awards.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!—Mr Martin Thompson, proprietor of the Star Roller mills at Turner, makes announcement that, he will do a general custom and exchange milling business, grind and sell feed or flour for toll. He guarantees the best roller flour and a large turnout from clean wheat. See his ad. in the WEEKLY JOURNAL, and take him a sample of your wheat before engaging your year's supply of flour.

A CORRECTION.—The JOURNAL'S statement in regard to Wesley Shannon introducing the bill for a new state house, was evidently intended to refer to his work in the territorial legislature. The bill for the present state house was prepared by Hon. T. McF. Patton, presented and pressed to its final passage by that gentleman in 1872. He secured an appropriation of $100,000 for a start. This is the correct history.

HARNESS.—While the arrival of Mr. M. Beuner's new harness stock has been delayed on the road, he is receiving goods daily. If you are in need of a new harness, whips, saddles or bridles, do not purchase until you have seen his stock in, and to arrive soon. 288) Commercial street.

TO LEAVE US.—I. A. Manning has bought an interest in one of the oldest insurance companies of Tacoma and will soon leave for that city. He has been over there several days looking around, and now thinks he may make his permanent home there.

FILED.—Articles incorporating the Newport Improvement company were filed in the office of the secretary of state to day, with L. E. Blain, J. S. Cooper and S. G. Irvin as incorporators; capital stock $80,000; object to build and operate a motor line at Newport, Oregon.

MOVED.—The Court street jeweler has moved from the Unitarian hall building to a nicer and more commodious location at 112 Opera House block, the room held by the W. C. T. U. His patrons will find him at his new location.

FOREFATHERS' DAY.—It is in contemplation to celebrate forefathers' day in some appropriate manner at the Congregational church at some time during the holidays. The pastoral board are in charge of the matter.

OVERCOATS.—Before you buy an overcoat for the cold weather just step into the Salem Woolen Mill Store, on Commercial street, and see the superior goods they have in that line at way-down prices.

NONE ON IT. There is no such thing as fancy prices on any of the furniture sold by Buren. He tries to sell the public solid articles at fair prices.

HE IS IN IT.—Wherever the science of securing a good, comfortable, substantial fitting shoe is concerned Klein the shoe man is in the ring to stay.

WANTED.—A girl to do pantry work, at the Bell boys, at once. Hotel Willamette, Salem. 11-17tf

NEW FACTS ABOUT THE WRECK.

Revelations Offered in the Light of New Facts Gathered by Journal Reporters.

The railroad commission spent all day Tuesday hearing testimony to sustain the railroad company's theory as to the wreck at Labish. No new facts were revealed by its inquiries, the witnesses for the company generally maintaining a malicious or accidental displacement of the rail, and a general soundness of the trestle, or a sufficient soundness to carry the trains run over the road. These theories are also sustained by circumstantial evidence, but nowise conclusively.

THE COMMISSION

are making a reputation for fairness and impartiality in this case. Mr Colvig seems to be ably sustained by Messrs. Clow and Faull in prosecuting the case in the public interest, and their findings will have great weight if they make the scope of witnesses called for the state broad enough.

New facts are found by JOURNAL reporters to sustain the theory it has found most tenable—i. e., that of the generally unsafe condition of the trestle and not malicious work of train wreckers.

It is certain that there is one man in the city who saw a rail lying where the extra rail was found after the wreck, several weeks before. He is an old railroad man and can positively identify the location of the rail.

MR. E. E. VAN AVERY

of Salem, rode with Engineer McFadden a short time before the wreck. McFadden told him there was not a safe bridge on the line, and that the Labish bridge was the worst bridge in the l.d.

MR. AL HERREN,

former stock inspector, who rode over the bridge on the local train a half hour before the wreck, says he sat with a lady in the last seat of the rear car. As it went over the place near where the engine of the fatal train went down a half hour later, both heard a crash, and remarked that something had broken away beneath them. That was too late at night for section men to inspect the track.

Fine Painting at Auction this Evening.

The Tojetti & Best's collection, which has been on exhibition for the past two weeks at 303 Commercial street—bank block—are to be closed out by auction. Prof. Best, who is here teaching a class, has received instructions from Tojetti the great Figure Painter in San Francisco, to close out all his paintings to the highest bidder, regardless of their value, as he has all his arrangements made to start for Europe. The sales continue this evening, at 7:30 sharp, by

SHAW & DOWNING,
Auctioneers.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL.

Mr. A. Bush will be home about Dec. 1st.

Mr. George Dickenson of Albany, is in the city.

Express for Salem still comes from Portland via Albany.

Mr. David Simpson was a passenger for Yaquina to day.

Miss Lena Breyman is home from a trip to the Sound cities.

U. S. Marshal McGarry is feeling better to-day and will safely recover.

S. W. Scott is laying the foundation for a $750 house in North Salem

Mike Ryan, of North Salem, has departed for a bride at Walla Walla.

The Bush block next to the Willamette will be enclosed for occupancy next week.

Mrs. A. N. Gilbert and son are both doing well. Mrs. Gilbert has been able to be up to day.

It will not be long before all the facts about opening the big Scotch mills can be made public.

Mrs. A. I. Boyers, of North Yakima, has arrived at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. W. Dennis.

Dr. J. M. Keene is home from acting as groomsman at Ralph Moody's wedding, at Port Townsend.

James Collins and Belle Gates were the second couple favored with a permit to wed from the county clerk to-day.

All the elderly lady patients who were injured in the wreck, who are at the Willamette are doing well and in good spirits.

The Roseburg mail was expected to come over the Labish trestle to-day, in which case the trains will move regularly hereafter.

Mr. E. F. Osborne, of Eugene, has purchased an interest in the 5 and 10 cent store of H. S. Crissman, and will make his home here in the near future.

The great cattle rancher, Mr. Pet Beckley, of Oakland, Oregon, who had four ribs broken, is able to move about, and was to-day taken to the parlors.

School Clerk W. B. Simpson is off to Newport and Yaquina Bay, for a few days. His official duties will be looked after by J. M. Rogers in his absence.

Norman Parrish was in a little private wreck of his own. He says he got 2400 weight square on his leg. He is getting around, a little lame though.

Mr. Dodds, the Englishman, who is quartered in the Eldridge block, is still in a critical condition from his injuries at the Labish wreck and may not recover.

Mr. J. C. Townsend of the new St. Paul restaurant has been ill for a few days of malaria. He expects to be around in a day or two. The house is having a good run.

Jap. Minto says the theory that Alderman Collins winded the rest of the crowd in their mountain hunt is not sustained by the facts. It is as windy a theory as the rail theory.

Mr. Ralph Moody and bride, of Port Townsend arrived in the city Monday, and will be given a reception this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. ex- . Moody, on Court street.

Mr. Collector of Customs Earhart, of Portland, is in the city. He was an old Salemite formerly. He expressed surprise at the growth of Salem, and had a visit with his daughter.

J. W. Crawford says he was not in the wreck and is not a candidate for the United States Senate, but he will beat any firm in Salem selling stoves cheap.

NEW RULES.—Since the trains have changed this time, the post office will close at 6:50 in the evening and will not open until 7 next morning. The evening mail will not be distributed until morning.

Harper's Magazine.

ILLUSTRATED.

The important series of papers on South America, by Theodore Child, will be continued in Harper's Magazine during the greater part of the year 1891. The articles on Southern California, by Charles Dudley Warner, will also be continued. Among other noteworthy attractions will be a novel by Charles Egbert Craddock; a collection of original drawings by C. D. Gibson, now published for the first time; a novel written and illustrated by George du Maurier; a novelette by William Dean Howells; and a series of papers on Lot don by Walter Besant.

In the number and variety of illustrated papers and other articles on subjects of timely interest, as well as in the unrivalled character of its short stories, poems, etc., Harper's Magazine will continue to maintain that standard of excellence for which it has so long been distinguished.
